Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in accordance with section 2, chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the first annual report of the transactions of this office during the year ending with the last day of December, 1892.

The duties of the Secretary of the Commonwealth are many and various. There are nearly three hundred paragraphs of the statutes in which they are prescribed. It is not deemed necessary or advisable, therefore, to go into the minor business of the office, but to give a concise account of such matters as are of public interest or importance.

The office force for the year consisted of twenty-eight clerks and two messengers. Of the clerks, eight were employed in the compilation of the Revolutionary rolls, — a temporary service, which will terminate before the close of the present year.

The correspondence was voluminous, as usual, comprising about thirty thousand letters and other communications.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $56,242.03, and were from the following sources : —

Commissions,		$8,210 00
Corporation certificates,		21,170 93
Limited partnerships,		49 00
Licenses,		24,516 50
Sale of books, etc.,		664 70
Miscellaneous	{ certificates,	$670 00
	{ Revolutionary records,	376 00
	{ copies,	584 90
		<hr/> 1,630 90

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, as required by law.

The expenses were $28,681.42, of which $25,305.88 was for salaries, showing a balance of $27,560.61 in favor of the office.

I have not included in this statement of expenses the publication of the Revolutionary rolls, nor the publication of the early laws, both of these being of a special and temporary character.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 1,844, of which 199 were without fee. The different classes were as follows : —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,265
Notaries public, . . . . .	327
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	136
Massachusetts commissioners in other States, . . . . .	30
District police, . . . . .	18
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	12
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	11
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	11
Clerks of courts, . . . . .	10
Trial justices, . . . . .	10
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	9
Pilots, . . . . .	3
Associate justices superior court, . . . . .	2

Certificates to the number of 2,948 were issued, of which 268 were without fee.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of charters issued under general laws to new corporations was 509, classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 21), . . . . .	244
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 4), . . . . .	175
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1888, chap. 429, as amended), . . . . .	38
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chap. 404), . . . . .	34
Co-operative banks (under P. S., chap. 117), . . . . .	7
Street railway corporations (under P. S., chap. 113), . . . . .	6
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chap. 421), . . . . .	2
Swine-slaughtering corporation (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 21, and chap. 107, sect. 1), . . . . .	1
Railroad corporation (under P. S., chap. 112), . . . . .	1
Mutual insurance company (under Acts of 1887, chap. 214), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,481. Of these, 1,651 were certificates of condition (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 244 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations; 175 of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 207 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among eighteen different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded is 582, of which 572 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among four other classes.

There were issued 15 certificates of change of name of corporations.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 40 corporations by the supreme judicial court.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 50 were filed and recorded.

There are in this office 105 volumes, containing in round numbers 50,000 certificates, filed under general laws, dating from 1851 to the present time, to which there is no general index. The need of such an index becomes more and more urgent year by year. There are also many papers referring to corporations created by special acts, and the general index should cover these also. I recommend an appropriation of $1,200 for this purpose.

Chapter 115 of the Public Statutes provides for organizations for religious, charitable, social, educational, musical and athletic purposes, etc. Chapter 439 of the Acts of 1890 provides that, before the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall issue a charter under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes, he shall make inquiry, through the selectmen of the town or the mayor and aldermen of the city, as the case may be (and in the city of Boston of the Board of Police), as to "whether any of the proposed incorporators have been engaged in the illegal selling of intoxicating liquors, or in keeping places or tenements used for the purpose of illegal gaming, or whether they have been engaged in any other business or vocation prohibited by law." This provision is mandatory, and nothing is left to the discretion of the Secretary. An inquiry of this kind, in such cases as that of the application of George F. Hoar and others to be incorporated as the St. Wulstan Society of Worcester, for holding and administering a legacy for the promotion of art and education; that of Francis A. Walker, John C. Ropes and others for incorporation as the Military Historical Society of Massachusetts; and in other cases where the incorporators are men whose high character and standing are universally known, is unnecessary and embarrassing. I recommend, therefore, that the law be amended, so that the Secretary may exercise discretion in such cases.

The act of 1890 referred to provides, also, whenever any person connected with any club or organization, under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes, is convicted of illegal traffic or gaming upon the premises of the club, that the Secretary shall, upon receipt of notice to that effect, declare the charter of the club void. Several cases have occurred in which charters were found in gambling houses, upon which descents were made by the police; but the guilty parties having fled, there was no conviction, and the charters remain in existence. I suggest that this law be amended so that a charter can be declared void upon evidence satisfactory to the Secretary of the Commonwealth that it has been used to cover an illegal business.

REGISTRATION DIVISION.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns, for the year 1891, which were received in 1892, aggregate 63,004 births, 21,675 marriages and 45,000 deaths, making the total number of entries 129,679. These returns, together with those of the medical examiners, covering 1,840 deaths, and the returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce, numbering 818, are compiled and presented in the fiftieth Registration Report.

About 300 certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued, principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

The present indexes to these registration returns, for the period between the years 1841 and 1880, are so poorly written and imperfect as to be practically worthless. In the decision of questions of legitimacy, of legal settlements in towns, in authenticating the claims of soldiers or their families upon the government, and in securing the identification of their wives or relatives, for which purposes the records are much consulted, the value of a perfect index cannot be overestimated.

A complete alphabetical index of these returns, properly classified and arranged, in five or ten year periods, should be begun at once. The number of names is about 3,200,000, and the cost of an index is estimated at $27,000. The work can be conveniently done in about three years. I recommend an appropriation of $10,000 for the present year.

ARCHIVE DIVISION.

The work in the archive division, besides the special duty of compiling the Revolutionary rolls, has been principally on a mass of miscellaneous papers numbering about 50,000. These papers are unarranged and somewhat heterogeneous. I propose now to arrange all of them, and make a careful and comprehensive card index. This card index it is proposed to extend ultimately to cover the entire body of the archives. At present, the indices to the archives are irregular and without approach to uniformity.

In order to prosecute this work with proper energy and despatch, an addition of $2,500 to the regular appropriation of $5,000 will be necessary for the present year, and I recommend that such an appropriation be made. This plan is adopted after careful consideration by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the commission, consisting of Dr. Samuel A. Green, Mr. Justin Winsor, Mr. William P. Upham and Augustus E. Scott, Esq., appointed, under a resolve of the Legislature, to advise the Secretary on all matters relating to the preservation of the archives.

The commission has voted, also, to advise the Secretary to apply to the Legislature for an appropriation to purchase, for addition to the Revolutionary rolls, at an expense of $200, a collection of some five hundred muster rolls, and other papers, containing evidence of records, offered by Col. Samuel A. Drake. None of these papers or rolls are at present in the archives, and the price named is deemed reasonable. I recommend the appropriation.

REVOLUTIONARY ROLLS.

By chapter 100 of the Resolves of 1891, the Secretary was directed to prepare an indexed compilation of the records of the Massachusetts soldiers and sailors who served in the army or navy during the Revolutionary war, as shown in the archives in this office, and publish it in book form.

This work has been prosecuted vigorously during the year, and the transcription of the names from the rolls, and other papers, is substantially complete. In round numbers, 500,000 cards have been written, each containing a separate record of evidence of service, and the copy will soon go to the printer. It is expected that the publication will be ready for delivery within a year.

It is a matter of congratulation that these cards have been prepared, as it will no longer be necessary to subject many invaluable original papers to further wear and risk of destruction.

EARLY LAWS.

By chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889, the Secretary is directed to cause to be collated, indexed and published, in a style similar to that in which the "Blue Books," so called, are now published, all the acts and resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806. This work has been in progress since the passage of the resolve, and already three volumes have been published, covering a period of six years, from 1780 to 1785 inclusive. The fourth volume, 1786-87, is now in process, and will be published some time during the current year. This work is not merely a reprint, but contains acts never before published, and many resolves which have but recently been discovered in the archives.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed, under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering forty-five different reports) 144,250 volumes. Of this number, 84,874 copies were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to cities and towns, public officers, free libraries, and to the public, and also in exchange, to State and territorial libraries.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed, received and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 7,500 copies of the Blue Book edition of the laws, and there were received and distributed 1,500 copies of the Manual of the General Court, 904 copies of the term reports and 600 copies of the Senate and House journals, making a grand total of 120,378 volumes which passed through the document division during the year.

HAWKERS' AND PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,867 licenses. Of these, 458 were for the State, 697 for counties, 456 for cities and towns, and 256 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes upon his stock in trade.

The number of licenses transferred was 196. There were also issued 793 special State licenses, free of charge, to soldiers and sailors resident in this Commonwealth, who served in the army or navy during the war of the Rebellion, and 38 special State licenses, also free, to persons seventy years of age or upward.

The number of State licenses issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890, was two, of which one is still in force.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY LAW."

By chapter 446 of the Acts of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of the Acts of 1891, all employers of legislative counsel or agents, whose names appear upon the legislative docket in the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms, are required to render to the Secretary of the Commonwealth a full, complete and detailed statement of all expenses paid or incurred by them in connection with said employment. In 1892 there were 246 entries upon this docket. Only 224 returns were received at this office. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 36 to the Attorney-General for his information, 10 of them being irregular or defective, and the others being received after the expiration of the time limit. All of the 22 delinquent cases were also reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and suggestions referring to elections appear, as required by law, in connection with the Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc. (Public Document, No. 43.)

Under the provisions of chapter 416, Acts of 1892, entitled "An Act to prevent corrupt practices in elections and to provide for publicity of election expenses," 805 returns were received from city and town clerks and placed on file.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 158 of the Public Statutes, the return of 607 cases of insolvent debtors was received in 1892 from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office conveniently for reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, returns were received of 2,790 persons who were naturalized before the various courts in this Commonwealth, indexed and bound in form convenient for reference.

CHANGE OF NAMES.

The return of 304 names changed as decreed by the several judges of the probate court in their respective counties were received and published in the Blue Book, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes.

RETURN OF SURVEYOR-GENERAL OF LUMBER.

The return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber, under section 5, chapter 63 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 159 of the Acts of 1890, of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, the person making the survey, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies, was received and filed.

RETURN OF INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF FISH.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish, under section 41, chapter 56 of the Public Statutes, of all fish inspected by him and his deputies, was received and published in the "Boston Daily Advertiser."

SPECIAL REPORTS.

The special reports in the Public Document series which the Secretary of the Commonwealth is now required by law to make are four in number, namely: Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths, etc. (Public Document, No. 1); Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc., as assessed May 1, throughout the Commonwealth (Public Document, No. 19); Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted at the Several Elections during the Year (Public Document, No. 43); and the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10). It is, therefore, unnecessary in this report to do more than refer to these documents.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 100 of the Public Statutes, the returns were received of the number of liquor licenses issued in the Commonwealth, the amount received for the same, and the vote on the question of granting said licenses, from the several cities and towns. By an order of the Legislature, an abstract of these returns has been presented to the Legislature each year.

Under the provisions of sections 25 and 26 of chapter 25 of the Public Statutes, the returns made by the sheriffs of the several counties of all moneys received by them from all sources, by virtue of their office, and the number of days they have attended upon a court of record and upon the county commissioners, were received, compiled, and transmitted to the Legislature.

The returns of the registers of deeds in the several counties, under the provisions of sections 30-32, chapter 24 of the Public Statutes, of the whole number of deeds and other instruments recorded by them during the year, and the amount of fees received, etc., were received, an abstract made, and transmitted to the Legislature.

Each of the foregoing reports, namely, the liquor licenses, returns of the sheriffs, and returns of the registers of deeds, was printed as a House document.

I suggest, for the consideration of the Legislature, whether it would not be better to incorporate these returns in the annual report of the Secretary, and lay them before the Legislature in print, in that manner.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 30, 1894.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit herewith, in accordance with section 2, chapter 262, of the Acts of 1892, the second annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1893.

To the duties previously assigned to this office the Legislature of 1893 added five others: the supervision of the State printing; the purchase of war histories of Massachusetts regiments, batteries, etc.; the administration of the new acts relative to labels, trade-marks, etc., and to marks, devices, etc., upon cans and other vessels, and the making of a card index to the 3,200,000 entries of births, marriages and deaths from 1841 to 1880. Reports thereof appear in their appropriate places.

The office force for the year consisted of 27 clerks and 2 messengers — a reduction of one clerk. This number includes 8 clerks employed in the temporary work on the archives. In addition to this force 16 typewriters are employed under the contract for making the card index to the returns of births, marriages and deaths from 1841 to 1880. This makes a total number of 45 persons at present employed in the work of the office.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $51,481.13, and were from the following sources :—

Commissions, . . . . .		$8,660 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .		20,896 20
Limited partnerships, . . . . .		57 00
Licenses, . . . . .		19,637 00
Sale of books, etc., . . . . .		183 51
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .		138 00
Miscellaneous, {	Certificates, . . . . .	$593 25
	Revolutionary records, . . . . .	632 00
		<hr/>
		1,909 42
		$51,481 13

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for regular salaries were $24,530, and for temporary clerks as follows :—

Publication of the Early Laws, . . . . .	$1,200 00
Publication of the Revolutionary Rolls, . . . . .	4,800 00
Indexing corporation returns, . . . . .	600 00

— a total of $6,600 for temporary clerks, and a grand total of $31,130. The incidental expenses of the office amounted to $4,018. This amount, however, includes a special expenditure of $636 for parchment, sufficient for two years' supply.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 1,951, of which 219 were without fee. The different classes were as follows :—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,345
Notaries public, . . . . .	339
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	140
Massachusetts commissioners in other States, . . . . .	26
Trial justices, . . . . .	25
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	15
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	13
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	9
Clerks of courts, . . . . .	9
District police, . . . . .	8
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	8

Special commissioners, . . . . .	5
Medical examiners, . . . . .	5
Judges of probate and insolvency, . . . . .	2
Pilots, . . . . .	1
Associate justice, superior court, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 2,746 were issued, of which 373 were without fee.

I desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the expediency of prescribing by statute the time at which commissions shall take effect. The Constitution provides that "any person appointed or commissioned to any judicial, executive, military, or other office under the government, shall, before he enters on the discharge of the business of his place or office, take and subscribe" certain oaths. The law allows an appointee three months in which to take the required oaths, but under the present practice a commission takes effect upon its date, and it is nominally in force from such date, although the person holding it may not have been able to act thereunder for three months—an anomalous condition which it seems to me should be corrected as far as possible.

To this end I suggest the enactment of a law providing that all commissions shall take effect upon date of oath, unless some other day shall be specified in the commission.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of charters issued under general laws to new corporations was 492, classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 21), . . . . .	227
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 4), . . . .	180
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1888, chap. 429, as amended), . . . . .	38
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chap. 404), . . . . .	27
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chap. 421), . . . . .	7
Street railway corporations (under P. S., chap. 113), . . . .	5
Libraries (under P. S., chap. 40), . . . . .	3
Co-operative banks (under P. S., chap. 117), . . . . .	2
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1887, chap. 214), . .	2
Masonic association, reorganized (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 13), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,533. Of these, 1,733 were certificates of condition (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 227 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 180 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 201 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among sixteen different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded is 646, of which 616 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among four other classes.

There were issued 18 certificates of change of name of corporations.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 32 corporations by the Supreme Judicial Court.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 57 were filed and recorded.

The work of preparing a card index to the corporation returns is progressing rapidly and favorably. The extent of the work has proved greater than at first appeared, and a small additional appropriation will be necessary to complete it.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By an act of 1893, chapter 443, entitled "An Act to protect persons, associations or unions of persons in their labels, trade-marks and forms of advertising," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording.

Under this law labels, trade-marks, etc., have been received and certificates issued in 69 cases.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc., and under this law 42 such descriptions were received and filed.

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1892, which were received in 1893, cover 65,824 births, 22,507 marriages and 48,762 deaths — a total number of 137,093. This is an increase over the returns received in 1892 of 2,820 births, 832 marriages and 3,577 deaths. It is apparent from a comparison of the relative increase of returns of births and deaths that a great many births escape registration and return.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,210 cases — an increase of 370 over the returns received in 1892.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 837 — an increase of 19 over the last returns.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-first Registration Report (Public Document No. 1).

Four hundred and ninety-nine certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued, principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

Upon a petition of the Boston section of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the question of transferring the preparation of the Registration Report from this office to that of the State Board of Health was brought before the Legislature of 1893. The matter was referred to the joint standing committee on public health. After a full hearing the committee reported unanimously against the proposed change, and this report was adopted by the Legislature.

INDEX TO EARLY REGISTRATION RETURNS.

In accordance with a recommendation in the last annual report of this office, the Legislature of 1893, by chapter 31 of its Resolves, authorized the preparation of a card index to the registration returns for the period between the years 1841 and 1880, to supersede the present imperfect and practically useless index. This is a work of great magnitude, covering about 3,200,000 names, and it was estimated that it would require about three years for its completion. Very favorable arrangements have been made, however, a large and efficient force has been employed, and the work is progressing with such rapidity that it seems entirely practicable, and would certainly be most economical, to finish it during the year 1894. I therefore recommend the continuance of the unexpended balance of the $10,000 appropriated in 1893, together with an additional appropriation of $17,000, to complete the index in accordance with the original estimate of cost.

ARCHIVE DIVISION.

Work has been prosecuted on the compilation of the Revolutionary Rolls and in the examination and arrangement of a large mass of miscellaneous papers which are to be incorporated in the body of the archives, under a system adopted after conference with the Archive Commissioners. In the compilation of the Revolutionary Rolls, the names found in the Drake collection, purchased under an act of 1893, have been added, making the total number of entries transcribed nearly 525,000. These cards are now ready for the printer. Since the completion of this compilation, however, over 350 rolls, lists, etc., have been discovered among the miscellaneous papers under examination, covering some 40,000 names, which will be transcribed and embodied in the regular compilation.

Thus about 65,000 entries will have been transcribed in addition to those in the archives as they existed prior to the beginning of this work.

If the presence of such a mass of Revolutionary Rolls among these miscellaneous papers had been known, much time and labor might have been saved by assorting and embodying them in the regular compilation while that work was in progress. It is a matter of congratulation, however, that they have been discovered before the printing of the work; otherwise it would have been necessary to prepare and print an appendix, in order to present a complete record.

The addition of the Drake collection and of the miscellaneous rolls recently discovered necessarily increases the cost of the compilation, and I therefore ask for an additional appropriation of $1,000.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed, under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering forty-six different reports), 147,750 volumes—an increase of over 3,500 volumes. Of this number, 72,094 volumes were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed, received and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the Laws, 8,500 copies of the Blue Book, and there were also received and distributed 1,550 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 1,608 copies of the term reports, 630 copies of the Senate and House Journals, 9,000 copies of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners' Report, 5,000 copies of the Highway Commissioners' Report, 2,500 copies of the Report of the Commission on Manual Training and Industrial Education, and 1,000 copies of the volume of Changes of Names, making a grand total of 126,882 volumes which passed through the document division during the year—an increase of nearly seven thousand volumes over the preceding year.

It seems desirable at the present time to revise the law in relation to the printing and distribution of reports of boards, public officers, commissioners, etc., so as to include in the Public Document series all reports of permanent officers or boards, and to provide that hereafter such reports shall be added to the Public Document series. At present some reports of permanent boards are made to the Legislature and become Senate or House Documents, and are not, therefore, distributed in the same manner as the Public Document series.

A revision of the law as suggested would secure a uniform distribution of all regular reports.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

A new duty was placed upon the office by chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts volunteers during the late war." This act provides that the Secretary shall purchase 500 copies each of such histories of Massachusetts regiments or batteries as may be approved for such purchase by the Governor and Council, and under its provisions histories of the Thirteenth, Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth Regiments have been purchased. One other regimental history has been submitted which did not receive the required approval, and the history of a light battery is in process of preparation.

STATE PRINTING.

An Act of 1893 (chapter 287) provides that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, in addition to his other duties, supervise the State printing. I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time, observing the manner in which the work has been performed and being constantly in communication with the State printers.

The largest item of expense during the year was that for the series of Public Documents, amounting to $50,978. These documents (46 in number) ranged in cost from over $6,000 each, which was paid for the Health Report and that of the Board of Agriculture, to less than $20. The total number of pages was 11,296.

Other large items were: House Documents, bills, etc., $16,390; Senate Documents, bills, etc., $12,074; and the printing of official ballots, etc., $8,472.49.

The subject of reducing the bulk, and consequently the cost, of some of these Public Documents is one which I commend to the attention of the Legislature, with the view of confining the reports of public officers within reasonable limits.

EARLY LAWS.

By chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889, the Secretary is required to collate, index and publish, in a style similar to that of the Blue Book, so called, all the acts and resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, the purpose being to have a complete and uniform set of the Acts and Resolves. Volume four, covering the period of 1786-87, is now in print, excepting the index, and will soon be issued. A portion of the fifth volume is in hand and it is expected to complete the volume during the current year. As was stated in the report of last year, this work is not merely a reprinting of the laws from the old pamphlet edition. All acts and resolves are taken from original sources, and many resolves which have but recently been discovered in the archives are added.

PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL LAWS.

Chapter 26 of the Resolves of 1888 provided for the collation and publication of the special acts passed from the year 1882 to 1888, inclusive, in a volume uniform with the previous volumes of the special acts.

There has been a sufficient accumulation since 1889 to require the publication of another volume, including the special acts passed from 1889 to 1893, inclusive, and I recommend, therefore, the passage of a Resolve providing for 1,500 copies of the new volume, to be printed and distributed in the same manner as provided in the Resolve of 1889.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF CONSTITUTION.

The original manuscript of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in the custody of this office, is in such a condition that, in my judgment, it should be copied without delay. In several places the ink has faded so as to be hardly visible.

I suggest, therefore, that the Secretary be authorized to have a perfect copy made, to be duly attested by him, and to have the same force and effect as the original.

CHANGED NAMES.

The return of 307 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and published in the Blue Book, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148, of the Public Statutes.

In compliance with chapter 191 of the Acts of 1893, a list of persons whose names have been changed for the entire period from 1780 to 1892, together with a classified index, was printed, electrotyped and 1,000 copies issued.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,813 licenses—a decrease of 54 over the previous year. Of this number, 359 were for the State, 784 for counties, 403 for cities and towns, and 267 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes upon his stock in trade. There were also issued 865 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, and 34 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upward.

Two licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890. The number of transfers of licenses was 136.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under the Lobby Act (chapter 446 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891) 323 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents. Returns were received at this office covering 290 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 23 to the Attorney-General for his information, 8 of them being irregular or defective, and the others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The ten delinquent cases were also reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

It will be observed that this law requires that the docket in which entries are made shall be kept in the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms, while parties employing counsel or agents registered in the docket are required to make their reports to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. In order to know whether all returns are made which should be made it is proper that the Secretary should have possession and custody of the dockets; and I therefore suggest such an amendment to the law as will transfer the dockets from the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and suggestions referring to elections appear, as required by law, in connection with the Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc., as Public Document, No. 43. Under the provisions of chapter 416, Acts of 1892, entitled "An Act to prevent corrupt practices in elections and to provide for publicity of election expenses," 370 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks and placed on file. The number of these returns in 1892 was 805, showing a decrease of 435 for 1893.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving, Fast Day and Arbor Day proclamations by His Excellency the Governor were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving and Fast Day proclamations, 2,076 were sent by mail to churches and 80 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamations, 1,027 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1893 was 46; the number of requisitions upon other states, 34; warrants issued upon requisitions from other states, 12; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 10; respites, 2; habitual criminal permit, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, the returns of 833 cases of insolvent debtors were received during the year from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, returns were received of the naturalization of 6,581 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth, an increase of 3,791. These are, as required by law, indexed and bound in convenient form for reference.

ASSESSORS' RETURNS.

The assessors of the city of Boston are required to deposit in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, on or before the first day of November every third year, a certified copy, under oath, of their books of those years. It appears that this requirement of law has not been complied with for many years. Compliance has been found to be impracticable owing to the enormous labor of transcribing the records, nor has it been insisted upon by the authorities at the State House, for the reason that the original books are easily accessible at the City Hall, and all information desired by the Tax Commissioner has been promptly furnished.

I suggest, therefore, for the consideration of the Legislature, the exemption of the city of Boston from the provisions of section 55 of chapter 11 of the Public Statutes, so far as they apply to depositing copies of the assessors' books in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

RETURNS OF QUALIFYING OFFICERS.

The law provides at present that commissioners to qualify civil officers shall, upon administering an oath, forthwith make return of such act, with the date thereof, to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; but there are other officers authorized by law to administer qualifying oaths who are not required to make such returns, and cases have occurred in which the clerk of a court has been qualified without any return of the qualification being made to this office.

I recommend, therefore, the enactment of a law subjecting all officers authorized to administer qualifying oaths to the same requirement as to returns of their acts as are imposed upon qualifying commissioners.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1892 was received and filed. The return of the Inspector-General of Fish was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" for Feb. 23, 1893.

The special reports in the Public Document series which the Secretary of the Commonwealth is now required by law to make are four in number, namely: Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths, etc. (Public Document, No. 1); Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc., as assessed May 1, throughout the Commonwealth (Public Document, No. 19); Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted at the Several Elections during the Year (Public Document, No. 43); and the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10). It is therefore unnecessary in this report to do more than refer to these documents.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 26, 1895.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit herewith, in accordance with section 2, chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the third annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1894.

To the duties previously assigned to this office the Legislature of 1894 added several others, the more important of which are as follows: the compilation and publication in detail of the returns of votes for state officers; the furnishing to registrars of voters of printed slips of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, with rotary boxes for the use of such slips in testing the reading qualifications of applicants for registration; the furnishing of a standard ink for the use of recording officers of the Commonwealth, counties, cities and towns; the distribution and exchange of public documents among members of the General Court; the making of an official copy of the original manuscript of the Constitution; the collation and publication of a new volume of special laws, comprising those of the years 1889 to 1893 inclusive.

The office force for the year 1894 was substantially the same as that for the previous year.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $50,678.62, and were from the following sources : —

Commissions, . . . . .	$9,230 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	19,999 26
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	48 00
Licenses, . . . . .	19,215 50
Sale of books, etc., . . . . .	224 21
Labels, trade marks, etc., . . . . .	134 00
Miscellaneous, {
Certificates, . . . . .	$665 50
Revolutionary records, . . . . .	664 00
	<hr/>
	1,827 65
	$50,678 62

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for regular salaries were $22,966.33, and for temporary clerks as follows : —

Publication of the early laws, . . . . .	$1,654 67
Publication of the Revolutionary rolls, . . . . .	600 00
Indexing corporation returns, . . . . .	1,200 00

— a total of $3,454.67 for temporary clerks, and a grand total of $26,421.00. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,608.17.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,085, of which 239 were without fee. The different classes were as follows : —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,385
Notaries public, . . . . .	409
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	141
Massachusetts commissioners in other States, . . . . .	31
District police, . . . . .	29
Trial justices, . . . . .	21
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	13
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	12
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	11
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	10
Pilots, . . . . .	7
Medical examiners, . . . . .	5
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	4
Judges of probate and insolvency, . . . . .	2

District attorneys, . . . . .	2
Registers of probate and insolvency, . . . . .	1
Associate justices, superior court, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 2,965 were issued, of which 303 were without fee.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that a law be enacted providing that all commissions shall take effect upon date of oath, unless some other day shall be specified in the commission. The Constitution provides that "any person appointed or commissioned to any judicial, executive, military or other office under the government, shall, before he enters on the discharge of the business of his place or office, take and subscribe" certain oaths. The law allows an appointee three months in which to take the required oaths; but under the present practice a commission takes effect upon its date, and it is nominally in force from such date, although the person holding it may not have been able to act thereunder for three months,—an anomalous condition which it seems to me should be corrected as far as possible.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 497, classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 21), . . . . .	228
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 4), . . . . .	171
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1888, chap. 429, as amended, and Acts of 1894, chap. 367), . . . . .	30
Churches (under acts of 1887, chap. 404), . . . . .	32
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chap. 421), . . . . .	6
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1887, chap. 214, and Acts of 1894, chap. 522), . . . . .	12
Railroad corporations (under P. S., chap. 112), . . . . .	2
Street railway corporations (under P. S., chap. 113), . . . . .	11
Library (under P. S., chap. 40), . . . . .	1
Co-operative banks (under P. S., chap. 117), . . . . .	2
Labor organization (under Acts of 1888, chap. 134), . . . . .	1
Manufacturing corporation reorganized (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 22), . . . . .	1

Certificates of incorporation were filed by Roman Catholic churches under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50, to the number of three.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,633. Of these, 1,838 were certificates of condition (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 228 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 171 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 203 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among twenty different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded is 674, of which 640 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among nine other classes.

There were issued 7 certificates of change of name of corporations.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 22 corporations by the supreme judicial court.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, one certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void, and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes. Charters were refused applicants in six cases under said act, and there was one withdrawal by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

In the amendatory act of 1894 (chapter 542) an inadvertent omission was made of the words "or whenever satisfactory evidence shall appear that the premises occupied by such club or organization are used for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, or for illegal gaming." I therefore recommend the restoration of the words quoted.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 48 were filed and recorded.

The card index to the corporation returns and certificates is completed to the year 1889. The cards are now being arranged alphabetically under their many classifications. This is being done to enable the few remaining years to be finished with all possible despatch.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By an act of 1893, chapter 443 (which was amended by chapter 285, Acts of 1894), entitled “An act to protect persons, associations or unions of persons in their labels, trade-marks and forms of advertising,” the duty was placed upon the secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law labels, trade-marks, etc., were received and certificates of record issued in 67 cases.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled “An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages”, it is made the duty of the secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 133 such descriptions were received and filed.

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1893, which were received in 1894, cover 67,192 births, 22,814 marriages and 49,084 deaths, — a total number of 139,090. This is an increase over the returns received in 1893 of 1,368 births, 307 marriages and 322 deaths. It is apparent from a comparison of the relative increase of returns of births and deaths that many births escape registration and return.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,221 cases, — an increase of 11 over the returns received in 1893.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 1,350, — an increase of 513 over the last returns.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-second Registration Report (Public Document No. 1).

Four hundred and thirty-nine certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1894, principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

The proposition to transfer the preparation of the Registration Report from this office to that of the State Board of Health, which was made and rejected in 1893, was renewed before the Legislature of 1894, through the report of the State Board of Health. The matter was referred to the joint standing committee on public health. After a full hearing the committee reported, as the same committee had reported to the Legislature of 1893, against the proposed change, and the report was again adopted by the Legislature.

INDEX TO EARLY REGISTRATION RETURNS.

In accordance with a recommendation in the first annual report of this office, the Legislature of 1893, by chapter 31 of its Resolves, authorized the preparation of a card index to the registration returns for the period between the years 1841 and 1880, to supersede the present imperfect and practically useless index. It was estimated that this work would cover about 3,200,000 names, and that it would require about three years for its completion. The number of names was under-estimated by about 300,000, but the work has been pushed with great energy, and is now nearly completed. The excess in the number of names has, of course, resulted in additional cost, amounting to $5,000. There are now about 1,200,000 names contained in the returns for the years 1881 to 1889, inclusive, which are indexed by the old and very imperfect method prevailing down to the beginning of the card index in 1890. A careful examination of these indexes shows them to be so imperfect as to warrant a new index, which will give the Commonwealth a complete and practically perfect card index from the beginning to the present time. I therefore strongly recommend that this be done, and that an appropriation of $10,800 be made therefor.

ARCHIVE DIVISION.

The principal work carried on during the year has been the classification and arrangement of the mass of miscellaneous papers that had laid undisturbed for generations in closets and obscure places through all the changes and growth of the office from its beginning to the present time, many of them in their original files and packages, practically inaccessible, and a standing reproach to the reputation of the Commonwealth for preserving and caring for its records. These papers were found to range in date from 1700 to 1790, and covered every conceivable subject. Among them were found wills, deeds, court papers, council orders and warrants, original drafts of resolves, rolls of the French and Indian wars, letters of the colony agents at the Court of St. James, bills and accounts of the Board of War and committee of supplies during the revolution, etc. The extent and quantity of material embodied in this collection can be better gathered from the statement that the loose papers as arranged will make forty-three large volumes, averaging 375 pages each, while the bound books of accounts, etc., will make at least five volumes more, — making in round numbers fifty volumes to be added to the Massachusetts Archives collection of manuscript documents.

The papers were broken out of the original bundles and files, sorted and examined, classified by subjects, and under each subject head arranged chronologically. They were then divided into volumes of as nearly equal a size as possible, without breaking the group arrangement, and given volume and page numbers, by which they will be hereafter known in the archives collection. The work of the binder is alone necessary to enable them to be placed in the archives collection.

It is now proposed to make a card index to this important addition to the archives (for which an appropriation of $1,200 is asked), and then to extend this index from year to year, throughout the entire archive collection, until the present imperfect catalogue index shall be replaced by a comprehensive and systematic card index.

During the first portion of the year the work of transcribing the records of service from the rolls, etc., found among the miscellaneous collection, for the purpose of embodying them in the record index to the Revolutionary rolls, so that they might be included in the compilation of records of Revolutionary soldiers and sailors, to be published by the State, was carried to completion. In all 43,000 additional record cards were written, reviewed and sorted in with those previously prepared, making a total of 595,000 separate record cards prepared for the proposed compilation; and this number is increased by the addition of cross-reference cards for variations in names, so that the record index comprises considerably more than 600,000 cards, from which the condensed abstracts of individual military and naval service are to be printed. Simply as an index for use in answering the inquiries that pour in upon the office through the mails for proofs of eligibility to membership in the Society of Sons of the Revolution and the numerous kindred societies lately established throughout the country, as well as those made by personal inquiry for the same object, this record index has proved already to be well worth all it cost, without taking into account the fact that it furnishes the basis of the intended publication, and is to be used as copy for that purpose. Its value and function as an index will continue after the compilation is published, and it will always be retained for that purpose, as the printed work will not give all the separate references by volume and page that go to make up a record.

During the year the first three volumes of the records of the General Court were mended and bound in such a manner as to insure their permanent preservation. This action was timely and necessary, as the volumes were in such a condition that they could not be handled, and it was necessary to lock them up out of sight. Five volumes of muster rolls were also mended on tissue and newly bound in a substantial manner.

It is almost unnecessary to say that the work of the archive division is growing rapidly in magnitude and importance. The newly awakened interest in historical matters, genealogies, etc., has greatly increased the demands upon this division of the office, and the daily number of visitors has grown from an average of four or five to be fifteen to twenty. Proper attention to these visitors, who, of course, cannot be permitted access to the records except with the supervision and assistance of a clerk, occupies much of the time of the force in this division, and largely accounts for the slow rate of progress in the work of rendering the archives more accessible. It may yet be necessary, in the public interest, as well as in the interest of private historical research, to limit temporarily the use of the archives by individuals until the needed work of indexing can be completed.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed, under the direction of this office, during the year 1894, in the Public Document series (numbering forty-eight different reports), 152,250 volumes, — an increase of 6,000 volumes over 1893. Of this number, 68,225 were handled and distributed in the document division of this office, being supplied to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the Laws, 8,500 copies of the Blue Book; and there were also received and distributed 1,600 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 1,359 copies of the term reports and 630 copies of the Senate and House Journals, — making a grand total of 105,314 volumes which passed through the document division during the year.

In accordance with a suggestion in the last annual report, the Legislature of 1894 revised the law in relation to the printing and distribution of reports of boards, public officers, commissions, etc., so as to include in the Public Document series all reports of permanent officers or boards. It was also provided by law that all Public Documents shall be distributed through the Secretary of the Commonwealth, including the distribution to members of the General Court, formerly made through the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms. Under this new provision of law arrangements have been made in this office for effecting exchanges of documents among Senators and Representatives with the least possible trouble and expense.

It is apparent that the present edition of the Blue Book (8,500 copies) is not sufficient to meet the constantly increasing demand. I therefore suggest that the edition be increased to 10,000, and that the number allowed to each member of the General Court be increased from thirteen to seventeen copies.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

Since the last report of this office, no regimental histories have been purchased under the act of 1893, “to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts volunteers during the late war.” I am informed, unofficially, that the history of the Eighth Light Battery and of the Fifty-seventh Infantry are in process of preparation, and will probably be submitted for approval during the coming year.

STATE PRINTING.

As supervisor of State printing, I have inspected the State printing office from time to time, observing the manner in which the work has been performed, and being constantly in communication with the State printers. In addition to the general supervision exercised by me, all bills have been carefully examined and the matter itself measured by an expert employed by the Auditor, under the provisions of chapter 287 of the Acts of 1893.

The largest item of expense during the year was that for the series of Public Documents, amounting to $49,063.42. This series now numbers forty-eight documents, and their cost ranged from about $6,000 for the Agricultural report and $4,000 for the report of the Board of Health down to $21.40 for the report of the Board of Registration in Dentistry.

Other large items in the printing bills were: House bills, documents, etc., $14,876.50; Senate bills, etc., $8,629.35; ballots, $6,780.10; and Blue Book, $6,516.20.

The aggregate of these items is materially less than that of the preceding year.

EARLY LAWS.

Under the authority of chapter 104, Resolves of 1889, the work of collating, indexing and publishing the Acts and Resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, has been continued.

Volume 5, covering the years 1788-89, is recently from the press, while the copy for volumes 6 and 7 has been prepared. The publication of these two volumes, covering the period of 1790-93, inclusive, together with the compilation of material for subsequent volumes, is projected for the current year. In this work recourse to the original sources, whether acts, resolves or addresses, is had when possible; and, while this has materially increased the labor of preparing the copy and verifying the reprint, it has served the purpose of correcting many glaring errors in the early pamphlet edition, and brought to light, through careful searching of the archives, large numbers of documents which have heretofore been overlooked.

PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL LAWS.

By chapter 110 of the Resolves of 1894, it was provided that the special acts passed from the year 1889 to 1893, inclusive, be collated and published, under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in a volume uniform with the previous volumes of the special acts. This work is now in progress, and 1,424 pages are in type. About 60 more pages will complete the volume, and it will be issued about the first of March. The copy has been prepared by the clerical force of the office and edited by Bowdoin S. Parker, Esq., late chairman of the House Committee on the Judiciary, by whom, also, the index to the volume will be made.

MANUSCRIPT OF THE CONSTITUTION.

By authority of chapter 58 of the Resolves of 1894, a perfect copy of the original manuscript of the Constitution of the Commonwealth was made during the year, under the personal direction of the Secretary, by Mr. Samuel M. Barton, chief engrossing clerk of the office. For this copy, parchment of the same size as the original was procured, on which the copy was written line for line, with interlineations and marginal notes wherever such appeared in the original, and with special care to reproduce punctuation and capitalization.

By virtue of the resolve referred to, this official copy, being duly attested by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, has the same force and effect as the original.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 326 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and filed in this office, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,865 licenses, — an increase of 52 over the previous year. Of this number, 350 were for the State, 760 for counties, 517 for cities and towns and 238 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes upon his stock in trade. There were also issued 944 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, and 35 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upward.

Five licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the Act of 1890.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under the Lobby Act (chapter 446 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 305 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents. Returns were received at this office covering 295 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 23 to the Attorney-General for his information, 22 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the other being received after the expiration of the time limit. The ten cases of delinquency were also reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and suggestions referring to elections appear, as required by law, in connection with the Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc., as Public Document, No. 43. In addition to the statistics heretofore published in this document, there is now presented, in accordance with chapter 200 of the Acts of 1894, the number of votes received by each candidate for a State office at the last annual State election, arranged by cities, towns and districts, as returned to this office.

Under the provisions of the Election Act of 1893, as amended by chapter 248 of the Acts of 1894, relative to statements of election expenses, 375 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks and placed on file. I respectfully refer to my suggestion regarding these returns in Public Document No. 43.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations by His Excellency the Governor were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, 2,076 were sent by mail to churches and 80 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,027 were distributed by mail.

There were also printed and distributed 1,000 copies of the first of the Patriots' Day proclamations, issued by His Excellency the Governor under the act (chapter 130 of 1894) "to abolish Fast Day and to make the nineteenth day of April a legal holiday."

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1894 was 47; requisitions upon other States, 33; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 26; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 15; habitual criminal permit, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, the returns of 787 cases of insolvent debtors were received during the year from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,505 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth, — a decrease of 4,076 over the number returned for 1893. These returns, as required by law, were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference.

RECORD INK.

An investigation of public records, by Commissioner Robert T. Swan, having shown that much mischief had been done, and more was likely to be done, by the use of fugitive inks, the Legislature of 1894, upon the recommendation of Mr. Swan, passed an act (chapter 378) "to establish standard record inks for public records." This act forbids the use upon any book of record or registry in any of the departments or offices of the Commonwealth, or of any county, city or town therein, of any ink excepting such as shall be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and the Secretary is required to establish, with the assistance of a chemist, a standard of ink, and to furnish inks of such standard to the several departments and offices wherein their use is required.

Under authority of this law advertisements were inserted in the Boston papers and notices were sent to manufacturers in New York calling for proposals, to be accompanied by samples of ink to be furnished. A standard was chosen from the specifications issued by the British Stationery Office, and in response to the advertisement seven samples of ink were received. These were subjected to chemical analysis and rigid tests of exposure to light and weather. As the result of these analyses and tests, and upon the advice of the chemist employed for the State, Prof. G. F. H. Markoe, the ink now in use, manufactured by one of the most prominent firms in the country, was adopted and the issue was begun about November first. It is used to-day probably by several thousand persons, and as only twelve complaints against it have reached this office, it may fairly be said to give general satisfaction. The complaints referred to are generally to the effect that the ink is too heavy, and is apt to blur unless it is allowed to become perfectly dry, and it is said by some that they cannot spare the time to allow it to dry. It is evident from the nature of these complaints that the use of thin fluids, which, while flowing smoothly and drying quickly, are not sufficiently permanent for records, has been too common; and it only serves to show more clearly the necessity for some enactment like that of the new law. For instance, one town officer who complains of the ink writes that "the ink we had been using gave us none of these troubles, and would stand in the wells a month if necessary, and flow well every day." It is apparent that an ink so thin that it could stand a month's evaporation without becoming thick enough to clog a pen must be too thin to be permanent. I judge from such complaints that it is a common practice to allow the ink to stand for indefinite periods in the inkstands, subjected, of course, to evaporation and consequent thickening if the ink be originally of a sufficient consistency to make a permanent record. I am convinced that if the ink adopted be used properly and renewed frequently in the wells, as is done in all well-regulated public offices, no difficulty will be found with it except such as will attend the use of any ink heavy enough to insure its permanency beyond a doubt. There is, however, no prejudice in this office in favor of the present standard and if, as is quite probable, experiments shall prove that greater convenience in use can be secured without impairing the prime and indispensable quality of permanency, such an improvement will be made.

Information comes to me, unofficially, that some recording officers are not complying with the law, and openly refuse to do so. A town clerk has written to me that he has been in the habit of making his own ink; and he says, in substance, that if he considers the State ink better than his he will use it,—otherwise not. In view of these facts, I respectfully suggest that an adequate penalty be provided for non-compliance with this law. If this be not done, and recording officers are to be allowed to violate the law with impunity, it would be better, for the sake of a decent regard for the authority of the Commonwealth, to repeal the law.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half-pints.
Counties, . . . . .	10	614	62	12
Cities, . . . . .	28	1,078	324	72
Towns, . . . . .	59	410	572	846
	97	2,102	958	930

The receipts from these sales amount to $1,843.63.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions, 3 gallons, 173 quarts, 17 pints and 46 half-pints.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1893 was received and filed.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" for Feb. 23, 1894.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1); Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10); Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document No. 19); and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), have been made as required by law, and it is, therefore, unnecessary in this report to do more than refer to these documents.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 30, 1896.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in accordance with section 2, chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the fourth annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1895, together with returns of liquor licenses, sheriffs' returns, and returns of registers of deeds for 1895.

To the duties previously assigned to this office the Legislature of 1895 added the inspection of statements filed under the act to prevent corrupt practices in elections, the preparation of a revised draft of the constitution and the examination of the merits of voting machines with a view to their adoption in our elections.

The office force for the year 1895 was slightly increased from that of the previous year, partly on account of the natural increase of business and partly by reason of the more extensive quarters occupied.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $55,103.33, and were from the following sources: —

Commissions, . . . . .	$9,270 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	21,947 55
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	52 00
Licenses, . . . . .	18,771 50

Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	270 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates, . . . . .	$597 00
{ Revolutionary records, . . . . .	1,528 75
{ Copies, . . . . .	634 85
	<hr/>
	2,760 60
	$55,103 33

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $33,685.23, of which $1,800 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $4,001.80.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,048, of which 194 were without fee. The different classes were as follows : —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,392
Notaries public, . . . . .	417
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	107
Massachusetts commissioners in other States, . . . . .	29
District police, . . . . .	19
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	18
Trial justices, . . . . .	11
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	9
Medical examiners, . . . . .	9
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	9
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	7
Public administrators, . . . . .	7
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	4
Pilots, . . . . .	3
Special commissioners, . . . . .	3
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	2
District attorney, . . . . .	1
Associate justice, superior court, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 2,675 were issued, of which 287 were without fee.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that a law be enacted providing that all commissions shall take effect upon date of oath, unless some other day shall be specified in the commission.

I recommend the passage of a law forbidding the issue by clerks of courts of certificates of the appointment of justices of the peace and notaries public, the evidence of such appointment not being a part of the records of such courts.

I also recommend the passage of an act requiring that county commissioners shall return to this office a certificate of the qualification of officers taking the qualifying oaths before them.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 512, classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	251
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . . . .	161
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1894, chapter 367), . . . . .	36
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404), . . . . .	31
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chapter 421), . . . . .	7
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522), . . . . .	9
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), . . . . .	11
Library (under Public Statutes, chapter 40), . . . . .	1
Co-operative banks (under Public Statutes, chapter 117), . . . . .	3
Benevolent and educational corporations reorganized (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 13), . . . . .	2

Certificates of incorporation were filed by Roman Catholic churches under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50, to the number of two.

Certificates of organization and the approval of His Excellency the Governor were filed by two textile schools, under chapter 475 of the Acts of 1895, and Public Statutes, chapter 115.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,804. Of these, 1,934 were certificates of condition (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 251 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 161 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 217 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among fifteen different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded is 772, of which 685 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among twelve other classes.

There were issued 19 certificates of change of name of corporations.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 2 corporations by the supreme judicial court.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, one certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void, and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes. Charters were refused applicants in three cases under said act, and there were two withdrawals by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

In the amendatory act of 1894 (chapter 542), an inadvertent omission was made of the words "or whenever satisfactory evidence shall appear that the premises occupied by such club or organization are used for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, or for illegal gaming." The restoration of the words quoted was recommended to the Legislature of 1895, but for some reason the matter was overlooked. I therefore renew my recommendation of last year.

Owing to inconsistencies existing in the statutes in the matter of the payment of fees for filing and recording certificates in this division of the office, the passage of the following act is recommended:—

AN ACT RELATING TO THE PAYMENT OF CERTAIN FEES IN THE OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The fee to be paid by corporations for filing and recording in the office of the secretary of the Commonwealth any certificate, the payment of a fee for which is not already expressly provided for by law, shall be one dollar. This provision shall apply also to the filing and recording of certificates of limited partnership, under the provisions of chapter seventy-five of the Public Statutes, and to the certificate of change of name of corporations, required to be issued under the provisions of section three of chapter three hundred and sixty of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-one.

SECT. 2. The second clause of section eighty-four of chapter one hundred and six of the Public Statutes is hereby amended by adding after the word "dollars," in the sixth line, the following words: provided, that a corporation which has paid two hundred dollars in the manner herein set forth shall pay a fee of one dollar for each certificate thereafter filed and recorded under the provisions of said section fifty-six, — so as to read as follows: —

For filing and recording the certificate required by section fifty-six, one-twentieth of one per cent. of the amount by which the capital is increased; but the amount so to be paid shall not, when added to the amount previously paid for filing and recording certificates under sections twenty-one, twenty-two and fifty-six, exceed in any case two hundred dollars: provided, that a corporation which has paid two hundred dollars in the manner herein set forth shall pay a fee of one dollar for each certificate thereafter filed and recorded under the provisions of said section fifty-six.

SECT. 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 52 were filed and recorded.

The card index to the corporation certificates is now completed, and embraces references to all acts of incorporation and amendments thereto of corporations created by the General Court since the year 1780, and to every certificate recorded in the office under general laws concerning joint stock and other corporations since the year 1851, when the first certificates were recorded. This index includes corporations created for the following purposes, arranged under their proper classification: manufacturing, mercantile and industrial companies; railroads; street railways; steamboat, towing, express and coach companies; gas and electric, water supply, telegraph and telephone and water-power companies; proprietors of common lands, bridges and ferries, breakwaters, buoys, harbors and moorings, channels, locks and canals, dry docks and marine railways; insurance companies; savings banks, co-operative banks and safe deposit and trust companies; asylums; homes; dispensaries, hospitals, medical societies; general charities; training schools for nurses; cemeteries; clubs; boards of trade; and associations for educational, religious, mechanical and professional purposes; also, certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations since the year 1870 and those of foreign corporations since the year 1892.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (which repealed chapter 443, Acts of 1893, as amended by chapter 285 of the Acts of 1894), entitled "An act to protect manufacturers from the use of counterfeit labels and stamps," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertising were received and certificates of record issued in 133 cases.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 49 such descriptions were received and filed.

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1894, which were received in 1895, cover 66,936 births, 20,619 marriages and 46,791 deaths, — a total of 134,346. This is a decrease, as compared with the returns received in 1894, of 256 births, 2,195 marriages and 2,293 deaths. As it is hardly conceivable that with an increased population there should be a decrease in births, marriages and deaths, it seems evident that there has been much dereliction in making returns.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,159 cases, — a decrease of 62, as compared with the returns received in 1894.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 1,622, — an increase of 272 over the last returns.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-third Registration Report (Public Document, No. 1).

It has been discovered, in the preparation of the index to the registration returns, that the copies of records of births, marriages and deaths from many cities and towns are incomplete, many records and corrections having been made to the city and town clerks after the annual return has been filed here, and not returned by such clerks to this office. As it is important that the records in this office should correspond exactly with the records in the various cities and towns, I suggest the passage of a law requiring city and town clerks and registrars to return to this office annually certified copies of all additions to and corrections in the returns previously made by them.

Four hundred and seventy-three certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1894 (120 of births, 235 of marriages, 118 of deaths), principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

INDEX TO EARLY REGISTRATION RETURNS.

In accordance with recommendations in the first and third annual reports of this office, the Legislatures of 1893 and 1895 authorized the preparation of a card index to the registration returns for the period between and including the years 1841 and 1889. This index contains about 5,000,000 cards, and the work has been prosecuted with such energy that the cards are nearly finished and ready for the cases.

It has been found that the actual number of names in these registration returns is somewhat greater than was originally estimated, and to cover these additional cards and the cost of verifying and correcting defective returns the sum of $2,000 is needed, in addition to the $15,800 appropriated in 1895.

The number of metallic cases provided by the State House Construction Commissioners proves to be inadequate, provision being made for only about 2,000,000 cards. About 800,000 cards, covering the years 1841 to 1855, inclusive, were placed in the cases; but, the floor of the room where they were placed not being considered sufficiently strong to hold the additional weight (about a ton and a half per million) of the remaining cards, provision is to be made elsewhere for the entire index, with additional cases sufficient for ten years' growth. This will cause some delay in opening the index to public use.

As a public convenience in the decision of questions of legitimacy, of legal settlements in towns, in authenticating the claims of soldiers or their families upon the government, in securing the identification of persons and for genealogical research, for which purposes the records are much consulted, the value of this index cannot be over-estimated. It is now possible to trace with promptness and celerity any record in this office of a birth, marriage or death occurring in the State since the year 1840.

ARCHIVE DIVISION.

The work of binding and indexing the collection of miscellaneous papers which are to form an extension of the Felt collection has been carried on during the year, and sixty-nine new volumes have been bound and added to the archives, bringing the total number up to three hundred and twelve volumes.

It is proposed during the year to make a card index to the records of military service in the French and Indian wars, there being much inquiry and research in this direction at the present time. This, it should be understood, will form part of the general and comprehensive index to the entire archives collection.

The first volume of the Records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution is nearly ready for the press. It was thought at the first that the printing of these records could be done directly from the cards. Experience proved, however, that this was impracticable, and it became necessary to make a careful condensation and transcription of the cards for printers' copy. This will explain what might otherwise appear to be an unreasonable delay in issuing the book.

The requests for certificates of service in the Revolutionary and Colonial wars have greatly increased in number, as is shown by the amount of fees received, and the number of persons visiting the office in quest of information or to engage in historical research is greater than ever before. It has become necessary to add one clerk and a messenger to the force of this division, and some extra assistance has also been employed temporarily.

The room now occupied for the archives business is inadequate for the purpose, and it will become necessary eventually to occupy more extensive quarters, retaining the present archive room for the safe-keeping of these invaluable documents.

In my last annual report I recommended an appropriation of $1,200 for the purpose of making a card index to the volumes added to the archives. This work was not begun until September, therefore very little progress has been made. I accordingly recommend that an additional sum of $1,200 be appropriated for the continuance of this index.

I desire to commend the exceptionally efficient manner in which the third clerk in this office, Mr. James J. Tracy, has performed his duties as chief of the archives division; and I respectfully recommend that, in view of the increasing importance and magnitude of these duties, the compensation of the third clerk be increased from eighteen hundred to two thousand dollars per annum.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year 1895, in the Public Document series (numbering fifty-six different reports as against forty-eight in 1894), 171,250 volumes, — an increase of 19,000 over 1894. Of this number, 99,925 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally. In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 10,000 copies of the Blue Book, 8,200 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 906 copies of the term reports and 633 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 4,500 copies of the historical address on the Old Representatives Hall, 4,500 copies of the report on the Historic Codfish, 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 500 copies of the report of the trial of James A. Trefethen and William H. Smith for the murder of Deltena J. Davis, 2,500 copies of the report of the Joint Board upon the Improvement of the Charles River, 1,200 copies of a portion of the report of the Board of Harbor and Land Commissioners on the proposed construction of a dam and lock in Charles River basin, 1,500 copies of Massachusetts Special Laws (vol. 16), 1,000 copies of the Acts and Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 1790-91 (reprint), 5,000 copies of the report of the State Board of Health upon the subject of a metropolitan water supply, and 300 copies of the report of the commissioners appointed to ascertain and establish the boundary line between the States of Massachusetts and New Hampshire, — making a grand total of 166,797 volumes which passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 61,483 volumes over 1894.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

Since my last annual report no histories of Massachusetts regiments have been purchased under the act of 1893, “to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts volunteers during the late war.” The histories of the Eighth Light Battery and of the Fifty-seventh Infantry are, I am informed, still in process of preparation, and will undoubtedly be submitted for approval during the coming year.

STATE PRINTING.

By chapter 287 of the Acts of 1893 it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to supervise the State printing. I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time, observing the manner in which the work has been performed, and being constantly in communication with the State Printers. In addition to the general supervision exercised by me, all bills have been carefully examined and all printed matter measured by an expert employed by the Auditor, under the provisions of the act above quoted.

The largest item of expense was that for the series of Public Documents, amounting to $54,851.10, — an increase of $5,787.68 over the previous year. The Public Document series now numbers fifty-six, — an increase of eight above the previous year; and their cost ranges from $5,836.33 for the Board of Agriculture, $4,688.87 for the Board of Health and $3,775.40 for the Labor Report, down to $21.53 for the report of the Board of Registration in Dentistry.

The House bills, documents, etc., cost $19,171.55, as against $14,876.50 last year; the Senate bills, etc., $8,578.90, as against $8,629.35; the Blue Book $6,485.61, which is slightly less than the previous year; and the Manual $2,830.74. The cost of printing the ballots was $9,513.60, as against $6,780.10 the previous year, the increase being on account of the printing of the women's ballots.

I beg to call the attention of the Legislature to the matter of illustrating the annual reports of commissions, etc., by means of cuts, maps and plans. It cannot be said that there is any disposition generally toward extravagance in this direction, but a case has recently occurred in which an officer acting for a commission ordered photogravures involving an expense of about $1,600, without consultation with, or the knowledge of, either the supervisor of State printing or the State Printers. It seems advisable, therefore, and I recommend, that a law be passed providing that no work of this kind shall be ordered by any officer, board or commission, without the approval of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, acting as supervisor of State printing, and the Auditor of Accounts, excepting, of course, such printing as may be specially ordered by the Legislature.

Something should be done, if possible, although an efficacious remedy is difficult to suggest, to reduce the amount of corrections and changes in matter furnished to the State Printer. While it cannot reasonably be expected that copy can be furnished the printer in which there shall not occasionally be considerable alteration in the proof, an examination of the bills for corrections and resetting will show instances in which due care does not seem to have been exercised in the preparation of copy.

EARLY LAWS.

The work of collating, indexing and publishing the Acts and Resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, authorized by chapter 104, Resolves of 1889, has been continued. Two volumes (Nos. 6 and 7), covering the period of 1790-93, inclusive, have been issued during the year, and volume 8, containing the legislation of the years 1794-95, is now in press. The copy for two more volumes is nearly ready for the printers, which brings the editing of the work down to the year 1800, and leaves but three volumes yet to be prepared.

It should be understood that this work is not simply a reprint of the early Acts and Resolves. The copy is prepared from the original documents, an examination of which has brought to light many important papers which have hitherto been overlooked and never printed. These volumes have been indexed with special care.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 388 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,940 licenses, — an increase of 75 over the previous year. Of this number, 341 were for the State, 770 for counties, 567 for cities and towns, and 262 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade. There were also issued 900 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — a decrease of 44, as compared with the previous year; and 41 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upward, — an increase of 6.

No licenses to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890, were issued.

The total number of transfers of licenses was 158.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 274 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents. Returns were received at this office covering 242 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 12 to the Attorney-General for his information, 9 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 3 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 32 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and suggestions referring to elections appear, as required by law, in connection with the Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc., in Public Document, No. 43. This document also presents the number of votes received by each candidate for a State office at the last annual State election, arranged by cities, towns and districts, as returned to this office.

Under the provisions of the election act of 1893, and chapter 242 of the Acts of 1895, relative to statements of election expenses, 235 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations by His Excellency the Governor were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, 2,083 were sent by mail to churches and 80 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,027 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1895 was 42; requisitions upon other States, 39; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 18; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 15.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, the returns of 757 cases of insolvent debtors were received during the year from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 3,048 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth, — an increase of 543 over the number returned in 1894. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

RECORD INK.

Some complaints were received during the year that the official record ink supplied by this office, as required by chapter 378 of the Acts of 1894, was inconveniently and unnecessarily heavy. Under my direction, Prof. G. F. H. Markoe made experiments, which resulted in a thinning of the ink, as far as it can be done without sacrificing permanency. I am informed, however, that the law is disregarded in many cases, and I venture again to suggest that the act be repealed or a suitable penalty provided for its enforcement.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half-pints.
Counties, . . . .	21	181	4	—
Cities, . . . .	3	297	284	40
Towns, . . . .	2	10	46	20
	26	488	334	60

The receipts from these sales amounted to only $438.24, as against $1,843.63 in 1894.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions, 2 gallons, 132 quarts and 25 pints.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1894 was received and filed Jan. 16, 1895.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" for March 4, 1895.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 25, 1897.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in accordance with section 2 of chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the fifth annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1896. Accompanying this report are the returns of liquor licenses and sheriffs' returns. The returns of registers of deeds, which have hitherto appeared with this report, are no longer required to be made to the secretary, the act providing that such returns shall be made to this office having been repealed by chapter 443 of the Acts of 1896.

To the duties previously assigned to this office the Legislature of 1896 added the supervision (in conjunction with the Auditor of Accounts) of the illustration of the printed reports of State officers, boards and commissions, the furnishing of ballot machines to such cities and towns as should order them under the provisions of chapter 498 of the Acts of 1896, and the codification of all the laws relating to elections.

The office force for the year 1896 was substantially the same as last year, a slight increase, however, being necessary, on account of the constant growth in the work of the office.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $60,043.05, and were from the following sources:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$9,750 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	21,308 30
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	35 00
Licenses, . . . . .	22,946 50
Sale of early laws, blank books, etc., . . . . .	2,261 69
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	284 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates, . . . . .	$631 00
{ Revolutionary Records, . . . . .	2,055 75
{ Copies, . . . . .	770 81
	<hr/>
	3,457 56
	$60,043 05

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $36,692.64, of which $1,800 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,890.11.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,185 (an increase over 1895 of 137), of which 230 were without fee. The different classes were as follows:—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,422
Notaries public, . . . . .	499
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	116
Massachusetts commissioners in other states, . . . . .	29
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	18
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	16
Trial justices, . . . . .	15
Special commissioners, . . . . .	15
District police, . . . . .	14
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	11
Medical examiners, . . . . .	11
Public administrators, . . . . .	6
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	5
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	2
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	2
Associate justice, superior court, . . . . .	2
Pilot, . . . . .	1
Judge of probate and insolvency, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 2,982 were issued (an increase over 1895 of 307), of which 458 were without fee.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that a law be enacted providing that all commissions shall take effect upon date of oath, unless some other day shall be specified in the commission.

I also recommend the passage of an act requiring that county commissioners shall return to this office a certificate of the qualification of officers taking the qualifying oaths before them.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 472 (a decrease from 1895 of 40), classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	234
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . .	166
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1894, chapter 367), .	21
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404) . . . . .	31
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chapter 421), . . . . .	4
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522), . .	2
Co-operative bank (under Public Statutes, chapter 117), . . . .	1
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 112), .	9
Steam railroad corporation (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), .	1
Swine-slaughtering association (under Public Statutes, chapter 107),	1
Library (under Public Statutes, chapter 40), . . . . .	1
Labor organization (under Acts of 1888, chapter 134), . . . .	1

One certificate of incorporation was filed by a Roman Catholic Church, under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,841 (an increase of 37). Of these, 2,004 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 234 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 166 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 214 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 16 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 877 (an increase of 105) of which 770 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 10 other classes.

There were issued 25 certificates of change of name of corporations (an increase of 6).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 51 corporations by the supreme judicial court (an increase of 49).

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

In the amendatory act of 1894 (chapter 542), relating to the incorporation of clubs, an inadvertent omission was made of the words "or whenever satisfactory evidence shall appear that the premises occupied by such club or organization are used for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors, or for illegal gaming." The restoration of the words quoted was recommended to the Legislature of 1895 and also to the Legislature of 1896, but the matter was overlooked each year. I therefore renew my recommendation of the last two years.

Numerous inquiries are made in this division, from time to time, concerning the incorporation of religious societies, churches, cemeteries, proprietors of wharves, general fields, aqueduct corporations, etc., under certain general laws which make no provision for a public record of incorporation papers in this office. These inquiries come principally from persons engaged or interested in the framing or proving of wills, and in the transfer of real estate belonging to such corporations.

It is said that in some cases the original books of the corporation containing the incorporation records have been burned or lost, thus making the settlement of important legal matters difficult, if not impossible. I therefore recommend the passage of an act to require the filing of incorporation papers by such corporations in this office, where they shall be recorded.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 35 were filed and recorded (a decrease over 1895 of 17).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (which repealed chapter 443, Acts of 1893, as amended by chapter 285 of the Acts of 1894), entitled "An act to protect manufacturers from the use of counterfeit labels and stamps", the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertising were received and certificates of record issued in 142 cases (an increase of 9).

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages", it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 70 such descriptions were received and filed (an increase of 21).

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1895, which were received in 1896, cover 67,545 births, 23,102 marriages and 47,540 deaths, — a total of 138,187. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1894, of 609 births, 2,483 marriages and 749 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,317 cases, — an increase of 158, as compared with the returns for 1894.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 1,141, — a decrease of 481 over the last report.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-fourth Registration Report (Public Document, No. 1).

It has been found that the copies of records of births, marriages and deaths from many cities and towns as filed in this office are incomplete, records and corrections which were made after the annual return has been filed here not having been returned to this office by the city and town clerks. As the records in this office should correspond exactly with the records in the various cities and towns, I recommend the passage of an act requiring city and town clerks and registrars to return to this office annually certified copies of all additions to and corrections in the returns previously made by them.

Six hundred and sixty-three certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1896 (178 of births, 311 of marriages and 174 of deaths), principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

The number of persons who consulted the returns during the year was 1,639.

INDEX TO EARLY REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The card index to the registration returns, authorized by the Legislatures of 1893 and 1895, in accordance with recommendations in the first and third annual reports of this office, is now complete, and the State is to be congratulated upon possessing an index as nearly perfect as possible, to all of its registration returns from 1840 down to the present time. The total number of cards is, in round numbers, six millions, and all will shortly be accessible for use. That they are not already so is due to the fact that the number of metallic cases provided by the State House Commissioners proved to be entirely inadequate, accommodating only about one third of the cards. Additional cases have been recently set up, sufficient not only to contain the cards already prepared but for a growth of the next ten years.

ARCHIVES.

Steady progress has been made during the year in the work of improving the condition and accessibility of the archives. Eight new volumes of miscellaneous papers have been arranged, bound and added to the archive series, making the total number 320. This is an increase during the past few years of 77 volumes. There have been rebound during the year 15 volumes of Revolutionary rolls, 11 volumes of manuscript copy of Plymouth Colony records, 9 volumes of Court Records, 4 volumes of the Felt collection and 1 volume of engrossed acts (1846).

Volume I., of the Records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolutionary War, containing 1,000 pages, and covering all names and accompanying records between the letters Aa and Ber, was published last June, and Volume II., of equal size, comprising all names between Bes and Byx, was completed in November. It is expected to carry through two volumes during the present year and at the same rate in future years until the work is completed. This undertaking has proved to be very much more extensive than was at first expected, and, as the appropriation for printing and binding is exhausted, it is necessary for the Legislature to provide an additional amount. This I recommend, believing that the results will prove fully commensurate with the additional expenditure of time and money.

Work on the reference index to the miscellaneous collection of documents added to the archives was continued during a part of the year, and 31,762 cards are now written. In addition to these cards, a record index to the muster rolls collection, covering the Colonial and French and Indian wars, similar to the record index compiled from the Revolutionary rolls collection, has been begun, and about 23,000 cards are written and reviewed. It is my purpose to push the work of indexing as rapidly as practicable with the limited means at my disposal, my object being to provide for convenient use a complete reference index to the entire Massachusetts archives collection.

The number of visitors who call to consult the archives for historical purposes and to obtain information regarding their qualifications for membership in patriotic orders is constantly increasing, and I regret to say that the accommodations provided for this division of the office are inadequate. It is apparent also that within a few years the space in the cases provided for the files will be exhausted.

As I have already intimated, the work of the archives division is constantly increasing and will continue to do so, and this increase refers not only to the amount but to the importance of the work. In view of this fact and of the efficiency with which the third clerk in this office, Mr. Tracy, has superintended this work, I suggest that the designation be changed from third clerk (that office to be abolished) to chief of the archives division, and that the compensation of the new office be fixed at $2,000 per annum.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1896, in the Public Document series (numbering fifty-eight different reports, as against fifty-six in 1895), 180,250 volumes, — an increase of 9,000 over 1895. Of this number, 93,775 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 10,500 copies of the Blue Book, 8,200 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 906 copies of the term reports and 675 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 4,100 copies of the memorial of Frederic T. Greenhalge, 2,000 copies of the report of the Joint Board upon the Improvement of the Charles River, 750 copies each of volumes 6 and 8 of the Province Laws, 500 copies of the History of the Fifty-seventh Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, 3,000 copies of the Early Laws (three new volumes), 1,000 copies Volume I. Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, and 4,500 copies of the Metropolitan District Commission, — making a grand total of 156,331 volumes which passed through the document division during the year.

I recommend the addition to the Public Document series of the annual report of the Board of Registration in Medicine, of which 3,500 copies shall be printed (2,500 to be for the use of the Board); of the report of the State Dairy Bureau, of which 2,000 copies shall be printed; and of the Commissioners of the Massachusetts Nautical Training School, of which 1,500 copies shall be printed.

On account of the increased demand for certain reports, I recommend an increase of editions, as follows:—

Report of the Chief of the District Police, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies; of the Trustees of the Lyman and Industrial Schools, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies; of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc., from 1,500 to 2,500 copies; of the Tax Commissioner, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies; of the Board of Cattle Commissioners, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies, of which 500 shall be for the use of the Board; of the Metropolitan Park Commission, from 1,500 to 4,000 copies.

I recommend further that such copies of the Compilation of Records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolutionary War as shall not be called for within a reasonable time by the distributees designated in the law shall be subject to distribution at the discretion of the Secretary.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

Since my last annual report the history of the Fifty-seventh Regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, by Capt. John Anderson of the United States army, a former officer in the regiment, has been published, under the auspices of the Regimental Association, and 500 copies have been purchased and distributed under the act of 1893, “to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts Volunteers during the late war." It is hardly probable that any other regimental history will be published during the current year, but, lest there might be, I have recommended an appropriation sufficient to cover one case.

STATE PRINTING.

Since 1893 it has been the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to supervise the State printing, and I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time during the past year, observing the manner in which the work has been performed, and being constantly in communication with the State printers. In addition to this general supervision by the Secretary, all bills have been carefully examined and all printed matter measured by an expert employed by the auditor. The largest item of expense was that for the series of Public Documents, — $43,747.50, — which is a decrease of more than $11,000 over the amount expended in 1895. The greatest cost for a single report was for that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,473.86; the report of the Board of Health coming next, with $4,204.79. The smallest expense was for the report of the Board of Registration in Dentistry, $20.93.

The House printing cost $15,124.40, — a decrease of a little over $4,000 over 1895. The Senate printing cost $6,145.15, — a reduction over 1895 of about $2,400. The edition of the Blue Book cost $6,247.53 and the Manual $2,785.49, — an expense slightly less, in each case, than that of the previous year. The cost of printing ballots was $9,550.49.

The new supplement to the Public Statutes is in type complete as far as the index, and will probably be issued as early as next June. The first volume of the census report for 1895 is nearly finished and will be delivered shortly.

In my last report I called the attention of the Legislature to the necessity for some restriction in the matter of illustrating the annual reports of boards and commissions, and the result was the passage of the law (chapter 258 of 1896) providing that no illustrations shall hereafter be introduced in such reports except in cases where their insertion is expressly authorized by law or by direction of the General Court or of either branch thereof, unless the approval of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the Auditor of Accounts is first obtained therefor. Under this act the Secretary and the Auditor have authorized illustrations amounting to $3,052.50. The greatest expense was for the report of the Metropolitan Park Commission, $800; that for the report of the Metropolitan Water Board was $677; that of the report of the Metropolitan Sewerage Commission, $480; and that of the State Board on Docks and Terminal Facilities, $450. I recommend, and in this recommendation the Auditor joins, that the amount which may be authorized by the Secretary and the Auditor for the illustration of any one report be limited to $500, and that no report shall be illustrated at a greater cost except by special authority from the Legislature.

EARLY LAWS.

Volume 7 of this work, covering the period of 1792-93, was issued near the close of the year 1895. Since then two volumes (Nos. 8 and 9), containing the legislation of the years 1794-97, have been published, and Volume 10, now in press, should be completed early in the current year. This will bring the work down to the year 1800, and leave but three volumes thereafter to be issued, a considerable portion of the copy for which has already been prepared.

This publication is authorized by chapter 104, Resolves of 1889, which requires the Secretary to collate, index and publish, in a style similar to that of the Blue Book, so called, all the acts and resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, the purpose being to afford a complete and uniform set of the acts and resolves. The scope of the work has been confined to the manifest end in view, but within this limitation, it is not merely a reprint of contemporaneous pamphlet editions of acts and resolves, but a bringing together in orderly arrangement, by legislative years, of the acts, resolves, orders, addresses, lists of members of the General Court, etc., for a given period. Recourse is had to such records and data as will render the work complete, and all matter is referred to, and carefully compared with, original documents in the archives. This reference and comparison has brought to light many legislative papers of great interest which have never been printed collectively.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 377 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 2,182 licenses, — an increase of 188 over the previous year. Of this number, 420 were for the State, 741 for counties, 667 for cities and towns and 300 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

There were also issued 906 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — an increase of 6, as compared with the previous year; and 54 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upward, — an increase of 13.

Four licenses were issued to itinerant venders, under the act of 1890.

RETURNS UNDER THE LOBBY ACT.

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 297 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 23 over the number for 1895. Returns were received at this office covering 252 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 14 to the Attorney-General for his information, 7 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 7 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 45 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

In addition to the usual work in connection with elections, the Secretary was required, by a resolve of the last Legislature, chapter 78, to prepare and report to the present Legislature a codification of all the statutes in force relative to elections, and this codification will shortly be presented.

Under the provisions of the election act of 1893 and of chapter 242 of the Acts of 1895, relative to statements of election expenses, 252 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is an increase of 17 in the number of returns.

PROCLAMATIONS.

On the 5th of March His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Acting Governor, issued a proclamation announcing the death of His Excellency Frederic T. Greenhalge, and copies thereof were printed and distributed, under the direction of this office, to the several cities and towns and to the courts.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were also printed and distributed under the direction of this office. 17<sup>1</sup> Of the Thanksgiving proclamations, about 2,100 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the s<sup>1</sup> Arbor Day proclamation, 1,027 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1896 was 46; requisitions upon other States, 39; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 16, including 1 recalled and subsequently refused; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 10; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, the returns of 860 cases of insolvent debtors (an increase of 103 over 1895) were received during the year from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,532 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1895, — a decrease of 516, as compared with the returns for 1894. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

RECORD INK.

Since the thinning of the standard record ink, which was made after careful experiments by the late Professor Markoe, no complaints have been received in regard to its quality or consistency. I am convinced, however, that the law is still disregarded in many cases, officers in charge of records allowing the use of other than the official ink in writing such records. Therefore I renew my suggestion of last year, that a suitable penalty be provided for the enforcement of this act.

The law provides that the Secretary shall from time to time advertise for proposals to furnish the ink, and in compliance with this provision advertisement was made during the past year, and there have been obtained from different bidders 15 samples, which are now in process of analysis and test.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half-pints.
Counties, . . . . .	4	430	60	24
Cities, . . . . .	3	287	141	—
Towns, . . . . .	3	73	73	36
	10	590	274	60

The receipts from these sales amounted to $551.72, as against $438.24 in 1895.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions, 1 gallon, 148 quarts and 22 pints.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1896 was received and filed Jan. 14, 1897.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1895 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of March 16, 1896.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ABSTRACT OF RETURNS made by the several city and town clerks to the secretary of the Commonwealth, in the year 1896, under the requirements of section 5, chapter 100, Public Statutes, showing the number of licenses issued for the sale of intoxicating liquors, the amounts received therefor, and the number of licenses revoked during the year, with a statement of the vote given at their last annual meeting on the question, "Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this city (or town)?"

[NOTE.—The action of a town (in February, March or April) governs the year in which the vote is taken, while that of a city (in December) governs the following year.]

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 20, 1898.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in accordance with section 2 of chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the sixth annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1897. Accompanying this report are the sheriffs' returns and the returns of liquor licenses. As stated in my report of last year, the returns of registers of deeds, which formerly appeared with this report, are no longer made to the Secretary, the act requiring such returns having been repealed by chapter 443 of the Acts of 1896.

In addition to the duties previously assigned to this office, the Legislature of 1897 commissioned the Secretary to print the Bradford History; to investigate and report whether or not the rolls of the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of 1745 are in England, and copies thereof can be obtained (chapter 16 of the Resolves); and by the act to provide for the payment of bounties to Massachusetts soldiers in certain cases (chapter 179), he was made a member of a commission to adjudicate claims for such bounties under that act.

The regular work of the office has steadily increased, necessitating some additions to the clerical force.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $59,566.54, and were from the following sources:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$10,590 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	22,436 70
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	42 00
Licenses, . . . . .	21,671 50
Sale of early laws, blank books, etc., . . . . .	1,357 74
Labels, trade marks, etc., . . . . .	242 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates, . . . . .	$655 25
{ Revolutionary Records, . . . . .	1,634 95
{ Copies, . . . . .	936 40
	<hr/>
	3,226 60
	$59,566 54

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $37,257, of which $1,860 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,609.24.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,338 (an increase over 1896 of 153), of which 572 were without fee. The different classes were as follows:—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,492
Notaries public, . . . . .	579
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	96
Commissioners in other States, . . . . .	24
District police, . . . . .	23
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	21
Trial justices, . . . . .	17
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	14
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	11
Special commissioners, . . . . .	10
Medical examiners, . . . . .	10
Commissioners to qualify, . . . . .	10
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	10
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	9
Pilots, . . . . .	4
Public administrators, . . . . .	2
Commissioners in foreign countries, . . . . .	2
Supervisors of registration, . . . . .	2
Sheriff, . . . . .	1

There were also issued 354 commissions to supervisors of election.

Certificates to the number of 3,004 were issued (an increase of 22 over 1896), of which 383 were without fee.

I recommend the passage of an act requiring county commissioners to return to this office a certificate of the qualification of officers taking their oaths of office before them.

I also recommend the passage of an act requiring each State board and commission to report its organization to this office, together with the name of its secretary or principal executive officer.

I suggest for the consideration of the Legislature the advisability of prescribing certain qualifications which shall be necessary to obtain a commission as justice of the peace. There is at present no such requirement in the statutes, although it is true that the executive department prints on its form of application for appointment a certificate that the person recommended is a citizen of the United States, a resident of Massachusetts, more than twenty-one years of age, and of high standing and character. Many papers are received at this office executed by justices of the peace in a manner which betrays gross incompetence on the part of the magistrate, and it would seem proper to enact that a justice of the peace shall be a citizen of the United States, a resident of Massachusetts, more than twenty-one years of age, of high standing and character, and fully competent to discharge all the duties of the office.

I recommend that the acts providing for the appointment of women as special commissioners (chapter 252 of 1883, 197 of 1889 and 476 of 1896) be amended by limiting the term of such commissioners to seven years, and requiring a fee of five dollars, as in the case of justices of the peace. These commissioners are practically justices of the peace; but, as the law now stands, the justices are obliged to pay a commission fee of five dollars, and their term is limited by the Constitution to seven years, while the commissioners are required to pay no fee and are appointed for life. The original act providing for the appointment of special commissioners confined such appointments to women who are attorneys-at-law. The law so remained from 1888 to 1896, during which period, nine years, only ten appointments were made. In 1896, however, the qualification referred to was removed, and during the years 1896 and 1897 the number of appointments more than doubled. There are now thirty-six of these commissions in existence; and I recommend that, in case the Legislature sees fit to limit the term of new appointments, those which have run seven years or more be terminated and a new appointment required, and that none shall extend beyond the term of seven years.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 508 (an increase from 1896 of 36), classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	259
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . .	184
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404), . . . . .	31
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1894, chapter 367), . . .	20
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), . . .	9
Labor organizations (under Acts of 1888, chapter 134), . . . . .	2
Mutual insurance company (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522), . . . . .	1
Co-operative bank (under Public Statutes, chapter 117), . . . . .	1
Library (under Public Statutes, chapter 40), . . . . .	1

One certificate of incorporation was filed by a Roman Catholic Church, under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,005 (an increase of 164). Of these, 2,141 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 259 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 184 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 246 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 13 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 955 (an increase of 78), of which 856 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 18 certificates of change of name of corporations (a decrease of 7).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 36 corporations by the supreme judicial court (a decrease of 15).

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, one certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void and no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes. A charter was refused applicants in one case under said act, and there were 3 withdrawals by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Section 8 of chapter 105 of the Public Statutes provides that a corporation created by charter, if no time is limited therein, shall be organized within two years from the passage of its act of incorporation. As there is no provision of law for a public record of the organization of corporations above referred to, and it is of importance in connection with matters of record pertaining to corporations in this office to know whether a corporation has been duly organized under its charter, and what amount of capital stock, if any, has been fixed upon with which to commence business, I recommend the passage of an act requiring some evidence of the organization of such corporations to be filed in this office.

Under the provisions of section 31 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes and chapter 500 of the Acts of the year 1894, a corporation authorized to carry on any mechanical, mining, manufacturing, mercantile, co-operative trade or fishery business, also to erect and maintain a hotel, public hall or building for manufacturing purposes, or to carry on any lawful business not hereinbefore mentioned, may change the par value of its shares, provided that a certificate of such change shall within ten days thereafter be filed in this office.

Also, under the provisions of section 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes, a manufacturing or mercantile corporation is permitted to alter, add to or change the business for the transaction of which it was incorporated, upon the vote of all its stockholders at a meeting duly called for the purpose; but such a corporation shall not engage in any business which is not authorized by the provisions of said chapter 106. Said section provides further that a certificate of such alteration, addition to or change of business shall be filed in this office.

In view of the fact that certificates pertaining to the payment, increase and reduction of capital, the annual certificates of condition, and certificates of authority granted corporations to open canals, etc., for the introduction and propagation of herrings and alewives, filed under the provisions of sections 46, 54, 56, 57 and 58 of said chapter 106, are required to be submitted, before filing, for approval to the Commissioner of Corporations, by section 59 of said chapter 106, I recommend the passage of such legislation as will require the certificate of change of par value of shares and the certificate of alteration, addition to or change of business referred to in said sections 31 and 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes, to be likewise submitted, before filing, to the Commissioner of Corporations for his inspection and approval.

The question is sometimes asked this office whether our laws permit charitable, benevolent, literary, scientific, educational and similar corporations to alter, add to or change the purpose for which they were incorporated, by a proper vote at a meeting of the corporation called for the purpose, and the filing of a certificate in this office, in the same manner as manufacturing, mercantile and other business corporations are enabled to do under section 51 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes. To illustrate: An historical or scientific corporation, unable at the time of its incorporation to foresee the need of a place for a reading-room, a library or a place for social meetings, to advance the interests of the corporation, does not make any provision for such in its purpose, but later on recognizes the advisability of providing such a place. There is no way under existing laws whereby such a corporation can amend its purpose to attain the desired end, unless to incorporate anew, which many are reluctant to do. I therefore recommend the passage of an act which will enable such corporations to amend their purpose of incorporation.

Requests to surrender to this office certificates of incorporation of corporations are sometimes received. This happens generally in the case of corporations created under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes for charitable, benevolent, social and such purposes, and is due chiefly to the fact that they have either outlived their usefulness, or because active interest in the corporation on the part of the members has waned. Dissolution in such cases under existing laws by application to the supreme judicial court is not sought, owing principally to the lack of funds on the part of the corporation to pay the necessary expenses. I therefore recommend the passage of an act which will enable such corporations to become dissolved through this office.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 42 were filed and recorded (an increase over 1896 of 7).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (which repealed chapter 443, Acts of 1893, as amended by chapter 285 of the Acts of 1894), entitled "An Act to protect manufacturers from the use of counterfeit labels and stamps," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertising were received and certificates of record issued in 121 cases (a decrease of 21).

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 38 such descriptions were received and filed (a decrease of 32).

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1896, which were received in 1897, cover 72,343 births, 23,651 marriages and 49,381 deaths,—a total of 145,375. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1895, of 4,798 births, 549 marriages and 1,841 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,416 cases,—an increase of 99, as compared with the returns for 1895.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 1,610,—an increase of 469 over the last report.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-fifth Registration Report (Public Document, No. 1).

Six hundred and fifty certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1897 (143 of births, 295 of marriages and 212 of deaths), principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

The number of persons who consulted the returns during the year was 1,874, or an average of 156 monthly.

The card index to the registration returns, authorized by the Legislatures of 1893 and 1895, in accordance with recommendations in the first and third annual reports of this office, is now complete and accessible for use. Serious delay in placing these cards in the metallic cases was caused by the failure of the contractors to deliver the cases seasonably, and I understand that the contractor for the work of writing and placing the cards suffered considerable loss thereby, and will probably bring in a bill for damages.

ARCHIVES.

No important additions to the archives have been made during the year, but the work of preservation and of the improvement of their condition has been done with conscientious care. Seventeen volumes of the revolutionary series and two volumes of the archives proper have been newly mounted and bound; and the work will be continued from year to year, until every volume has been placed in excellent binding, and all the wear and tear caused by the frequent handling hitherto necessary shall have been repaired as far as possible. The total number of volumes in the archives series remains at 320, as last year.

The third volume of the records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War was completed during the year, and over 300 pages of the fourth volume are now in type. It can reasonably be expected that Volume IV. will be issued by midsummer, and Volume V. before the close of the year 1898. Volume III. contains all names between C and Cor.

The work of making a card record index of the French and Indian war records, which will form a part of the general index to the archives, is progressing favorably. The number of cards written, reviewed and sorted alphabetically during the year was 56,018, which, with the number finished in 1896, makes a total of 78,989 completed to Jan. 1, 1898. The nine volumes of muster rolls, etc., covering the period from 1710 to 1774, from which this record index is being compiled, will be finished the latter part of 1898, at the present rate of progress. These cards will then be placed in file boxes, accessible in the same manner as the revolutionary record index.

The number of visitors to the archives room is continually on the increase, and emphasizes more distinctly from year to year the requirement of more ample accommodations for this division of the office. There is a deficiency not only of space, but of light; and within a few years a change for the better in both these respects will be absolutely necessary.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1897, in the Public Document series (numbering fifty-seven different reports), 182,650 volumes, — an increase of 2,400 over 1896. Of this number, 111,750 (an increase of about 8,000) were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 10,500 copies of the Blue Book, 10,000 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 906 copies of the term reports, and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 2,000 copies of the Early Laws (two new volumes); 1,000 copies each of volumes II. and III., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 1,600 copies Volume I., Massachusetts in the Army and Navy, 1861–65; 11,000 copies Census of Massachusetts, 1895 (two volumes); 2,000 copies of the Supplement to the Public Statutes of Massachusetts, 1889–95; 2,000 copies of the Report upon the Sanitary Condition of the Neponset Meadows; 1,900 copies of the Report of the Commission to investigate the Public Charitable and Reformatory Interests and Institutions of the Commonwealth; 2,900 copies of the Report of the State Board on Docks and Terminal Facilities; 5,000 copies of the Report of the Joint Special Committee of the Legislature appointed to investigate and report upon the post-mortem examinations of certain cows condemned as tuberculous under the order of the Board of Cattle Commissioners (House, 1341); 5,000 copies of the Supplement to the Laws relating to Elections; 4,000 copies of Laws concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers; 2,000 copies of the Report of the Commission on Taxation; and 1,400 additional copies of the fourth report of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, — making a grand total of 202,356 volumes which passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 46,025 over 1896.

On account of an increased demand for certain reports, I recommend an increase of editions as follows: Report of the Chief of the District Police, from 2,000 to 2,500 copies; Report of the Commissioner of Public Records, from 1,500 to 2,000 copies, and that 500 be for the use of the commissioner.

I also recommend, upon the request of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity, that there be printed annually 500 extra copies of so much of the annual report of said Board as relates to city and town almshouses, together with that portion of the appendix to the report called "The Pauper Abstract."

I recommend that such copies of Massachusetts in the Army and Navy, 1861-65, as shall not be called for by the distributees designated in the law shall be subject to distribution at the discretion of the Secretary.

I recommend that the distribution of the recently published supplement to the Public Statutes, 1889-95, be subjected to the provisions of chapter 60 of the Resolves of 1891, in order that such distribution may be uniform with that of the Public Statutes and of the first supplement thereto (1882-88); and, further, that a limited number of copies of the 1889-95 supplement, say ten, be placed at the disposal of the compiler thereof.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

No new histories have been presented for acceptance under the act of 1893, "to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts Volunteers during the late war." I am informed, however, that there is reason to expect two, if not three, of these histories during the current year, and I have recommended an appropriation accordingly.

STATE PRINTING.

It has been the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth since 1893 to supervise the State printing, and I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time during the past year, and have had the work constantly under observation. In addition to this general supervision by the Secretary, all bills are carefully examined and all printed matter measured by an expert employed by the auditor. The largest item of expense was that for the series of Public Documents, — $66,512.88. The greatest cost for a single report was for that of the Board of Agriculture, — $6,100.13; the report of the Board of Health coming next, with $4,557.30. The smallest item was that for the report of the Board of Registration in Pharmacy, — $26.93. The Blue Book cost $6,217.96, the Manual $2,810.95, and the printing of ballots $6,895.36.

The House printing cost $13,866, exclusive of the cost of the House Journal, which was $1,385.45. The Senate printing amounted to $4,860.22, exclusive of the Senate Journal, which cost $1,046.36. This was a material reduction from the bills of 1896. The Supplement to the Public Statutes (3,000 copies) cost $8,788.25. Of this amount, however, $3,562.50 will be returned to the Commonwealth for copies sold.

There is, of course, a general tendency toward an increase of the printing bills, caused by the natural increase in the work of the different officers, boards and commissions. I have accordingly increased the estimate for appropriations for this purpose, my estimate for 1898 being $60,000, as against $55,000 for 1897.

BRADFORD'S MANUSCRIPT HISTORY.

By chapter 91 of the Resolves of 1897, the Secretary of the Commonwealth was ordered to print Bradford's History of the Plymouth Plantation, from the original manuscript, together with a report of the proceedings of the joint convention of the Senate and House of Representatives held on the occasion of the presentation of the Manuscript to the Governor, in May last. It was found upon careful examination that the sum of

EARLY LAWS.

Chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889 required the Secretary to cause to be collated, indexed and published, in a style similar to that in which the Blue Books, so called, were then published, all the Acts and Resolves of the General Court from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, together with such portion of the Acts and Resolves of that year as he might find necessary in order to make such publication complete to the time when full publication of the Acts and Resolves has already been made. Under this resolve volumes 10 and 11, containing the legislation of the years 1798-1801, have been issued during the past year, and volume 12 is now in press. The work will be brought to a close with volume 13, the editing and probably the publication of which will be completed during the current year. Both of these latter volumes will, however, contain a larger number of pages than those immediately preceding. In the preparation of copy for these volumes the original acts, resolves, addresses, etc., on file in the archives, have been always at hand, and have furnished the only recognized standard of authenticity and completeness. Careful comparison with these original sources has corrected many errors in the early pamphlet editions, and led to the addition of considerable matter not therein contained. Having in mind the fact that these volumes will be consulted by those interested in historical research, as well as by the student of early legislation, care has been taken to make the index full and complete.

RECORD INK.

It was stated in my last report that, under the law providing for a standard record ink, advertisement had been made for new proposals for furnishing such ink, and that the samples received were undergoing analysis and test. During the past year the tests were completed and a new ink chosen, made in accordance with a formula carefully prepared by a competent chemist, and submitted to all bidders. One of the chief objects in view in obtaining the new ink was to insure freedom from smirching and failure to dry and harden quickly, concerning which some complaint was made of the former ink. It is hardly necessary to say that it is impossible to obtain an ink which will fulfil all the requirements for records, and yet dry instantly and leave no more deposit upon the paper or pen than the thin fluids which are generally popular; but an effort has been made to obtain an ink with the least possible tendency to smirch, consistent with absolute permanency.

The new ink has been in use since the first of November. So far no complaint has reached this office, although it must be taken for granted that it is impossible to please the thousands of officials with a single kind of ink.

I renew my recommendation that a penalty be attached for failure to comply with the just provisions of this law. There was recently received at this office a return from a town clerk which was written with an ink which from all indications will have absolutely disappeared within twenty years, — and this in plain and palpable violation of the requirement that the officer should make all records with the official standard ink.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half Pints.
Counties, . . . {	1 old.	214 old.	12 old.	—
	3 new.	316 new.	24 new.	—
Cities, . . . {	31 old.	353 old.	140 old.	12 old.
	14 new.	413 new.	198 new.	48 new.
Towns, . . . {	4 old.	82 old.	102 old.	54 old.
	11 new.	89 new.	277 new.	354 new.
Totals, . . .	64	1,467	753	468

The receipts from these sales amounted to $1,069.09, as against $551.72 in 1896.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions, 7 gallons, 254 quarts, 90 pints and 27 half-pints.

ROLLS OF COLONIAL FORCES IN THE LOUISBURG EXPEDITION.

By chapter 16 of the Resolves of 1897, the Secretary of the Commonwealth was instructed to ascertain and report to the General Court whether or not there are in existence in England rolls of the Fifth Massachusetts Colonial Regiment, and of all the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of the year 1745, and whether or not certified copies of such rolls can be obtained, and the cost of obtaining the same.

In the performance of this duty, I addressed a letter to the State Department at Washington, requesting that the proper inquiry might be made through the regular official channels, deeming that course to be more effectual than any other. The following letters from Ambassador Hay to the State Department, and from Mr. B. F. Stevens, United States Despatch Agent at London, to Ambassador Hay, fully show the result of this quest.

It seems to be established that the desired rolls are not to be found in England, but there is a possibility of their discovery in Halifax, and it is suggested that action be taken by the General Court for a search in that direction. It has been supposed by some that copies of these rolls, or possibly the rolls themselves, are in the possession of the Massachusetts Historical Society; but I am informed by the librarian, Hon. Samuel A. Green, that the society has only a few scattering rolls, which appear among the papers of Sir William Pepperell, and which that society intends to publish in the near future.

[COPY NO. 140.]

The Honorable JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State.

SIR:—Referring to your Instruction No. 233 of the 21st ultimo, enclosing a copy of a letter from the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, together with a copy of a Resolve of the General Court of that State, relative to the records of the colonial forces of Massachusetts engaged in the Louisburg expedition of the year 1745, I have the honor to enclose herewith a copy of a letter from Mr. B. F. Stevens, the United States despatch agent at London, to whom the matter was referred as an expert on such subjects, setting forth exhaustively and fully the result of his investigations, which it is hoped may be of value to Mr. Olin.

It will be observed that Mr. Stevens states, in his letter above mentioned, that every facility and information was afforded him by the officers of the record office in his careful search among the documents of the colonial, admiralty, audit and war offices, and, though his search for the desired rolls was unsuccessful, he nevertheless obtained certain collateral information as to the colonial forces engaged in this expedition; and I have the honor of transmitting herewith a copy (in pencil) of the register of the commissions in the army under the command of Colonel Pepperell for an expedition against the French settlements at Cape Breton, giving the names of the officers of the forces sent out by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut, that captured Louisburg on the seventeenth day of June, 1745, which came enclosed in Mr. Stevens' letter already referred to.

I am convinced that no fuller information could be obtained through an application to the foreign office upon the subject than that contained in Mr. Stevens' enclosed report.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN HAY.

Enclosures: 1, a copy of a letter, Mr. Stevens to Mr. Hay, Oct. 5, 1897;
2, a copy of a register, as above.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT DESPATCH AGENCY,
4 TRAFALGAR SQ., W. C., LONDON, OCT. 5, 1897.

HIS Excellency JOHN HAY, United States Ambassador,
U. S. Embassy, 123 Victoria Street, S. W.

SIR: — I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt on the 2d instant of your request to me to ascertain and report whether or not there are in existence in England rolls of the Fifth Massachusetts Colonial Regiment, and of all the colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition in the year 1745, and whether or not certified copies of such rolls can be obtained, and the cost of obtaining the same. I respectfully report that: —

1. It is assumed that, if such rolls exist in England, they would be in Her Majesty's public record office.

Many historical students, American and English, as also many of the record office officials, have within the last score of years searched for the rolls of the colonial forces, soldiers and sailors, engaged in the 1745 Louisburg expedition, without finding them.

3. I have now carefully searched among the documents of the colonial, the admiralty and the war offices, and of the audit office, on the chance of finding that the rolls had been used as vouchers there. Every facility and information was afforded to me by the officers at the record office, but I regret to add that my search was not successful.

4. In the absence of the desired rolls, I have sought for collateral information as to the colonial forces engaged in this expedition. There are four thin books in the audit office, unique of their kind, giving the skeleton "establishment" of the Cape Breton forces in 1745-48. The number of men is given, but not the names, and it seems that the Georgian Rangers were Shirley's Regiment, or the main colonial regiment of the period. It is evident that the colonial force is not included in the imperial establishment.

5. Among the colonial office papers is a register of the commissions in the army under the command of the Hon. William Pepperell for an expedition against the French settlement at Cape Breton. This register gives the names of the officers of the forces sent out by Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut, that captured Louisburg, June 17, 1745.

I respectfully enclose copy of this register. This copy is made in pencil, as the use of ink is not allowed in the public reading-room of the record office.

6. There was another Louisburg expedition in 1758, but this has not been a subject of the present search.

7. Mr. Douglas Brymer, the official archivist of the Canadian government, Ottawa, some three or four years ago felt considerable hope that he would find some 1745 Louisburg papers among the Halifax archives ; but I have never heard any definite results, if any, of his searches there.

I am quite aware that I have exceeded your instructions in going further than to look for rolls, but if this information is thought to be useful, I shall be a willing recipient of seven dollars for my search and report.

I have the honor to be, etc.,

B. F. STEVENS.

THE COAT-OF-ARMS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

There is now in the hands of the artist, nearly completed, a drawing of the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth, the first of an official character ever made. I expect to be able to submit it for formal approval and adoption by the General Court at its present session ; and I recommend the passage of an act requiring strict conformity to this design in the use of the coat-of-arms and the seal of the Commonwealth on all official documents, and prohibiting the use of such coat-of-arms or seal, or any representation thereof, for any other than official purposes. This suggestion is in accord with the sentiment which holds the flag of the country too sacred for commercial use, and which, it seems to me, requires that the emblem of the Commonwealth should be held in equal respect.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 398 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 2,139 licenses. Of this number, 394 were for the State, 737 for counties, 690 for cities and towns and 318 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

There were also issued 929 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — an increase of 23 as compared with the previous year; and 58 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — an increase of 4.

Two licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 223 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 74, as compared with 1896. Returns were received at this office covering 204 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 11 to the Attorney-General for his information, 5 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 6 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 19 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of the election act of 1893 and of chapter 242 of the Acts of 1895, relative to statements of election expenses, 131 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is a decrease of 121 in the number of returns received in 1896.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamations, about 2,300 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1897 was 37; requisitions upon other States, 41; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 13; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 22; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, the returns of 1,054 cases of insolvent debtors (an increase of 194 over 1896) were received during the year from the several registers of probate and insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 4,318 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1896, an increase of 1,786, as compared with the returns for 1895. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1897 was received and filed Jan. 20, 1898.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1896 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of April 2, 1897.

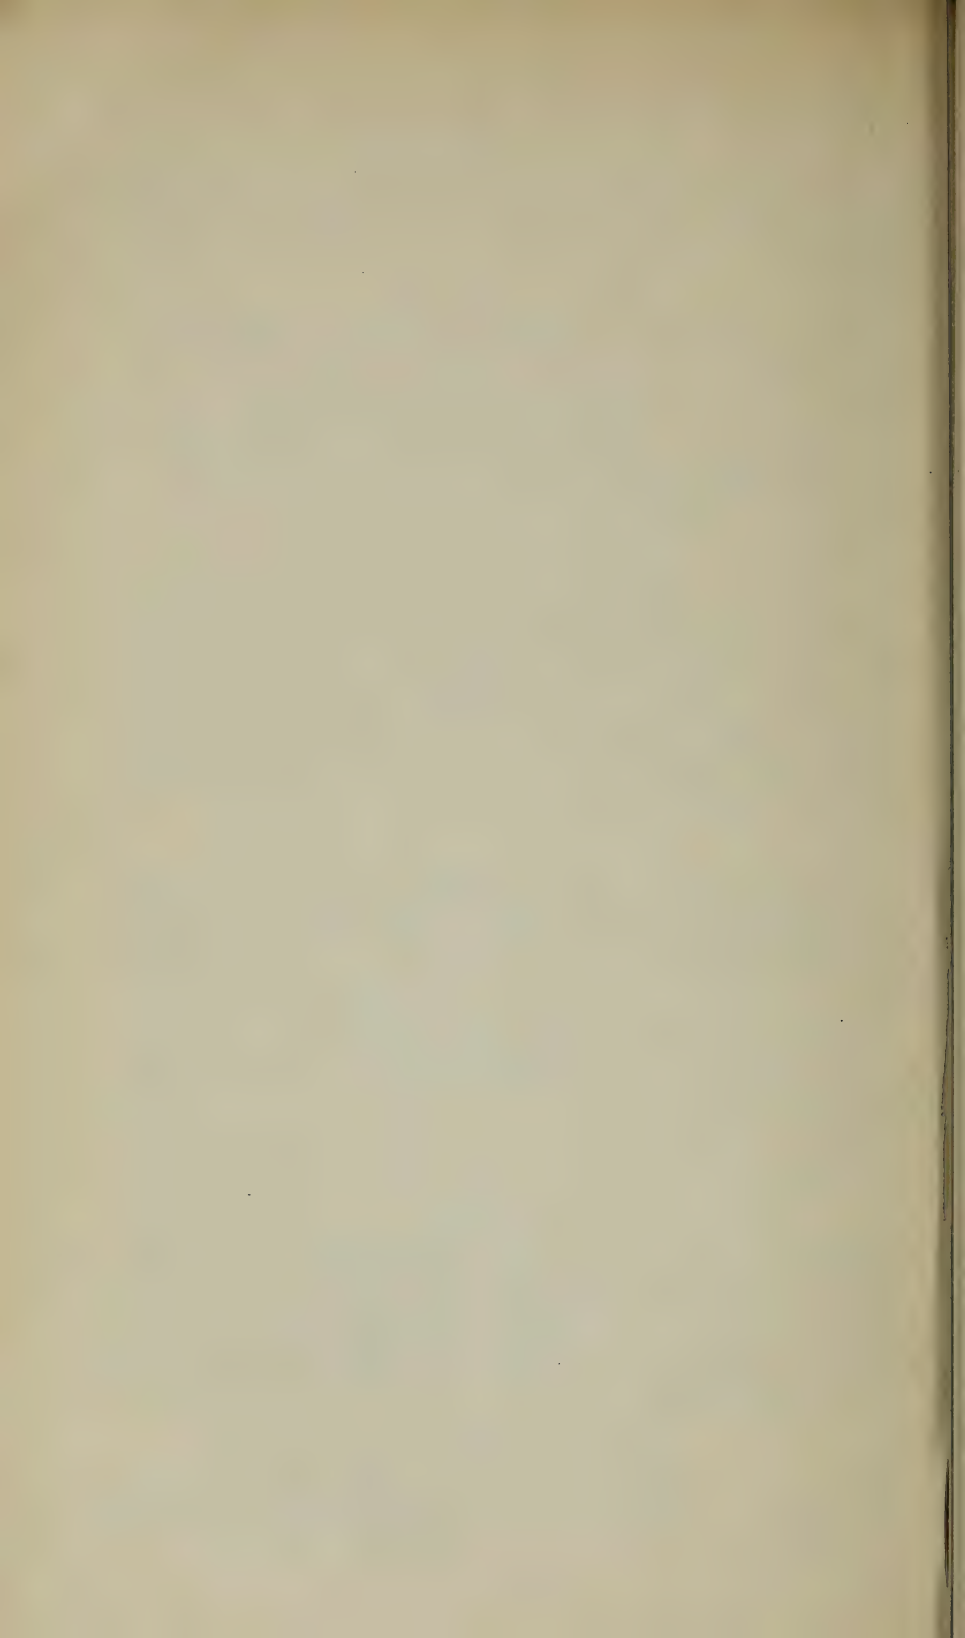

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 31, 1899.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with section 2 of chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the seventh annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1898. Accompanying this report are the sheriffs' returns and the returns of liquor licenses. As stated in my report of last year, the returns of registers of deeds, which formerly appeared with this report, are no longer made to the Secretary, the act requiring such returns having been repealed by chapter 443 of the Acts of 1896.

In addition to the duties previously assigned to this office, the Legislature of 1898 instructed the Secretary to ascertain and report whether or not there are in existence in Halifax, Nova Scotia, rolls of the Massachusetts colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of 1745 (chapter 49 of the Resolves); and also, jointly with the Treasurer and the Auditor, to examine voting machines. Reports on these duties are elsewhere made.

The regular work of the office has increased, as in former years, but has been performed without addition to the clerical force.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $60,964.87, and were from the following sources:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$10,010 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	22,313 12
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	40 00
Licenses, . . . . .	17,553 50
Sale of early laws, blank books, etc., . . . . .	5,804 65
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	1,866 00
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	380 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates, . . . . .	$633 75
{ Revolutionary Records, . . . . .	1,183 00
{ Copies, . . . . .	1,180 85
	<hr/>
	2,997 60
	$60,964 87

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $39,273, of which $1,460 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,787.48.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,399 (an increase over 1897 of 61), of which 397 were without fee. The different classes were as follows:—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,387
Notaries public, . . . . .	564
Supervisors of election, . . . . .	112
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	108
Associate medical examiners, . . . . .	48
Medical examiners, . . . . .	26
District police, . . . . .	21
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	20
Commissioners in other States, . . . . .	19
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	12
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	12
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	10
Special commissioners, . . . . .	10
Public administrators, . . . . .	10
Trial justices, . . . . .	8
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	8
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	8
Associate justices, superior court, . . . . .	4
Supervisors of registration, . . . . .	4
Commissioners of wrecks and shipwrecked goods, . . . . .	2
Pilots, . . . . .	2
Associate justice, supreme judicial court, . . . . .	1
Judge, court of registration, . . . . .	1
Assistant judge, court of registration, . . . . .	1
Recorder, court of registration, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 2,948 were issued (a decrease of 56 over 1897), of which 413 were without fee.

Evidence has reached this office that certain justices of the peace have abused the authority which the statute grants them to solemnize marriages. Advertisements have appeared from time to time in newspapers, of which the following are examples:—

Attention: Marriages performed privately, days, evenings, also Sundays, justice of the peace.

Marriages performed, privacy guaranteed, day or evening, by appointment, charges reasonable.

The persons thus advertising have been sought out and requested to discontinue such practice, but advertisements of the same character continue to appear. To prevent this evil, I suggest the passage of an act depriving justices of the peace of their authority to solemnize marriages, excepting a limited number of justices, to be designated for the purpose by the Governor.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 463 (a decrease from 1897 of 45), classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	231
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . .	174
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404), . . . . .	32
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1894, chapter 367, and Acts of 1898, chapter 474), . . . . .	11
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), . .	11
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522), . . .	2
Roman Catholic Bishop of Springfield (under Acts of 1898, chapter 368), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,061 (an increase of 56). Of these, 2,219 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 231 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 174 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 220 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 18 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 966 (an increase of 11), of which 848 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 15 other classes.

There were issued 17 certificates of change of name of corporations (a decrease of 1).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 36 corporations by the supreme judicial court (the same number as in 1897).

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused applicants in 6 cases, and there was 1 withdrawal by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 40 were filed and recorded (a decrease from 1897 of 2).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (which repealed chapter 443, Acts of 1893, as amended by chapter 285 of the Acts of 1894), entitled "An Act to protect manufacturers from the use of counterfeit labels and stamps", the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertising were received and certificates of record issued in 188 cases (an increase of 67).

By reason of an opinion rendered by the Attorney-General, this office has been obliged to decline to receive for record, under the law above cited, forms of advertisement which have not been or are not intended to be appropriated to some class of merchandise. To illustrate: a voluntary association of persons have by their skill — say in orchestral music — built up a reputation for efficiency in such line of business, to the extent that a particular name or form of advertisement is adopted, by which the association is known to its customers and under which name or form of advertisement patronage is solicited; but another association of persons, competitors, observing that the association first referred to is doing a good business under an established form of advertisement, appropriates such form of advertisement to its own use in the same line of business, thereby misleading the public and causing injury and loss of patronage to the originators thereof. It seems fitting that the originator of a form of advertisement of the character referred to above should be afforded protection in his rights in the same manner as the owner of a form of advertisement which is appropriated to merchandise only is protected. I therefore recommend that chapter 462 of the Acts of 1895 be so amended as to permit the record in this office of forms of advertisement not limited in their application to merchandise only.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages", it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 54 such descriptions were received and filed (an increase of 16).

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1897, which were received in 1898, cover 73,205 births, 23,038 marriages and 47,419 deaths, — a total of 143,662. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1896, of 862 births, and a decrease of 613 marriages and 1,962 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,279 cases, — a decrease of 127, as compared with the returns for 1896.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1897 number 1,610, being the same number of cases as returned for 1896.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the fifty-fifth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

One thousand six hundred and seventy-two certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued during the year 1898 (651 of births, 701 of marriages and 320 of deaths), principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

The number of persons who consulted the returns during the year was 2,801, or an average of 233 monthly.

ARCHIVES.

The work of improving the condition and accessibility of the archives has progressed steadily during the past year. Eighteen volumes of Revolutionary Rolls and twenty-one volumes of Continental Army Pay Accounts have been remounted and rebound, and one new volume of collected military papers has been treated, bound, and added to the regular collection. The necessary work of remounting and rebinding the Revolutionary Rolls collection is now nearly complete, but there still remain a number of new volumes to be treated, bound and added to the regular series, and considerable work is required on the regular archives series and the French and Indian war muster rolls.

There have been various interruptions in the work of making a card record index of the French and Indian war records during the year, owing to the illness of clerks and the necessity of shifting them to relieve temporary pressure in other branches of the office; nevertheless, 52,242 record index cards have been written since Jan. 1, 1898, which, with the 78,989 cards previously written, gives a total of 131,231. The work is now substantially completed, there remaining only a few scattered documents in the series of volumes that would not fit with any of the regular forms of cards. All the cards have been reviewed as the work progresses, and have been arranged alphabetically under the first letter of the surnames, so that searches can now be made to a considerable extent without reference to the old catalogues or indexes, and with an immense saving in point of time. It is expected that by the first of April of the present year all military service records among the archives from the year 1710 to the close of the Revolutionary war will be available in the card record index form. In searching for records of service prior to 1710, it is still necessary to use the old catalogue to the manuscript collection, and the separate volume indexes to the military series and other volumes. The next step, therefore, will be to make a card record index of all military records from 1628 to 1710.

The insufficiency of the space assigned to the archives grows more and more apparent year after year, and it will be necessary soon for the Legislature to provide more ample quarters, unless valuable papers are simply to be stowed away.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1898, in the Public Document series (numbering sixty-one different reports), 194,650 volumes, — an increase of 12,000 over 1897. Of this number, 123,150 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 10,500 copies of the Blue Book, 10,000 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 1,359 copies of the term reports, and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of the Early Laws; 1,500 Massachusetts Special Laws (volume 17); 1,000 copies Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War (Vol. IV.); 12,300 copies of Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation; 4,500 copies Centennial of the Bulfinch Front; 500 copies History of the Fifteenth Regiment Massachusetts Volunteer Infantry; 5,500 copies Census of Massachusetts, 1895 (Vol. V.); 7,000 copies of the Election Act; 2,000 copies of the Report of the Commission appointed to inquire into the Expediency of revising and amending the Laws of the Commonwealth relating to Taxation; 3,000 copies of the Report of the Special Committee appointed to investigate the Relations between Cities and Towns and Street Railway Companies (House, No. 475); 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; and 1,250 copies of the Supplementary Report of the Commissioners of Savings Banks, relating to unclaimed deposits, — making a grand total of 211,459 volumes which passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 9,103 over 1897.

The demand for Blue Books still exceeds the supply. Calls for extra copies come chiefly from members of the Legislature, and I suggest an increase of the present edition to such number as the Legislature may determine to be sufficient.

There are on hand about 400 copies of "Massachusetts in the Army and Navy, 1861-65" (two volumes), edited by Colonel Higginson, held for sale under the provisions of chapter 62 of the Resolves of 1895. The demand from purchasers is small, — the sales during the past year being only seven volumes; that is to say, three sets and a half. There are, however, many requests for the book from libraries and historical societies having small funds, or none at all, where it would be of service. It is my opinion that unless these books shall be distributed otherwise than by sale, most of them are likely to remain on our shelves for an indefinite period; and I therefore recommend the passage of a resolve assigning 200 copies for distribution at the discretion of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

During the year a history of the famous Fifteenth Massachusetts Regiment, commanded at one time by Gen. Charles Devens and later by Gen. John W. Kimball, now Auditor of Accounts, has been published, under the auspices of the Regimental Association, in accordance with chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893, and 500 copies were purchased by this office, with the approval of the Governor and Council. I am informed that the history of another famous Massachusetts regiment, the Nineteenth, is in process of compilation, and may appear during 1899.

I am also informed that a history of the Sixth Massachusetts in the late war against Spain is to be written, and it seems quite probable that others may follow. It is fair to presume that Massachusetts desires to extend to the volunteers of 1898 the same encouragement which she gave to the volunteers of '61 to '65 to make an enduring record of their patriotic service; and I therefore recommend the passage of an act relative to histories of Massachusetts regiments which served in the war against Spain, similar to that relating to histories of regiments of Massachusetts volunteers during the war of the rebellion.

STATE PRINTING.

As supervisor of State printing, under the provisions of the act of 1893, I have inspected the State printing office from time to time, and exercised a general supervision of the work. It should be understood that, in addition to this general oversight by the Secretary, all bills for printing are carefully examined, and the printed matter measured by an expert in the employ of the Auditor. The largest item of expense was that for the series of Public Documents, — $60,082.41, — a decrease of $6,430.47 over last year. The greatest cost for a single report was for that of the Board of Agriculture, — $5,742.69, — a reduction of over $300 over last year. The Board of Health comes next in cost, — $3,890.70, — a reduction of more than $500 over last year. The smallest item was for the report of the Hospital for Consumptives, $12.69.

The Blue Book cost $7,101.98, — an increase of about $900 over the previous year, and the Manual $2,835.94, — substantially the same as last year. The official ballot cost $6,961.44. The total cost of House printing in 1898 was $14,429.52, exclusive of the House Journal, which cost $1,353.78. The Senate printing amounted to $5,818.76, exclusive of the Journal, which cost $1,172.85. Both the Senate and House printing cost considerably more than during the previous year.

There has been a very large demand for the Bradford History, and four editions have been printed: the first, 6,200 copies; the second, 4,500; the third, 600; and the fourth, 1,000 copies. The number of copies sold was 1,866, at one dollar each.

Under the provisions of chapter 258 of the Acts of 1896, as amended by chapter 243 of 1897, the Secretary and the Auditor have authorized illustrations amounting to $2,830. The greatest expense was for the report of the Metropolitan Park Commission, $500.

EARLY LAWS.

The publication of the Acts and Resolves of the General Court from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, authorized by chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889, will be completed with the issuing of volume 13, now in press. Each of the volumes contains the legislation, civil lists, addresses, etc., for two legislative years. In the preparation of this work great care has been taken to make it full and complete, and the volumes have been indexed with especial care.

RECORD INK.

There is little to be said regarding the record ink beyond what has already been said in these reports. I have heard, indirectly, of dissatisfaction with the ink now furnished, and

I observe that the Controller of County Accounts alludes, in his annual report to the Legislature, to such complaints on the part of county officers. All such complaints should be presented to this office, specifying the particular points on which complaint is made. A prompt investigation will follow in every case. Less than half a dozen such complaints have been presented to this office, and all have been investigated, with the same result; that is to say, the discovery of the fact that the trouble was attributable, not to the quality of the ink, but to the non-observance of the rules for its proper use. In this connection I beg to refer to the comments of Record Commissioner Robert T. Swan upon this subject, in his last annual report to the Legislature. As Mr. Swan has given the matter careful attention, his remarks are entitled to special consideration.

	Gallons.	Quarts.	Pints.	Half Pints.
Counties, . . . . .	3	475	48	24
Cities, . . . . .	35	813	243	64
Towns, . . . . .	12	107	203	205
	50	1,395	494	293

The receipts for these sales amounted to $714.10, as against $1,069.09 in 1897.

There have been issued free to State officers, boards and commissions 9 gallons, 177 quarts, 30 pints and 12 half-pints.

Reference may be made, in this connection, to the proposed use of typewriters in making public records. Much useful information concerning this matter is presented in the last annual report of the Commissioner of Public Records, to which the attention of the Legislature is called. In view of the advantages in speed and legibility offered by the latest improved typewriting processes, the subject of authorizing the use of such methods on public records is commended to the consideration of the Legislature; but care should be taken to prevent the use of any but permanent inks for such use.

I suggest also that this matter be placed in the hands of the Commissioner of Public Records, together with that of supplying standard record ink, now in charge of this office. I make this recommendation partly because the subject is directly in the line of the special duty of the Commissioner of Public Records, and partly because it will be an appreciable relief to this office, already overburdened with matters of detail.

In examining the manuscript copies of the Acts and Resolves, I find that a considerable number of acts, notably those of 1851, were written with ink which is even now almost wholly faded out. Curiously enough, one of the worst examples is chapter 161 of the Acts of 1851, entitled "An Act for the better preservation of municipal and other records." This act provides that it shall be duty of county commissioners, city governments and selectmen of towns to provide for the particular security and preservation of all the records of their respective counties, cities and towns; and in cases where, from any cause, such records may become worn, mutilated or illegible, they shall have a fair copy seasonably taken by competent and skillful transcribers, to be preserved in like manner as the originals, the same to be certified as true copies by the county, city or town clerk. The substance of this act survives in chapter 439 of 1897. It is apparent that such legislation should apply also to the records of the Commonwealth, and I recommend that such action be taken at the present session.

ROLLS OF COLONIAL FORCES IN THE LOUISBURG EXPEDITION.

By chapter 49 of the Resolves of 1898 the Secretary of the Commonwealth was authorized and instructed to ascertain and report to the General Court whether or not there are in existence in Halifax, Nova Scotia, rolls of the Massachusetts colonial forces engaged in the Louisburg expedition of the year 1745. To carry out these instructions I visited Halifax personally, and through the courtesy of the Hon. George H. Murray, Provincial Secretary, was enabled to examine the archives in the Provincial Building. I found there several manuscript volumes relating to this expedition, but they were copies of letters and papers the originals of which are in the British Record Office in London, which have already been examined by Mr. B. F. Stevens of the United States Government Despatch Agency, as set forth in my last annual report. I examined five letters from Sir William Pepperell to the Duke of Newcastle, two letters from Sir William Pepperell and Commodore Warren to the Duke of Newcastle, twelve letters from Governor Shirley to the Duke of Newcastle, one from Governor Shirley to Major Aldridge, and one letter from Sir William Pepperell to Governor Shirley. In one of the letters of Sir William Pepperell to the Duke of Newcastle, dated Louisburg, June 28, 1745, occurs the following passage: "I have now the honor to enclose to Your Grace an account of what troops were raised in each of his Majesty's government in New England which were aiding in this expedition, and the present state of them." The hopes raised by this passage were disappointed by failure to find any copy or trace of the account referred to.

It is greatly to be deplored that full rolls of the men who took part in this expedition cannot be obtained. They rendered heroic service, and encountered hardships and privations which decimated their little band in an appalling manner. In a joint letter to the Duke of Newcastle, dated Jan. 18, 1746, Pepperell and Warren say: "Out of a number of about 2,470 alive at the time of Mr. Shirley's departure [which was Nov. 27, 1745] we have buried near 500 men and have near 1,100 sick." In a letter to the Duke of Newcastle, dated Louisburg, June 2, 1746, Warren says: "We have buried near 2,000 men since we have been in possession of this place, owing greatly to the want of necessaries."

THE COAT-OF-ARMS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Since my last report the official drawing of the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth has been finished, framed and hung in the office of the Secretary. It was adopted and declared official by chapter 519 of the Acts of 1898, by which all designs of the coat-of-arms for official use are required to conform strictly to the official representation. A new great seal of the Commonwealth has been engraved, and is now in use.

I renew my recommendation of last year for the passage of an act prohibiting the use of the coat-of-arms or seal of the Commonwealth for other than official purposes.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 375 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,885 licenses. Of this number, 316 were for the State, 652 for counties, 642 for cities and towns and 275 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

There were also issued 850 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — a decrease of 79, as compared with the previous year; and 62 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — an increase of 4.

Two licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890. The number of transfers of licenses was 175.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 327 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 104, as compared with 1897. Returns were received at this office covering 295 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 46 to the Attorney-General for his information, 11 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 35 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 32 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 548, Acts of 1898, relative to statements of election expenses, 164 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is an increase of 33 in the number of returns received in 1897.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamations, about 2,400 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1898 was 38; requisitions upon other States, 37; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 9; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 14; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, the returns of 586 cases of insolvent debtors were received during the year from the several registers of probate and insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

An act of Congress, chapter 541, approved July 1, 1898, entitled "An Act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States", which took effect upon its passage, renders said section 143 inoperative.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,519 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1897, — a decrease of 1,799, as compared with the returns for 1896. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1898 was received and filed Jan. 11, 1899.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1897 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of Feb. 1, 1898.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 26, 1900.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with section 2 of chapter 262 of the Acts of 1892, the eighth annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1899. Accompanying this report are the sheriffs' returns and the returns of liquor licenses.

In addition to the duties previously assigned to this office, the Secretary was made, by chapter 475 of the Acts of 1899, a member of a commission on the publication of a record of Massachusetts troops and officers, sailors and marines in the war of the rebellion. He was also authorized to renew the contract for the publication of decisions of the supreme judicial court, and directed to send to cities and towns lists of justices of the peace designated to solemnize marriages.

Notwithstanding the gradual increase of the regular work of the office, no addition has been made to the clerical force.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $62,966.42, and were from the following sources:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$9,905 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	24,718 00
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	42 00
Licenses, . . . . .	20,452 50
Sale of early laws, etc., . . . . .	2,169 47
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	2,862 00
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	466 00
Miscellaneous, { Certificates, . . . . .	$677 25
{ Revolutionary Records, . . . . .	917 00
{ Copies, . . . . .	757 20
	<hr/>
	2,351 45
	$62,966 42

These fees, which exceed those of 1898 by about $2,000, were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for salaries were $38,279.21, of which $1,213.34 was for the publication of the early laws. The incidental expenses of the office were $4,056.80.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,278 (a decrease from 1898 of 121), of which 369 were without fee. The different classes were as follows:—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,291
Notaries public, . . . . .	534
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	114
Justices of the peace to solemnize marriages, . . . . .	112
Supervisors of election, . . . . .	70
Commissioners in other States and Territories, . . . . .	24
Associate medical examiners, . . . . .	19
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	18
Special commissioners, . . . . .	15
Clerks, municipal, district and police courts, . . . . .	14
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	13
District police, . . . . .	12
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	8
Trial justices, . . . . .	8
Medical examiners, . . . . .	8
Public administrators, . . . . .	4
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	3
Registers, probate and insolvency, . . . . .	2
Commissioners to qualify, . . . . .	2
Chief justice, supreme judicial court, . . . . .	1
Associate justice, supreme judicial court, . . . . .	1
Judge, probate and insolvency, . . . . .	1
Sheriff, . . . . .	1
Commissioner in foreign country, . . . . .	1
Physician, Massachusetts Reformatory, . . . . .	1
Superintendent, Reformatory Prison for Women, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 3,078 were issued (an increase of 130 over 1898), of which 369 were without fee.

The act passed by the Legislature of 1899, upon a recommendation in the last annual report of this office, to limit the authority to solemnize marriages to such justices of the peace as may be designated for the purpose by the Governor, appears to have been as effective as could reasonably be expected, and the abuse of the power to solemnize marriages has thereby received a most salutary check. Of the 112 designations by the Governor under the act, one has been revoked for cause.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 484 (an increase over 1898 of 21), classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	256
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . .	177
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404), . . . . .	25
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1898, chapter 474, and Acts of 1899, chapter 442), . . . . .	6
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), .	18
Co-operative bank (under Public Statutes, chapter 117), . . . .	1
Library (under Public Statutes, chapter 40), . . . . .	1

Two certificates of incorporation were filed by Roman Catholic churches, under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,268 (an increase of 207). Of these, 2,314 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 256 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 177 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 302 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 17 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,016 (an increase of 49), of which 881 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations; and the remainder were divided among 13 other classes.

There were issued 19 certificates of change of name of corporations (an increase of 2).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 62 corporations by the supreme judicial court (an increase of 26).

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 5 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes. Charters were refused applicants in 2 cases, and there was 1 withdrawal by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 41 were filed and recorded (an increase over 1898 of 1).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895 (as amended by chapter 359 of the Acts of 1899), entitled "An Act relative to the registration and protection of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisements," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 235 cases (an increase of 47).

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 29 such descriptions were received and filed (a decrease of 25).

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1898, which were received in 1899, cover 73,110 births, 22,142 marriages and 46,761 deaths,

— a total of 142,013. This is a decrease, as compared with the returns for 1897, of 95 births, 896 marriages and 658 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,648 cases, — an increase of 369, as compared with the returns for 1897.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1898 number 1,843, being an increase of 233, as compared with the returns for 1897.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the fifty-seventh registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

ARCHIVES.

In the archives division the indexing of the French and Indian war records has been completed, and the French and Indian war muster rolls series, numbering nine volumes, together with fourteen volumes of the Revolutionary Rolls collection, have been treated, mounted and rebound by an expert, so that this entire set of manuscript books is now in excellent condition. The work of indexing will be pushed with all possible speed, being extended first to cover military records in the Narragansett war, the expedition to Quebec in 1690, and garrison service prior to 1710. The French and Indian war record index numbers 140,000 cards.

Vol. V. of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, covering all names between Dua and Foy, inclusive, has been published; and Vol. VI., covering all names between Fra and Gyp, inclusive, is in the hands of the binder, and will soon be issued. Vols. VII. and VIII. will appear during the present year.

The demand for certificates of Revolutionary service has fallen off in some degree, but the inquiries of historical students and of persons interested in research among the archives show no perceptible diminution.

In the registration room the total number of visitors during the year was 2,617, and certificates were issued as follows: births, 385; marriages, 528; deaths, 283.

There are in the archives eight original parchment acts, known as the Dongan acts, relating mainly to raising revenue or regulating excise. They belong properly to the State of New York, and their presence in our archives is probably due to some accident or oversight. This office has received from the Governor of New York a request for their return, and I recommend the passage of a resolve authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to comply with this request.

Attention is again called to the insufficiency of the space now assigned to the archives, and to the growing need of increased accommodations. I suggest that an appropriation be made for the construction of a gallery in room 332, in accordance with a plan originally proposed by the architects of the State House extension.

I renew my recommendation of last year for such legislation as will authorize the Secretary of the Commonwealth to cause copies to be made of acts, resolves or other records of the Commonwealth, in all cases where, from any cause, such records shall have become worn, mutilated or illegible. Such legislation exists with reference to records of counties, cities and towns, and there is immediate need of it for the proper preservation of some important parts of the records of the Commonwealth.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1899, in the Public Document series (numbering 62 different reports), 199,900 volumes, — an increase of 5,250 over 1898. Of this number, 124,975 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally. In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 12,000 copies of the Blue Book, 10,000 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 906 copies of the term reports, and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of the Early Laws, 1,000 copies Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War (Vol. V.), 6,200 copies of Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation, 500 copies of The '98 Campaign of the Sixth Massachusetts U. S. V., 11,000 copies Census of Massachusetts, 1895 (Vols. III. and VI.), 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections, and 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — making a grand total of 199,481 volumes which passed through the document division during the year.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

During the year a history of the service of the Sixth Massachusetts Infantry in the war against Spain was purchased and distributed under the act of 1899, extending the provisions of chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893 to organizations engaged in the war of 1898.

A history of the First Regiment Massachusetts Heavy Artillery has also been written, and will probably be purchased during the present year under the same act.

STATE PRINTING.

By virtue of an act of 1893, the Secretary of the Commonwealth is supervisor of State printing, and as such is responsible in a large degree for the proper execution of the State printing contract. The suggestion has often been made, and not without reason, that a great deal of matter appears in the annual reports, the omission of which would materially reduce the cost of printing without detriment to the public interest. Nevertheless, it is difficult to suggest a remedy in the form of a law.

The cost of printing the Public Document series was $60,-625.02, — an increase of $542.61 over last year. The greatest cost for a single report in the series was for that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,442.52, — a reduction of $300 over the previous year. The next in point of cost is the report of the Board of Health, $4,307.95, — an increase of about $400 over the previous year. The Blue Book cost $6,641.60, — a reduction of about $500 over the previous year; the Manual for the General Court, $2,823.07, — substantially the same as last year. The official ballot cost $6,914.85, — almost exactly the same as in 1898. The bill for Senate printing was $5,362.27, exclusive of the cost of the Senate Journal, which was $1,107.83. The House printing cost $15,009.52, exclusive of the House Journal, which cost $1,354.82. The Senate printing cost somewhat less, and the House printing somewhat more, than in 1898, but the total cost was substantially the same.

There is still an active demand for the Bradford History, 2,862 copies having been sold during the year. A special edition of 1,600 copies was printed for the New England Society in the City of New York, to be presented by that society to its members. Another special edition of 400 copies has been ordered by the New England Society in the City of Brooklyn.

Under the provisions of chapter 258 of the Acts of 1896, as amended by chapter 243 of the Acts of 1897, the Secretary and the Auditor have authorized illustrations amounting to $2,285, or about $600 less than in 1898. The greatest expense was for the report of the Metropolitan Park Commission, $450.

COMPLETION OF THE EARLY LAWS.

The thirteenth and concluding volume of the edition of Early Acts, publication of which was authorized by chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889, was finished in June last. The resolve before mentioned authorized the Secretary to cause "to be collated, indexed and published, in a style similar to that in which the blue books, so called, are now published, all the acts and resolves of the general court from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, together with such portion of the acts and resolves of that year as he may find necessary in order to make such publication complete to the time when full publication of the acts and resolves have already been made; and that in the numbering of the said acts and resolves the numbering hitherto adopted shall be followed as far as practicable." Under the foregoing authorization, 13 volumes of uniform size have been issued, each volume covering two legislative years, and the whole comprising all legislation passed between Oct. 25, 1780, the opening date of the first session of the General Court under the Constitution, and March 14, 1806, the date of prorogation of the General Court for the political year of 1805. Work was commenced under the resolve in 1889; but of necessity several months were taken up with the work of preparation, collecting session pamphlets for the entire period, etc., and the first volume was issued in 1890. The entire edition of thirteen volumes, covering twenty-six years of legislation, has therefore been completed within ten years, by the labor of an editor with a single assistant. The publication itself is not simply a reprint of the earlier editions, although the session pamphlets were used as a basis for printer's copy. The copy itself and every revise was compared and read by the original documents. The numbering of the acts as adopted and printed in the edition of General Laws, published in 1823, by Asahel Stearns and Lemuel Shaw, Commissioners for Revision of Laws, has been adhered to, although the former session number is given as well at the head of every chapter. The previous numbering of the resolves as given in the session pamphlets has been retained, as no other numbering has ever been adopted at any time. Strict construction of the direction of the resolve, that the publication should be "in a style similar to that in which the blue books, so called, are now published," was not observed, inasmuch as many things that do not now find place in the modern Blue Book were included in the volumes. The edition, therefore, contains much not printed in previous editions, as the following list will show: acts, 2; tax acts not printed in previous editions, but printed in separate pamphlets, 20; resolves, 34; orders of notice, etc., 328; addresses, messages, etc., 76.

THE COAT-OF-ARMS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

During the session of 1885 the committee on the judiciary made a report to the Legislature on the State seal. Since that time, as is well known, the coat-of-arms of the Commonwealth has been carefully drawn from the best data obtainable, and the representation thus made was formally adopted and declared official by the Legislature of 1898. In the course of this work a great deal of interesting and valuable matter was obtained, which, in my judgment, should be preserved by publication in some convenient and inexpensive form. I therefore recommend a small appropriation for the purpose of publishing and distributing a brief illustrated history of the seal of the Commonwealth, and especially of the official drawing of the coat-of-arms.

ENGROSSMENT OF BILLS AND RESOLVES.

I commend to the consideration of the General Court the subject of transferring the duty of engrossing bills and resolves from this office to that of a clerk or clerks who shall be under the immediate direction of the Legislature. At present, copy for engrossment is furnished to this office by officials of the Legislature, over whom of course the Secretary has no control, while the engrossment is done under the direction of the Secretary, over whom the officials of the Legislature have no control, — an arrangement obviously contrary to the best and most economical business method. I beg to add, however, that this suggestion is not to be regarded in the light of a complaint or as an indication of a desire to avoid any duty which the General Court may see fit to assign to this office.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 394 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,957 licenses. Of this number, 375 were for the State, 638 for counties, 621 for cities and towns and 323 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade. There were also issued 764 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — a decrease of 86, as compared with the previous year; and 60 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — a decrease of 2.

There were no State licenses issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890. The number of transfers of licenses was 149.

Soon after the close of the war of the rebellion an act was passed authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to grant special State or county licenses, without the payment of any fee therefor, to disabled Union soldiers or sailors belonging to this Commonwealth, upon satisfactory evidence that the disability was caused by wounds received or sickness contracted in the service of the United States. In view of the honorable and gallant service rendered by Massachusetts troops and sailors in the war against Spain, I recommend the passage of a similar act for the benefit of their disabled comrades and shipmates.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 279 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 48, as compared with 1898. Returns were received at this office covering 263 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 32 to the Attorney-General for his information, 12 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 20 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 16 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 548, Acts of 1898, relative to statements of election expenses, 98 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is a decrease of 66 in the number of returns received in 1898.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamations, about 2,400 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1899 was 28; requisitions upon other States, 29; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 15; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 33; permits for release from State Prison on parole, 2.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

No returns were received in 1899, as an act of Congress, chapter 541, approved July 1, 1898, entitled "An Act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," which took effect upon its passage, renders inoperative section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,330 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1898,—a decrease of 189, as compared with the returns for 1897. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1899 was received and filed.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1898 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of Feb. 23, 1899.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 481, — a decrease of 3, compared with 1899, — classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	239
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . . . .	206

One certificate of incorporation was filed by a Roman Catholic church, under Public Statutes, chapter 38, sections 48, 49 and 50.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,308, — an increase of 40. Of these, 2,382 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 239 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 228 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 216 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 19 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,194, — an increase of 178, — of which 1,035 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 14 certificates of change of name of corporations, — a decrease of 5.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 58 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — a decrease of 4.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused applicants in 5 cases, and there was 1 withdrawal by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 72 were filed and recorded, — an increase over 1899 of 31.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895, as amended by chapter 359 of the Acts of 1899, entitled “An Act relative to the registration and protection of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisements,” the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record.

Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 266 cases, — an increase of 31.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled “An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages,” it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 55 such descriptions were received and filed, — an increase of 26. Chapter 359, Acts of 1900, entitled “An Act to protect milk dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans and other receptacles,” was passed as a substitute for said chapter 440, Acts of 1893, so far as it relates to the protection of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars. Under this law 38 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1899, which were received in 1900, cover 70,457 births, 23,523 marriages and 47,710 deaths, — a total of 141,690. This is a decrease, as compared with the returns for 1898, of 2,653 births, and an increase of 1,381 marriages and 949 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,449 cases, — a decrease of 199, as compared with the returns for 1898.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1899 number 1,784, being a decrease of 59, as compared with the returns for 1898.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the fifty-seventh registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

There were received during the year, from the newly appointed city registrar of Boston, Mr. Edward W. McGlenen, 6,599 records of births, marriages and deaths, covering years from 1849 to 1898, which were on the city registrar's books but had not been sent to this office. These have been properly filed and indexed.

ARCHIVES.

In the archives division the work of making a thorough general index to the regular series of Massachusetts archives, including the recent additions, has been continued, and it is the intention to prosecute it to completion at as early a day as practicable. The time of clerks who would otherwise be employed on this index has been devoted to preparing for the press the records of "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War." Since the last report of this office, volumes VI. and VII. have been published. The last record in the latter volume is that of Seth Hixon. Volume VIII. will appear in March, and volume IX. before the close of the current year.

A considerable number of the bound volumes containing the earlier returns of vital statistics are in bad condition, and during the year about one hundred have been rebound and repaired. This work will be continued during the year, until the entire series shall have been placed in good order.

I quote the following three paragraphs from my report of last year, and earnestly request the attention of the Legislature thereto : —

There are in the archives eight original parchment acts, known as the Dongan acts, relating mainly to raising revenue or regulating excise. They belong properly to the State of New York, and their presence in our archives is probably due to some accident or oversight. This office has received from the Governor of New York a request for their return, and I recommend the passage of a resolve authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to comply with this request.

Attention is again called to the insufficiency of the space now assigned to the archives, and to the growing need of increased accommodations. I suggest that an appropriation be made for the construction of a gallery in room 332, in accordance with a plan originally proposed by the architects of the State House extension.

I renew my recommendation of last year for such legislation as will authorize the Secretary of the Commonwealth to cause copies to be made of acts, resolves or other records of the Commonwealth, in all cases where, from any cause, such records shall have become worn, mutilated or illegible. Such legislation exists with reference to records of counties, cities and towns, and there is immediate need of it for the proper preservation of some important parts of the records of the Commonwealth.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year 1900, in the Public Document series (numbering 64 different reports), 202,150 volumes, — an increase of 2,250 over 1899. Of this number, 126,400 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws, 12,000 copies of the Blue Book, 10,000 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 1,359 copies of the term reports and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies each of volumes VI. and VII., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, 500 copies History of the Ninth Massachusetts Volunteers, 1861-64, 500 copies of the First Massachusetts Volunteers, Heavy Artillery, 1898, 1,000 copies of Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation, 1,500 copies Opinions of Attorneys-General of Massachusetts (volume 1, 1891-98), 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections and 2,500 copies of Laws concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers, — making a grand total of 189,159 volumes which passed through the document division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

By virtue of an act of 1893, the Secretary of the Commonwealth is Supervisor of State Printing, and as such is responsible to a certain degree for the proper execution of the State printing contract.

The cost of printing the Public Document series in 1900 was $64,244.80, — an increase of $3,619.78 over last year. The greatest cost for a single report in the series was for that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,332.69, — a slight reduction over the previous year. Next in point of cost is the report of the Board of Health, $4,291.66, — also a slight reduction.

The Blue Book cost $6,374.79,—a decrease of about $300 over the previous year; the Manual for the General Court, $2,894.50. The Senate printing bill was $5,375.65, exclusive of the Senate Journal, which cost $1,157.19. The House printing cost $15,207.28, exclusive of the Journal, which cost $1,703.04. The official ballots cost $9,544.86.

The demand for the Bradford History continues, 1,065 copies having been sold during the year.

Under the provisions of chapter 258 of the Acts of 1896, as amended by chapter 243 of the Acts of 1897, the Secretary and the Auditor have authorized illustrations amounting to $2,623.87, or about $300 less than in 1899. The greatest expense was for the report of the Metropolitan Water Board, $475.

I respectfully recommend an increase in the edition of the annual report of the Massachusetts Highway Commission from 4,000 to 4,500 copies, and of the report of the trustees of the Massachusetts State Sanatorium from 1,500 to 2,500 copies.

I also recommend that authority be given for the printing of 1,000 extra copies of so much of the annual report of the State Board of Charity as relates to returns of certain charitable corporations, made to the Board under the provisions of chapter 259 of the Acts of 1899.

This office is in receipt of a communication from the Secretary of Porto Rico, requesting that the Massachusetts term reports may be sent to him, for the use of the government of Porto Rico. I recommend the passage of an act enabling the Secretary of the Commonwealth to comply with this request.

Complaint has been made again and again in the press and elsewhere that a considerable quantity of matter appears in the annual reports which might be omitted without detriment to the public interest; and the "blue-pencil" or "boiling-down" process has been urged as a much-needed remedy. This suggestion is directly in line with a provision of the public document act that the reports "shall be made as brief as may be without omitting any facts or information which the officers or departments making them are required by law to furnish therein;" and also with the act creating the dormant board of supervisors of statistics, whose duty it is to "prevent unnecessary work" in investigations, "simplify and abridge" statistical matter and prevent its duplication. It is clear that the volume and cost of these reports should bear some just and uniform relation to their practical utility and importance. A critical examination will show that such relation is not observed, nor is it likely to obtain except in the highly improbable event of a consensus of opinion among the numerous interested officials, who are now necessarily the judges of the value of their own reports. To bring about a more business-like condition is a task of peculiar difficulty and delicacy, requiring not only a comprehensive knowledge of the matter in hand, but sound judgment, careful discrimination and unfailing tact. The subject is commended to the careful consideration of the Legislature.

ENGROSSMENT OF BILLS AND RESOLVES.

I beg leave to refer to that portion of my last annual report which relates to the engrossment of bills and resolves, and renew my recommendation that this work be transferred from the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to that of a clerk, or clerks, under the immediate direction of the Legislature.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 389 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,891 licenses. Of this number, 345 were for the State, 584 for counties, 663 for cities and towns and 299 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade. There were also issued 684 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, — a decrease of 80, as compared with the previous year; and 57 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — a decrease of 3.

One itinerant vendor's State license was issued under the act of 1890.

The number of transfers of licenses was 133.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that an act be passed authorizing the issue of special licenses, without fee, to honorably discharged Massachusetts soldiers, sailors or marines who served in the war against Spain.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894), 335 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents,—an increase of 56, as compared with 1899. Returns were received at this office covering 295 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 24 to the Attorney-General for his information, 20 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the other 4 being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 40 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 548, Acts of 1898, relative to statements of election expenses, 467 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is an increase of 369 in the number of returns received in 1899.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,400 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1900 was 16; requisitions upon other States, 30; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 15; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 30; permit for release from State Prison on parole, 1; commutation of death sentence, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,164 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1899, — a decrease of 166, as compared with the returns for 1898. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1900 was received and filed Jan. 16, 1901.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1899 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of Feb. 20, 1900.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 21, 1902.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with section 10, chapter 5, Revised Laws, the tenth annual report of the transactions of this office, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1901, including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

The clerical force of the office remains substantially the same, although the constant growth of the work will soon necessitate an increase. In this connection I beg to call attention to a change in the law, which I am assured by the Commissioners on Consolidating and Arranging the Public Statutes was not intended, and which, in my opinion, should not continue. I refer to section 2, chapter 5, Revised Laws. As the law stood before, it provided that the Secretary of the Commonwealth might employ in his office three permanent clerks, at certain fixed salaries. He was also authorized to employ such additional clerks and other assistants as might be necessary for the despatch of public business, the maximum compensation, however, being $1,200 per annum, excepting that the present engrossing clerk and corporation clerk (they being men of exceptional experience and capacity) might receive $1,400. The Secretary was also authorized to appoint a cashier, for whose conduct he should be accountable. The compensation of this officer was not fixed, but an annual appropriation of $1,500 was made therefor. It will be observed that in the Revised Laws the offices of engrossing clerk and corporation clerk have been created, making the number of permanent clerks five instead of three, and the salary of each fixed at $1,400 a year; whereas under the former law they were employed as extra clerks, paid out of the appropriation therefor, and $1,400 fixed as their maximum compensation. On the other hand, the cashier, whose office was created by statute, with a salary unlimited except by the amount of the annual appropriation, has been placed in the category of extra clerks with the limitation of $1,200 a year.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $63,488.42, and were from the following sources: —

Receipts in the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the Year ending Dec. 31, 1901.

Commissions, . . . . .	$10,220 00
Corporations certificates, . . . . .	28,071 35

	2,032 65
Total, . . . . .	<hr/>
	$63,488 42

These fees, which were about $3,500 more than in 1900, were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by section 1, chapter 5, Revised Laws.

The expenses for salaries were $37,305.57. The incidental expenses of the office were $3,499.07, — a small increase in both items over 1900.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,364, — an increase of 83 over the number issued in 1900. Of these, 320 were without fee, and 85 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commissions or to qualify thereunder. The different classes were as follows : —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,325
Notaries public, . . . . .	631
Supervisors of election, . . . . .	108
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	103
Justices of the peace to solemnize marriages, . . . . .	33

Port wardens, . . . . .	2
Inspector and Assayer of Liquors, . . . . .	1
Inspector-General of Lumber, . . . . .	1
Pilot, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 3,162 were issued, — an increase of 36 over 1900, — of which 480 were without fee.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 523, — an increase of 42, compared with 1900, — classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 106, section 21), . . . . .	254
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc, corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 115, section 4), . . . . .	204
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chapter 404), . . . . .	26
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1899, chapter 442, and Acts of 1900, chapter 422), . . . . .	8
Street railway corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 113), . . . . .	17

Steam railroad corporations (under Public Statutes, chapter 112), . . .	2
Co-operative banks (under Public Statutes, chapter 117), . . . . .	3
Assessment insurance companies (under Acts of 1890, chapter 421), . . .	8
Mutual insurance company (under Acts of 1894, chapter 522), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,366, — an increase of 58. Of these, 2,410 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 254 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 204 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 244 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among 20 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,303, — an increase of 109, — of which 1,134 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 13 other classes.

There were issued 21 certificates of change of name of corporations, — an increase of 7.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 69 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — an increase of 11.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused applicants in 6 cases, and there was 1 withdrawal by the parties originally making the application for incorporation.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 58 were filed and recorded, — a decrease, compared with 1900, of 14.

Under the present law relative to clubs, a club charter cannot be revoked except upon conviction of exposing and keeping for sale or selling intoxicating liquors, or of illegal gaming upon the club premises. Cases are common in which charters are found in club rooms upon which police raids have been made, and where there was abundant evidence that gambling was in progress; but the guilty parties having fled, convictions were impossible, and the charters remained undisturbed.

I recommend that the law be so changed as to authorize the Secretary to revoke the charter of a club upon whose premises evidence of illegal traffic in intoxicating liquors or of illegal gaming shall be found, upon a report to that effect from the police authorities of the city or town in which the club is located.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 462, Acts of 1895, as amended by chapter 359 of the Acts of 1899, entitled "An Act relative to the registration and protection of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisements," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 299 cases, — an increase of 33.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 14 such descriptions were received and filed, — a decrease of 41. Chapter 359, Acts of 1900, entitled "An Act to protect milk dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans and other receptacles," was passed as a substitute for said chapter 440, Acts of 1893, so far as it relates to the protection of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars. Under this law 23 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed, — a decrease of 15.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1900, which were received in 1901, cover 73,386 births, 24,342 marriages and 51,156 deaths, — a total of 148,884. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1899, of 2,929 births, 819 marriages and 3,446 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns for 1900 cover 2,632 cases, —an increase of 183, as compared with the returns for 1899.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1900 number 1,413, being a decrease of 371, as compared with the returns for 1899.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the fifty-eighth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

I respectfully call attention to section 22, chapter 29, Revised Laws, which provides that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the returns of vital statistics received by him for each year to be bound, with index thereto, and that he "shall tabulate the subject-matter and make report thereof annually to the General Court." This language is a departure from that of the statute upon which section 22 of the Revised Laws is based, which provided that the Secretary shall prepare from these returns "such tabular results as will render them of practical utility," thus prescribing a limit, the removal of which I find upon inquiry to have been unintentional, and the restoration of which I recommend.

ARCHIVES.

In the archives division the work of indexing has been continued, but so much of the time of the clerks has been employed on the publication of the records of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, in answering inquiries by mail and assisting visitors engaged in searching for historical matter, that comparatively little progress has been made. Two volumes of the book referred to have been completed during the year, —volume VIII., comprising all names between the letters HME and JYP, which was finished in April, and volume IX., comprising all names between the letters KAB and LSU, which was finished in December, and will soon be issued from the press.

One hundred and forty-five volumes of registration returns have been rebound, and this necessary work will be continued during the coming year.

Certificates of births, marriages and deaths were issued to the number of 914. The fees received for these certificates amounted to only $13.50, most of the certificates being for use in pension cases, for which no charge has been made.

In accordance with a recommendation in my last annual report, the Legislature of 1901 passed a resolve authorizing the return of the Dongan Acts, so called, to the State of New York. These acts, eight in number, engrossed on parchment, have been returned, and their receipt duly acknowledged by the proper authorities of the State of New York.

I respectfully renew my request for the construction of a gallery in room 332, for the use of the archives division, in accordance with the plan originally proposed by the architect of the State House extension. Room 434 has become so crowded with documents that it is now available for the use of the clerical force only to a very limited extent, and more space for filing will be necessary by the time the required gallery can be finished.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year 1901, in the Public Document series (numbering 66 different reports), 207,150 volumes, — an increase of 5,000 over 1900. Of this number, 131,500 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 8,000 copies of the Blue Book, special session; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 906 copies of the term reports; and 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume VIII., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 1,040 copies of Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation; 4,100 copies of the Roger Wolcott Memorial; 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 2,500 copies of each volume of the Census of Massachusetts, 1895 (volumes IV. and VII.); 500 copies Journal of the Electoral College of Massachusetts; 4,000 copies of a map showing the division of the Commonwealth into congressional districts; 1,500 copies of the Report of the Commissioners for Consolidating and Arranging the Public Statutes; 205 copies of the Report of the Joint Special Committee on Consolidating and Arranging the Public Statutes; 500 copies of Amendments of the Report of the Joint Special Committee on Consolidating and Arranging the Public Statutes; and 10,000 copies of the State House Guide, — making a grand total of 225,151 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 35,992 over 1900.

Four hundred and thirteen copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that authority be given to comply with the request of the government of Porto Rico for the Massachusetts term reports.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing the public document series in 1901 was $61,761, — a decrease of about $2,400 from the amount in 1900. The greatest cost for a single report in the series was for that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,161.29, — a slight reduction from the previous year. Next in point of cost is the report of the State Board of Health, $4,547.66, — a slight increase. The Blue Book cost $6,479.17, — about $100 more than the previous year; the Manual for the General Court, $3,915.21, — an increase of over $1,100, caused chiefly by an extra edition of 3,500 copies. The Senate printing bill was $6,687.66, — an increase of over $1,000, exclusive of the Senate Journal, which cost $1,240.37, — an increase of less than $100. The House printing cost $13,849.79, — a substantial decrease, about $1,600 from the previous year, exclusive of the Journal, which cost $1,541.57, — also a decrease. The official ballots cost $7,248.33.

Under the provisions of chapter 258 of the Acts of 1896, as amended by chapter 243 of the Acts of 1897, the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the Auditor of Accounts have authorized illustrations amounting to $2,807.99, — an increase of nearly $200. The largest amounts allowed were as follows: Board of Agriculture, $500; Metropolitan Park Commission, $400; Metropolitan Water Board, $400; Board of Education, $300; Harbor and Land Commissioners, $280; District Police, $250; Board of Health, $175.

PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL ACTS.

The last volume of Massachusetts Special Laws covered the period from 1894 to 1897, inclusive. There is now a sufficient accumulation of such acts to make a large volume; and I recommend the passage of a resolve, similar to those passed in previous years, to provide for the publication of all special acts passed in the years 1898 to 1901, inclusive.

ENGROSSMENT OF BILLS AND RESOLVES.

I beg leave to refer to that portion of my last annual report which relates to the engrossment of bills and resolves, and renew my recommendation that this work be transferred from the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to that of a clerk, or clerks, under the immediate direction of the Legislature.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 356 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148 of the Public Statutes, as amended by chapter 89, Acts of 1897, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 68, Public Statutes, 2,000 licenses. Of this number, 362 were for the State, 505 for counties, 692 for cities and towns, and 326 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 590 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the army or navy during the war of the rebellion, — a decrease of 94, as compared with the previous year; 14 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain; and 57 to persons seventy years of age or upwards.

There were no State licenses issued to itinerant vendors under the act of 1890. The number of transfers of licenses was 150.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (chapter 456 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891 and chapter 298 of 1894) 354 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 19, as compared with 1900. Returns were received at this office covering 320 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 28 to the Attorney-General for his information, 9 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the other 19 being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 34 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 548, Acts of 1898, relative to statements of election expenses, 145 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file.

There were also received and placed on file, under the provisions of chapter 307, Acts of 1900, 136 certificates, stating that the aggregate receipts or disbursements did not exceed $20.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,400 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1901 was 18; requisitions upon other States, 46; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 12; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 24; permit for release from State Prison on parole, 3; respites of death sentence, 7.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, as amended by chapter 36 of the Acts of 1887, returns were received of the naturalization of 6,830 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1900, — an increase of 4,666, as compared with the returns for 1899. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1900 was received and filed Jan. 11, 1901.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish for the year 1900 was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" of Jan. 31, 1901.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 523, — the same number as were issued in 1901, — classified as follows : —

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	258
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . . .	214

Two certificates of incorporation were filed by Roman Catholic churches under Revised Laws, chapter 36, sections 44, 45 and 46.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,432, — an increase of 66. Of these, 2,482 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws) ; 258 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws) ; 214 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws) ; 247 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws) ; and the remainder were distributed among 18 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,480, — an increase of 177, — of which 1,337 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among 14 other classes.

There were issued 14 certificates of change of name of corporations, — a decrease of 7.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 64 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — a decrease of 5.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, two certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 6 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 387 cases, — an increase of 88.

By chapter 430, Acts of 1902, a penalty was imposed upon any person who, not being a member of a labor union, wilfully wears or uses the insignia, distinctive ribbons or membership rosette or button thereof, for the purpose of representing that he is a member of such labor union; provided that such insignia, distinctive ribbons or membership rosette or button have been registered in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; but no provision was made for the manner of registration, or the facts to be submitted in connection therewith by a registrant under said chapter. Pending the calling of the attention of the General Court to the omission referred to, this office, under verbal advice of the Attorney-General, has received such insignia, distinctive ribbons or membership rosettes or buttons for registration, in accordance with the provisions of sections 7 and 8 of chapter 72, Revised Laws, which provides for the adoption and registration of labels, trademarks, stamps and forms of advertisement under certain regulations of this office. I recommend legislation to cover the omission in the statute first cited, and also to confirm the registration of the insignia, distinctive ribbons or membership rosettes or buttons already received and recorded under the statute providing for the registration of labels.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 21 such descriptions were received and filed,—an increase of 7. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 30 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed,—an increase of 7.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1901, which were received in 1902, cover 71,976 births, 24,891 marriages and 48,275 deaths,—a total of 145,142. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1900, of 549 marriages, and a decrease of 1,410 births and 2,881 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns for 1901 cover 2,782 cases,—an increase of 150, as compared with the returns for 1900.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1901 number 1,637, being an increase of 224, as compared with the returns for 1900.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixtieth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

This office has been requested by the chief statistician of the United States census office to obtain and forward to him monthly the returns of deaths which are now sent in annually by the city and town clerks. At present the law provides that the city and town clerks shall transmit annually to this office certified copies of the records of births, marriages and deaths recorded by them during the calendar year. The clerks of cities and towns containing less than thirty thousand inhabitants are allowed until the first day of March; the clerks of cities containing more than thirty thousand and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, until the first day of April; and the clerks of cities containing one hundred thousand inhabitants or more, until the first day of May to make these returns. It is claimed that this wide margin of time is necessary, for special reasons, in the case of returns of births and marriages. These special reasons, however, do not exist in the case of records of deaths, which, so far as now appears, may be returned for each month within a few days after the close of the month. In view of the great value of these statistics and of the vital importance of their presentation to the public with the least possible delay, I commend the matter to the favorable consideration of the Legislature.

ARCHIVES.

The general use of the archives for historical research is on the increase, and will probably continue to grow, although the call for certificates of the service of Revolutionary and Colonial ancestors has fallen off in some degree.

Two hundred volumes of returns of births, marriages and deaths, with eight volumes of additional entries, have been rebound during the year, so that the entire collection of returns of vital statistics is now in an excellent condition. Under the provisions of the act of 1902 (chapter 470), "To provide for the preservation of town records of births, marriages and deaths previous to the year 1850," records of the following towns have been received and distributed: Montgomery, Pelham, Princeton, Walpole, Peru, Alford and Hinsdale.

The ninth volume of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, including all names with accompanying service records between KAB and LSU, was issued in March, and the tenth volume, including names between LUA and MOP, was issued in November. More than a quarter of volume XI. has been completed, is in page, and it is intended to issue this and volume XII. during the current year.

In addition to the binding of the returns of births, marriages and deaths, there have also been rebound eight volumes of the manuscript collection, sixteen volumes of court records and three volumes of the Massachusetts Bay Colony records. This work will be continued during the current year.

In addition to the work in connection with the publication of the Revolutionary Records and other routine work a much-needed index to the Plymouth Colony manuscript records of wills and deeds has been completed, in the form of a table of contents, with cross-references, for each of the ten volumes.

A name index has also been completed to Mass. Archives, volume 70 and volume 107, which cover military records during the Colonial period; and a complete chronological table of contents has been compiled for two volumes of court records that were imperfectly indexed originally.

A card index has also been completed for the miscellaneous files covering the State period 1780–1900.

There is a large collection of papers in file boxes almost entirely connected with eastern lands and the various commissions that had charge of the unappropriated lands at different times, as well as papers taken over from the land office at the time of its abolition, which are entirely without any sort of an index or arrangement. It is the intention to have them arranged and grouped systematically, and, if possible, to index them under subject heads, when a good opportunity occurs for doing the work; but the office force as at present constituted is entirely occupied in getting out the Revolutionary Records, attending to search inquiries, waiting upon visitors, etc.

The matter of providing sufficient room for the archives division presses more and more urgently, and I commend its consideration to the Legislature.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year 1902, in the Public Document series (numbering 67 different reports), 204,450 volumes,—a decrease of 2,700 volumes. Of this number, 130,100 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 906 copies of the term reports; 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals, 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals special session; and there were also received and distributed 7,500 copies each of volumes I. and II., Revised Laws; 7,500 copies of the Index to the Revised Laws; 1,000 copies each of volumes IX. and X., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of the Towns of Alford, Hinsdale, Pelham, Peru, Princeton, Montgomery and Walpole; 500 copies of the John O'Neil murder trial; 10,000 copies Provisions of Law concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers; 750 copies volume IX., Province Laws; 6,000 copies Laws Relating to Elections; and 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws Relating to Elections, — making a grand total of 235,756 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 10,605 over 1901.

Two hundred and ninety-nine copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing the Public Document series in 1902 was $66,577.43, — an increase of about $4,500 over the amount in 1901. The most expensive single report in the series was that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,367.99, — an increase of about $200 over the previous year. Next in point of cost is the report of the State Board of Health, $3,466.30, — a decrease of over $1,000. The printing of Public Document No. 66, being the report of the Commissioners on the Compilation of the Records of Soldiers and Sailors of the War of the Rebellion, cost only $9.18. The Blue Book cost $6,294.62, — nearly $200 less than the previous year; the Manual for the General Court, $3,684.16, — a decrease of about $250. The Senate printing bill, including the extra session, was $6,376.04; the Senate Journal, $1,305.23; the House printing, including the extra session, $15,207.60; and the House Journal, $1,630.99. The official ballots for use at the State election cost $7,751.32.

In compliance with written requests from the Commissioner of Public Records, Mr. Robert T. Swan, and from the president of the Board of Registration in Dentistry, Dr. John F.

Dowsley, I recommend an increase of the number of copies of their reports as follows: —

Commissioner of Public Records, from 2,000 copies to 2,500 copies; Board of Registration in Dentistry, from 2,500 to 3,000 copies.

PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL ACTS.

In accordance with a recommendation of this office, the Legislature of 1902 passed a resolve (chapter 55) to provide for the publication and distribution of the Special Laws passed in the years 1898 to 1901, inclusive. This work was promptly performed, and the book has been distributed, as required by the resolve.

ENGROSSMENT OF BILLS AND RESOLVES.

I beg leave to refer to that portion of my last annual report which relates to the engrossment of bills and resolves, and renew my recommendation that this work be transferred from the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to that of a clerk, or clerks, under the immediate direction of the Legislature.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 450 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, 1,806 licenses, a decrease of 194 from 1901. Of this number, 346 were for the State, 473 for counties, 708 for cities and towns, and 279 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 11, sections 285 to 306 inclusive) 369 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 15 as compared with 1901. Returns were received at this office covering 338 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 28 to the Attorney-General for his information, 17 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the other 11 being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 31 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 11, Revised Laws, relative to statements of election expenses, 179 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is an increase of 34 over 1901.

There were also received and placed on file 106 certificates, stating that the aggregate receipts or disbursements did not exceed $20, — a decrease of 30.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,400 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1902 was 25; requisitions upon other States, 34; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 21; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 30; permit for release from State Prison on parole, 2.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 3,242 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1901, — a decrease of 3,588, as compared with the returns for 1900. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

GREAT SEAL AND COAT-OF-ARMS.

Again I recommend legislation to prohibit the use of the Great Seal or the Coat-of-Arms of the Commonwealth for advertising or commercial purposes. A bill with this purpose in view has been passed by each branch of the Legislature at different sessions, and defeated in the other branch through the influence of parties who used, and still use, the coat-of-arms as an advertisement. While this is done without intentional disrespect, its tendency is to lower the dignity of the insignia of the Commonwealth. Moreover, the practice is spreading, and the coat-of-arms is now used on footwear, bottled whiskey, and probably on other articles of merchandise. The proposed law would not prevent the use of the seal or the coat-of-arms for decorations on public occasions; it would simply protect them from being used commercially, — a proposition which would seem to require no argument.

SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGES.

I recommend immediate legislation to determine the question of the authority of officers of the Salvation Army to solemnize marriages. This question has been raised by certain city officers charged with the duty of recording marriages and making return thereof to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Their query is, whether a marriage certified to by an officer of the Salvation Army as a “minister of the gospel,” can be regarded as lawful, and recorded and returned accordingly. As the law now stands, the question is difficult to determine. The doubt is so serious as to warrant some action by the Legislature which will determine clearly whether or not the claim of certain officers of the Salvation Army to authority to solemnize marriages is valid.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1901 was received and filed Jan. 11, 1902.

The return of the Inspector-General of Fish, hitherto made to this office and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser," appears to be no longer required, the office of Inspector-General being abolished by chapter 138 of the Acts of 1902, which act transfers the powers and duties of the Inspector-General of Fish to the Board of Commissioners on Fisheries and Game. This Board is required to include in its annual report a brief statement of the work of fish inspection, which seems to render unnecessary the return heretofore required by the Revised Laws, chapter 56, section 5. Said section 5 should therefore be repealed, and I so recommend.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Trading and other business corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), from Jan. 1 to July 31, 1903, inclusive, including public service corporations for the whole year 1903, . . .	180

Assessment insurance companies (under Revised Laws, chapter 120), . . . . .	2

Under the business corporation law for trading companies, enacted by the last Legislature, and in effect since Aug. 1, 1903, 354 corporations have been chartered, as follows: August, 55; September, 61; October, 84; November, 75; December, 79; compared with the corresponding months of 1902, when 81 were incorporated, as follows: August, 13; September, 19; October, 12; November, 17; December, 20; showing an increase in number of 273 corporations, or 337 per cent.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 3,860, — an increase of 428. Of these, 2,563 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 181 were certificates of organization of trading and other business corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws), from Jan. 1 to July 31, 1903, inclusive, and including public service corporations for the whole year 1903; 354 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), from Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, 1903, inclusive; 214 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 162 were certificates of payment of capital in trading and public service corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws); 19 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations since Aug. 1, 1903 (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the remainder were distributed among 26 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,978, — an increase of 498, — of which 1,828 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the remainder were divided among 13 other classes.

There were issued 20 certificates of change of name of corporations, — an increase of 6.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 68 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — an increase of 4.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 8 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 12 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

The total number of certificates of every classification filed and recorded in this division in 1902 was 6,017, and the total in 1903 was 7,166, — an increase of 1,149 certificates, or 19 per cent., during the year 1903. This increase in the total number of certificates for 1903 very nearly equals the total increase for the four previous years.

The receipts for 1903 in this division were 90 per cent. more than ten years ago.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 29 were filed and recorded, — a decrease, as compared with 1902, of 27.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1902, which were received in 1903, cover 72,219 births, 25,685 marriages and 47,491 deaths, — a total of 145,395. This is an increase, as compared with the returns for 1901, of 243 births, 794 marriages, and a decrease of 784 deaths.

The medical examiners' returns for 1902 cover 2,795 cases, — an increase of 13, as compared with the returns for 1901.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1902 number 1,863, being an increase of 226, as compared with the returns for 1901.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-first registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

ARCHIVES.

Twenty-nine volumes of the manuscript collection of the archives have been rebound, the papers remounted, etc., during the year, and at least as many more will have to be repaired in the same manner during the coming year.

About the same number of inquiries for records of Revolutionary and Colonial ancestors were received as during the preceding year, and the number of requests for information in connection with historical research steadily increases.

Name indexes have been made for several volumes of the military series in the manuscript collection, so that records of Colonial military service can be more readily ascertained; and tables of contents have been made for a number of volumes of the court records and archives, where the original indexes were found to be specially imperfect.

The contents of between thirty and forty file boxes of papers, in connection with the session laws, have been sorted and arranged chronologically under their proper subject heading.

Under the provisions of chapter 470 of the Acts of 1902, the manuscript copy and printed copy of the records of births, marriages and deaths for fourteen towns have been received and deposited in the archives division. The towns are as follows: Barre, Becket, Bedford, Lee, Leicester, Lexington, Malden, Medfield, Millbury, Southborough, Sudbury, Topsfield, Tyringham and Westborough.

Volume XI. of Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War, comprising all names between the letters MOR and PAZ, was completed during the year. All the copy for volume XII., covering names between PEA and RAZ, is in the hands of the printer, and the copy for volume XIII. is nearly ready.

Again I urge upon the Legislature the importance of providing more room for our archives. I have not been able to take care of the volumes of engrossed Acts and Resolves for several years past in Room 434, where special-sized shelves and compartments were fitted for them, but which are now completely filled; and as the files of bills and resolves, with accompanying papers, come from the House and Senate year by year, they are crowding other papers into a storage vault in the sub-basement, access to which is neither convenient nor agreeable.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 69 different reports), 201,600 volumes, — a decrease of 2,850 volumes. Of this number, 129,750 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the public generally.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,359 copies of the term reports; 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XI., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of the towns of Becket, Barre, Bedford, Lee, Leicester, Lexington, Malden, Medfield, Millbury, Southborough, Sudbury, Topsfield, Tyringham and Westborough; 750 copies each of volumes X. and XI., Province Laws; 2,500 copies of the Report of Committee on Charles River Dam; 1,500 copies of volume XVIII., Special Laws; 500 copies of the Third Massachusetts Cavalry; and 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws Relating to Elections, — making a grand total of 203,709 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — a decrease of 32,047 volumes from 1902.

Three hundred and twenty-four copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

I recommend an increase of the number of copies of the annual report of the Metropolitan Water and Sewerage Board from 4,500 to 6,000; and an increase of the number of copies of the annual report of the Commissioner of Public Records from 2,000 to 2,500 copies, the additional number to be for the use of the commissioner; that Public Document, No. 36 (being the Statistics of Manufactures), of which 5,000 copies are printed, be abolished, and that said statistics form a part of the report of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor; that the number of copies of the annual report of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor be reduced from 6,000 to 4,500, and that said report may be issued in monthly parts, paged consecutively, and bound together in one volume at the end of the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1903, including the Manual, Blue Book, Journals, etc., was $79,222.50. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,539.75, — an increase of about $175 over the amount for 1902. The report of the Railroad Commissioners cost $4,479.65; and the Bank Commissioners, $4,005.45. The cost of printing the report of the Board of Health cannot be stated, as the report for 1902 was not completed until after the close of the year 1903. The Blue Book cost $6,838.53; the Manual, $4,257.18; the Senate Journal, $1,605.96; the House Journal, $1,994.40. The Senate printing bill was $9,112.68; and the House printing, $19,895.17, — an increase of $2,736.64 and $4,687.57, respectively. The bill for printing the official ballots was $8,081.93.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 453 names changed, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws; 1,662 licenses, — a decrease of 144 from 1902. Of this number, 358 were for the State, 430 for counties, 632 for cities and towns, and 242 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 441 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the army or navy during the war of the rebellion, — a decrease of 91, as compared with the previous year; 56 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain, — an increase of 13; and 60 to persons seventy years of age or upwards.

Three itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued during the year. The number of transfers of licenses was 140.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

Chapter 484, Acts of 1903, made it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, after July 25, 1903, to engage in or carry on the business of selling coal or coke, as principal or agent, in any city or town, at wholesale or retail, either by maintaining a place of business or by peddling the same from house to house, or otherwise, without first obtaining a license, to be granted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, for such periods and upon the payment of such fees, not exceeding five dollars, and upon such conditions and terms, as may be prescribed in cities by ordinance and in towns by by-laws.

While the act made the payment of a fee a condition precedent to the issue of a license, it was necessary, inasmuch as such fees had not been prescribed, to issue licenses, notwithstanding this condition, in order to make the law operative.

During the year copies of ordinances establishing fees, conditions and terms were received from the city of Fall River July 22, Chicopee December 12, and Springfield December 19.

The number of licenses issued to dealers in cities was 1,407 up to Jan. 1, 1904; to dealers in towns, 917, — a total of 2,324.

Lists of all persons licensed in the several cities and towns have been sent to the city and town clerks.

The list of licensees covers all of the 353 cities and towns of the Commonwealth, with the exception of 66 towns.

If this law is to remain on the statute books, it should be amended in several particulars. For instance, cities and towns should be required to prescribe fees, conditions and terms under which licenses are to be granted, and to communicate them to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; otherwise, the Secretary should have power to fix the fees, conditions and terms. It should also be plainly stated to whom the fee should be paid, — whether to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or to the city or town clerk. The Secretary of the Commonwealth should, in my judgment, be relieved from the judicial functions conferred upon him by section 3, leaving the matter of hearings, etc., to some court. No complaints have been made under this section. In a few instances verbal statements of grievances have been made, but the complainants, on being informed that they must put their statements in writing and present evidence thereon sufficient to justify summoning the parties complained of to a hearing, have dropped the matter.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 11, sections 285 to 306, inclusive), 361 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 8, as compared with 1902. Returns were received at this office covering 306 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 30 to the Attorney-General for his information, 24 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the other 6 being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 25 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto.

Under the provisions of chapter 11, Revised Laws, relative to statements of election expenses, 168 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks, examined and placed on file. This is a decrease of 11 over 1902.

There were also received and placed on file 99 certificates stating that the aggregate receipts or disbursements did not exceed $20, — a decrease of 7.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,500 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1903 was 24; requisitions upon other states, 34; warrants issued upon requisitions from other states, 15; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 21; permit for release from State Prison on parole, 2.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 7,747 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1902, — an increase of 4,505, as compared with the returns for 1901. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGES.

I again ask consideration by the Legislature of the question of the authority of officers of the Salvation Army to solemnize marriages in this Commonwealth; that is to say, whether a marriage certified by an officer of the Salvation Army as a “minister of the gospel” can be regarded as legal and recorded and returned by the city and town clerks accordingly.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1902 was received and filed Jan. 20, 1903.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 1,334, — an increase of 537, as compared with 1903, — classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . . .	1,067
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . . .	194
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 119), . . . . .	25

Roman Catholic Bishop of Fall River (under chapter 390, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	1

As given above, 1,067 trading companies were incorporated under the business corporation law of 1903, which is an increase of 809 companies, or 314 per cent, compared with 1902, the last full calendar year of the operation of the old law for business corporations, when 258 were incorporated.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 4,468, — an increase of 608. Of these, 2,743 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 11 were certificates of organization of gas and electric light corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws); 1,067 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 194 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 4 were certificates of payment of capital in public service corporations (under chapter 110 of the Revised Laws); 77 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the remainder were distributed among 27 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,982, — an increase of 4; of which 1,854 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the remainder were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 15 certificates of change of name of corporations, — a decrease of 5.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 49 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — a decrease of 19.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 1 certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void and of no further effect, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused or withdrawn in 10 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

The total number of certificates of every classification filed and recorded in this division in 1903 was 7,166, and the total in 1904 was 9,779, — an increase of 2,613 certificates, or 36 per cent, during the year 1904.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 40 were filed and recorded, — an increase, as compared with 1903, of 11.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 517 cases, — an increase of 57.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. The registrations received have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1903 which were received in 1904 cover 73,584 births and 26,940 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1902, of 1,365 births and 1,255 marriages.

By an act of 1903 (chapter 305), returns of deaths are now required to be made to this office monthly instead of annually, with the purpose of obtaining, tabulating and publishing the mortality statistics with the least possible delay, thus giving them the greatest possible value.

During the year 1904 there were received returns of 49,054 deaths, — an increase of 1,563, as compared with the returns of 1903.

The total number of returns of births, marriages and deaths was 149,578.

The medical examiners' returns for 1903 cover 3,010 cases, — an increase of 215, as compared with the returns for 1902.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1903 number 2,233, — being an increase of 370, as compared with the returns for 1902.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-second registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

ARCHIVES.

Forty-nine volumes of the manuscript collection of the archives have been remounted and rebound during the year, together with 105 volumes of miscellaneous records, making a total of 154 volumes. This work is still in progress, and will be continued until every volume in this entire, priceless collection is in the best possible condition.

Under the provisions of chapter 470 of the Acts of 1902, 15 volumes of manuscript copies of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850, with the printed volumes corresponding thereto, were received and deposited in the registration room. The towns reported are as follows: Arlington, Bellingham, Chilmark, Great Barrington, Gill, Holden, Manchester, Marblehead, Middleton, New Braintree, Petersham, Shrewsbury, Upton, Waltham and Washington.

Of the publication entitled "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War," volume XII., covering all names between PEA and RAZ, was printed during the year. The copy for volume XIII., which will include all names between REA and SDU, is in the hands of the printer, and will be published during the present year. All the copy for volume XIV., which is to include all names between SEA and STA, is complete, and the copy for volume XV. is well under way. It is probable that not only volume XIII., but volume XIV., will be issued during the current year.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 71 different reports), 204,350 volumes, — an increase of 2,750 volumes. Of this number, 137,120 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,359 copies of the term reports; 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XII., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of the towns of Arlington, Bellingham, Chilmark, Gill, Great Barrington, Holden, Manchester, Marblehead, Middleton, New Braintree, Petersham, Shrewsbury, Upton, Waltham and Washington; 500 copies of the John C. Best murder trial; and 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws Relating to Elections, — making a grand total of 204,979 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — an increase of 1,270 volumes over 1903.

Two hundred and sixty-two copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

I recommend a decrease in the edition of the report of the State Board of Health from 5,000 to 4,500; and that the Board may issue 500 of the 4,500 copies in parts, for its own use. This I do at the request of the chairman of the Board.

Provision should be made for the printing, binding and distribution of the reports of the State census to be taken during the current year. As the result of a consultation with the chief of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor, under whose direction the census is to be taken, I recommend that, of the three volumes provided for in section 19 of the act for taking the census (chapter 423, Acts of 1904), there shall be printed from stereotype plates 5,000 copies of volume I., 2,500 copies each of volumes II. and III.; each volume to be of the size of what is known as the Blue Book, but in the general style of the annual reports of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor. It is further recommended that volume I. shall not contain more than 800 pages, and volumes II. and III. not more than 600 pages each. It will be observed that this is a reduction from 45,500 copies of the reports of the State census of 1895 to 10,000 copies.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1904, including the Manual, Blue Book, Journals, etc., was $40,245.29. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,667.80, — an increase of about $125 over the amount for 1903. The Report of the Railroad Commissioners cost $4,654.77; the Bank Commissioners, $5,181.02; and the Board of Health, $3,724.43. The Blue Book cost $6,861.03; the Manual, $4,334.93; the Senate

Journal, $1,397.13 ; the House Journal, $1,698.98. The Senate printing bill was $8,094.03, and the House printing $18,006.34, — a decrease of $1,018.65 in the Senate printing bill, and a decrease of $1,888.83 in the House printing bill. The bill for printing the official ballots was $10,865.13, — an increase of $2,783.20, on account of its being a presidential year.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 446 names changed in 1903, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, 1,569 licenses, — a decrease of 93 from 1903. Of this number, 298 were for the State, 462 for counties, 594 for cities and towns, and 215 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 438 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the army or navy during the war of the rebellion, — a decrease of 3, as compared with the previous year; 41 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain, — a decrease of 15; and 59 to persons seventy years of age or upwards.

Two itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued during the year. The number of transfers of licenses was 135.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses for the sale of coal and coke issued during the year, as provided in chapter 484, Acts of 1903, was 267 in cities, and in towns 89, — a total of 356; and the list of licensees covers all of the 353 cities and towns of the Commonwealth with the exception of 61 towns. Up to the present time only 3 cities, Fall River, Chicopee and Springfield, and 1 town, Huntington, have established fees, conditions and terms, as provided in the law.

I renew my recommendation of last year, that the law should be amended so as to require cities and towns to prescribe fees, conditions and terms under which licenses are to be granted, and to communicate them to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; or that the Secretary himself should have power to fix such fees, conditions and terms. The law should also state to whom the fees should be paid. In my judgment, also, the Secretary of the Commonwealth should be relieved from the judicial functions conferred upon him by section 3 of the act, leaving the matter of hearings, etc., to some court. No complaints have been received under this section, however.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 11, sections 285 to 306, inclusive), 328 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 33, as compared with 1903. Returns were received at this office covering 308 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 22 to the Attorney-General for his information, 14 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 8 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 20 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto. A report of the number of returns under the corrupt-practices act, so called, will be found in the same document.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,500 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1904 was 46; requisitions upon other States, 41; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 18; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 31; permit for release from State Prison on parole, 5; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 5,430 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1903,—a decrease of 2,317, as compared with the returns for 1902. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1903 was received and filed Jan. 22, 1904.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 24, 1906.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, the fourteenth annual report of the transactions of this office, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1905, including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it was excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$12,030 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	66,352 91
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	40 00
Licenses, . . . . .	19,072 00
Sale of books, etc., . . . . .	3,822 94
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	225 00
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	870 00
Miscellaneous, {
Certificates, . . . . .	$773 00
Revolutionary Records, . . . . .	399 50
Copies, . . . . .	782 75
Advance sheets, . . . . .	57 00
	<hr/>
	2,012 25
	$104,425 10

These receipts exceed those of last year by over $20,000, chiefly on account of corporation certificates and licenses. During the past eleven years they have more than doubled, the amount for the year 1894 being less than $51,000.

As the expenses for salaries in 1905 were $38,579.12, and for incidentals $3,700.63, making a total of $42,279.75, it appears that the office turns into the treasury of the Commonwealth $62,145.35 more than the cost of its maintenance.

I respectfully recommend that the salary of the cashier be increased from $1,200 to $1,500 per annum. This salary is not fixed by law, but an appropriation of $1,500 was made annually from the creation of the office in 1892 until 1902, when, in consequence of an admitted error in the revision of the laws, the appropriation was limited to $1,200. By the Acts of 1902, chapter 364, however, the error in revision is corrected, removing the limitation; and as, in my judgment, the sum of $1,500 is but a reasonable compensation for the services rendered, I recommend that the appropriation be made accordingly.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 2,804, — an increase of 238 over the number issued in 1904. Of these, 398 were without fee, and 105 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commissions or to qualify thereunder. The different classes were as follows: —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,370
Notaries public, . . . . .	908
Trustees, commissioners, etc., . . . . .	149
Supervisors of election, . . . . .	108
Justices of the peace to solemnize marriages, . . . . .	46
Special commissioners, . . . . .	41
Associate medical examiners, . . . . .	33
Medical examiners, . . . . .	25
Commissioners in other States, . . . . .	24
District Police, . . . . .	17
Public administrators, . . . . .	13

Masters in chancery, . . . . .	11
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail, . . . . .	9
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	7
Justices of municipal, police and district courts, . . . . .	5
Special justices of municipal, police and district courts, . . . . .	5
Commissioners in foreign countries, . . . . .	4
Trial justices, . . . . .	4
Commissioners to qualify civil officers, . . . . .	2
Associate justices superior court, . . . . .	2
Supervisors of registration, . . . . .	2

Private secretary to the Governor, . . . . .	1
Executive stenographer, . . . . .	1
Sheriff, . . . . .	1
District attorney, . . . . .	1

Certificates to the number of 3,780 were issued. Fees were remitted for 688.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations was 1,541, — an increase of 207, as compared with 1904, — classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . .	1,272
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . .	210
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 119), . . . .	21
Churches (under Revised Laws, chapter 36, section 51), . . . .	16
Public service corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	12
Trust company (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	1
Street railway corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 112), . . . .	6
Assessment insurance company (under Revised Laws, chapter 120), . . . .	1
Co-operative banks (under Revised Laws, chapter 114), . . . . .	2

As given above, 1,272 trading companies were incorporated under the business corporation law of 1903, which is an increase of 19 per cent., compared with 1904, when 1,067 were incorporated, and an increase of 1,014 companies, or 493 per cent., compared with 1902, the last full calendar year of the operation of the old law for business corporations, when 258 were incorporated.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 5,257, — an increase of 789. Of these, 3,200 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,272 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 210 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 128 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the remainder were distributed among 29 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,054, — an increase of 72; of which 1,920 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the remainder were divided among 13 other classes.

There were issued 12 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 109 of the Revised Laws), — a decrease of 3.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 54 corporations by the supreme judicial court, — an increase of 5.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 3 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 6 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 40 were filed and recorded, — the same number as compared with 1904.

From information tendered this office verbally by city and town officials and by persons representing associations formed for the purpose of fostering and assisting in the maintenance of good order and observance of law in some of our municipalities, it is learned that the practice has obtained of changing the particular locations of certain incorporated clubs from the city or town where they were established at the time a certificate of incorporation was issued from this office, under the provisions of chapter 125 of the Revised Laws, to another city or town in the Commonwealth. The principal motive for making the change in the great number of cases reported appears to be for the purpose of applying for a license to dispense alcoholic beverages to its members upon the premises of the club in the new location, for the reason that the municipality may have voted against the issue of licenses for the dispensing of intoxicating liquors, or the privilege may have been suspended or denied the club in the city or town where it was formerly located, and incidentally, for a time, at least, before discovery by officers of the law, to carry on illegal gaming or other illegal pursuits to the annoyance of the community in the new location. In view of the fact that section 4 of chapter 125, Revised Laws, provides that this office may send the original application for the incorporation of a club or other organization to the board of selectmen in the town, the mayor and aldermen in the city, in which the club is to be established or located in accordance with its agreement of association (except Boston, and in Boston to the Board of Police), for investigation as to whether any of the proposed incorporators have been engaged in any business or vocation prohibited by law, or whether the formation of the proposed corporation is to cover an illegal business, it seems proper to require that the consent of the authorities above referred to be obtained in the city or town where the club seeks a new location. I therefore recommend legislation to this effect.

REVOCATION OF CHARTERS.

In a report of recent date received by this office from the Chief of the District Police, the request was made that the charter of a certain club named therein, located in one of our large cities, be revoked, for the reason that a person was convicted by the court of conducting an illegal boxing exhibition upon the premises of said club, and paid the penalty imposed by section 12, chapter 207, Revised Laws; but this office was unable to take the action requested, as there is no law to cover such cases. Considering that section 89, chapter 100, Revised Laws, invests this office with the power to revoke the charters of clubs upon the premises of which any person is convicted of exposing and keeping for sale intoxicating liquor or of illegal gaming, or being present where implements of gaming are found upon said premises, upon report of such conviction by the selectmen of a town, the mayor and aldermen of a city, except Boston, and in Boston the Board of Police; and that chapter 524, Acts of 1902, also provides for revoking club charters upon report of the officials just named where any liquor or any casks or other vessels or implements of sale and furniture used or kept and provided to be used in the illegal keeping or sale of liquor or any implements of gaming are seized on the premises occupied by an incorporated club, and declared forfeited by the court under the provisions of chapter 100, Revised Laws, I recommend that the power to revoke club charters be extended to cases where the Chief of the District Police or the municipal authorities hereinbefore named report to this office that any person or persons have been convicted of promoting or conducting illegal boxing or sparring exhibitions on the premises of or under the auspices of incorporated clubs.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 437 cases, — a decrease of 80.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. The registrations received, which are 5 in number, have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1904 which were received in 1905 cover 75,014 births and 25,993 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1903, of 1,430 births and a decrease of 947 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received during the year 1905 55,255 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and still-births, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1904 cover 2,938 cases, — a decrease of 72, as compared with the returns for 1903.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1904 number 2,184, — being a decrease of 49, as compared with the returns for 1903.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-third registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

I recommend an amendment to the law of 1903, chapter 305, so that the returns of all deaths occurring in a city or town during a calendar month shall be returned to this office on or before the tenth day of the following month.

The law at present reads that certified copies of the records of deaths recorded in a city or town in a calendar month shall be returned to the Secretary. In consequence of this reading, clerks are not required to send to this office until the 10th of January deaths which occurred in the latter days of November, if such deaths did not happen to be recorded until the first day of December.

I recommend that the same law be further amended so as to require clerks to certify to this office that no deaths have occurred during the month, if such be the fact; otherwise, this office cannot know whether the clerks are delinquent, or whether they have simply no returns to make.

THE ARCHIVES.

The number of visitors during the year is 3,451; the number of inquiries for military records, 642; the number of inquiries on historical and miscellaneous subjects, 43; the number of certificates issued, 363; the number of uncertified copies supplied, 125; the number of volumes rebound, 24.

The usual amount of assistance has been furnished also to visitors making historical researches. The number of persons making inquiries for military records is somewhat lessened from previous years, but their places have been supplied by persons making studies of historical subjects, who find occasion to work continuously upon the records. The insufficiency of the space for the archives division still hampers its work, but everything is done to satisfy inquirers consulting the records, and to overcome the difficulties occasioned by having a working force of clerks in the same room where records are consulted, and by the compulsory separation of portions of the files, which are assigned to the storage vault annually.

REVOLUTIONARY ROLLS COLLECTION.

Volume XIII. of the publication entitled "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War," covering all names with accompanying service records between REA and SEY, was completed as far as this office is concerned in May, but the bound volume was not ready for distribution until August. Volume XIV., covering all names with accompanying service records between SHA and STH was completed in December, and will probably be ready for delivery in April, estimating the actual preparation and completion of the volumes from the time taken by the printers to produce the previous volume. The entire material for volume XV. and practically all of volume XVI. is now ready for the State printer, and the work will proceed continuously. The checking up and fitting of the individual service records for the last volume of the publication, volume XVII., is now being carried on. It is estimated upon the record index cards prepared that this volume will be somewhat smaller than the previous ones issued, but it is planned to incorporate with it as an Appendix all such records as have been brought to light since the beginning of the compilation in 1891.

The Council Records contain some thousands of references to the appointments of militia officers and payments upon warrants to captains of companies, based upon pay rolls presented. While these records cannot be strictly considered as part of the Revolutionary Rolls collection, the publication of which was authorized by chapter 100, Resolves of 1891, they furnish in some instances details that are missing from the last-named collection, and in others fuller details than appear upon the pay rolls. It would therefore seem advisable to have record index cards made of the military entries above referred to that appear in the Council Records between April, 1775, and August, 1783, before the completion of the present work, so that they can be included in the proposed Appendix.

REGISTRATION FILES.

The total number of visitors to the registration files during the year is 4,509; the birth certificates issued, 140; the marriage certificates issued, 426; the death certificates issued, 231; total certificates, 797.

There have been deposited with the vital statistics, under the provisions of the Acts of 1902, chapter 470, eight volumes of manuscript copies of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850, with the printed volumes corresponding thereto. The towns represented are as follows: Boxford, Charlton, Marblehead (volume 2), Medway, Newton, Oakham, Oxford and Rutland.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 72 different reports), 202,350 volumes, — a decrease of 2,000 volumes. Of this number 136,000 were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,095 copies of the term reports; 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XIII., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of the towns of Boxford, Charlton, Marblehead (volume 2), Medway, Newton, Oxford, Oakham, Palmer and Rutland; and 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections, — making a grand total of 200,095 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — a decrease of 4,884 volumes from 1904.

Two hundred and twenty-five copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

CARE OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Complaints have been made to this office and also to the office of the Commissioner of Public Records of neglect on the part of town officers not only to keep public documents where they can be conveniently used, but even to protect them from destruction. The fact is, that while the clerks of newly incorporated towns must file with the Secretary of the Commonwealth a certificate in writing that the town has made suitable provision for the preservation and convenient use of books and documents furnished by the Commonwealth before such books and documents can be sent, the older towns are exempt; nor is there any penalty whatever for the loss or destruction of documents through neglect on the part of their custodians in cities and towns.

In a letter received during the last year from Mr. Swan, Commissioner of Public Records, he says: —

There are very few towns where the public documents, or the Massachusetts Reports, or any other of the numerous publications sent to the towns, are kept with any sort of order or system. If the towns originally provided bookcases, these have long since been outgrown, and a large part of the documents (using the word to cover all publications) are scattered wherever there is unoccupied space. The attics and cellars of the town buildings and in many cases of the clerks' houses are often made use of for the documents, many of them never having been taken out of their wrappers.

As I read the statute, there is no law requiring old cities and towns to make provision for the preservation and convenient use of these documents, and I can recall but one case where, when the matter had been called to the attention of the town officers, they have not said that they wished the sending might be stopped. In the one case the son of one of the town officers was commencing the practice of law, and the Massachusetts Reports were of value to him. In several towns the reports were turned over to a lawyer; in two they were sent out of town to lawyers.

I recommend such legislation as will either require the city and town clerks to take proper care of all such documents as those referred to, or relieve the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the duty of sending them to cities and towns, where they will neither be used nor preserved.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1905, including the Manual, Blue Book, Journals, etc., was $33,318.32. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Savings Banks Commissioners, $5,869.54, — an increase of about $675 over the amount for 1904. The report of the Board of Agriculture cost $5,790.96; the Railroad Commissioners, $4,981.80; and the Board of Health, $2,795.07. The Blue Book cost $7,003.45; the Manual, $4,372.33; the Senate Journal, $1,304.28; the House Journal, $1,535.10. The Senate printing bill was $7,886.72, and the House printing $15,482.71, — a decrease of $207.31 in the Senate printing bill, and a decrease of $2,523.62 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots, including expressage, was $8,391.56.

NEW VOLUME OF SPECIAL LAWS.

It has been the practice of the Legislature from time to time to collate and print the special laws. The last volume was published by authority of a resolve of 1902, chapter 55. A sufficient number of these laws has accumulated to warrant the issue of a new volume. I therefore recommend the passage of the necessary legislation for this purpose.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 423 names changed in 1904, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, and chapter 204, Acts of 1905, 1,895 licenses, — an increase of 326 from 1904. Of this number, 348 were for the State, 620 for counties, 855 for cities and towns, and 72 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 402 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the army or navy during the war of the rebellion, — a decrease of 36, as compared with the previous year; 43 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain, — an increase of 2; and 51 to persons seventy years of age or upwards.

Four itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued during the year.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses for the sale of coal and coke issued during the year, as provided in the Acts of 1903, chapter 484, was 205 in cities and 58 in towns, — a total of 263; and the list of licensees covers 297 of the 354 cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

The total number of licenses issued under the provisions of said act to Jan. 1, 1906, is 1,880 in cities and 1,055 in towns, — a total of 2,935. Up to the present time only three cities, Fall River, Chicopee and Springfield, and one town, Huntington, have established fees, conditions and terms, as provided in the law.

One complaint has been received under section 3 of this act. This was made by Edward T. Brightman of New Bedford against Thomas H. Fuller of New Bedford, for unlawful discrimination in the conduct of Fuller's business as a dealer in coke, and against the New Bedford Gas and Edison Light Company for conspiracy and unlawful combination. A hearing was given on this complaint on the twentieth day of December, at which all parties interested were represented. The questions involved being of great importance and difficult of solution, I have held the matter under careful advisement, and have not yet rendered a decision.

I renew, with increased urgency, my recommendation of last year, that the Secretary of the Commonwealth be relieved from the judicial functions imposed upon him by this section of the act. In the proceedings taken in the complaint referred to the Secretary found himself charged with the exercise of judicial functions, but without the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, to administer oaths or to require the production of books and papers, — indeed, to obtain any evidence whatever excepting such as the parties in interest might see fit to offer.

I further recommend that the act be amended so as to require cities and towns to prescribe fees, conditions and terms under which licenses are to be granted, and to communicate them to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; or so that the Secretary himself shall have power to fix such fees, conditions and terms. In my judgment, some fee should be fixed and should be paid to the Commonwealth, inasmuch as the expense of issuing the licenses falls upon the State treasury. As has been stated, nearly 3,000 of these licenses have been issued, involving a considerable expense for paper, printing, clerical service and postage. Quite recently over 200 were issued simultaneously to parties in the city of New Bedford, where no fee whatever has been fixed.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 11, sections 285 to 306, inclusive), 322 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 6, as compared with 1904. Returns were received at this office covering 301 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 13 to the Attorney-General for his information, 9 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 4 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 25 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto. A report of the number of returns under the corrupt-practices act, so called, will be found in the same document.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,500 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1905 was 27; requisitions upon other States, 48; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 11; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 50; permits for release from State Prison on parole, 4; recommitment for violating condition of pardon, 1; commutation of death sentence, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 5,894 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1904, — an increase of 464, as compared with the returns for 1903. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1904 was received and filed Jan. 19, 1905.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 4, 1907.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, the fifteenth annual report of the transactions of this office, including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners. This report, by reason of the passage of chapter 211 of the Acts of 1905, covers eleven months, ending Nov. 30, 1906.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1:—

Sale of books, etc., . . . . .	1,724 00
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	199 00

	1,848 10
	$92,725 42

The total expenses for salaries and incidentals during the eleven months were $39,455.21, from which it appears that the amount of money turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth exceeded the office expenses by the sum of $53,270.21.

For reasons stated in my report covering the year 1905, I renew my recommendation that the appropriation for the salary of the cashier be increased from $1,200 to $1,500 per annum.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 5,718, — an increase of 461 in eleven months, compared with the full calendar year of 1905. Of these, 3,733 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,198 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 214 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 126 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 29 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,049, of which 1,934 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 10 other classes.

There were issued 15 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 109 of the Revised Laws).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 51 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 3 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 10 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 51 were filed and recorded.

I renew my recommendation of last year for legislation regulating the practice of changing the locations of certain incorporated clubs from the city or town where they were established at the time a certificate of incorporation was issued from this office to another city or town in the Commonwealth, after the certificate is issued.

I renew also my recommendation of last year for legislation extending the power of revoking charters of clubs in cases where any person or persons have been convicted of promoting or conducting illegal boxing or sparring exhibitions on the premises of or under the auspices of such incorporated clubs.

The reasons for these recommendations were stated in my last annual report, to which I respectfully refer.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 296 cases.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. The registrations received, which are 4 in number, have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 10 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 37 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1905 which were received in 1906 cover 75,022 births and 27,184 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1904, of 8 births and 1,191 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Jan. 1 to Nov. 30, 1906, 50,911 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and still-births, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1905 cover 3,280 cases, — an increase of 342, as compared with the returns for 1904.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1905 number 1,822, being a decrease of 362, as compared with the returns for 1904.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-fourth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

ARCHIVES DIVISION.

The number of visitors to the archives room during the eleven months was 2,864; the number of inquiries for military records, 595; the number of inquiries on historical and miscellaneous subjects, 41; number of certificates issued, 297; number of uncertified copies, 80. A small amount of remounting and rebinding has been done. Inquiries for military records of the Colonial and Revolutionary War periods show a consistent decline, as was to be expected when the official publication of the Revolutionary Records had reached such a stage that it could be freely consulted and cited in support of applications for membership in the various patriotic societies.

The publication of "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War" is now nearly completed. Volume XIV., covering all names, with accompanying service records, between SHA and STH, was distributed in the latter part of March, 1906. Volume XV., which contains all names between STI and TOZ, was completed in November, 1906, and will soon be ready for distribution. Work is now progressing on volume XVI., which will contain all names between TRA and WHE, and it should be completed by midsummer of the present year. All material remaining in the record index after volume XVI., which will be included in the last volume of the series (XVII.), has been fitted and verified for all individual records, and the work of checking back and reviewing all dates and entries is almost completed.

This office has received from the Governor of the State of New Jersey a request for the presentation to that State of certain muster rolls, five in number, of Captain John Mott's company, Third New Jersey Regiment, Revolutionary War. I have explained to him that these muster rolls are bound in a volume with many others (volume 48, Revolutionary Rolls Collection, pages 317, 318, 335, 336 and 338), and asked him if he would not be willing to accept certified copies thereof; expressing, at the same time, my appreciation of his desire to obtain possession of the original rolls, and stating that, if the proposition relative to copies was not acceptable, I would endeavor to obtain authority from the legislature to send the originals. His reply was that, inasmuch as there are but five rolls of the company in possession of this office, he would esteem it a special privilege if the originals could be transmitted to the office of the Adjutant-General of New Jersey.

In view of this request, and inasmuch as the rolls do not properly belong with those of Massachusetts, I respectfully ask the passage of an act expressly authorizing me to send the originals to the State of New Jersey, as requested by the Governor.

REGISTRATION FILES.

The registration room received 3,906 visitors; there were issued 116 certificates of birth, 367 of marriages, 219 of deaths, making a total of 702.

There have been deposited in this room in connection with the vital statistics, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, thirteen volumes of manuscript copies of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The towns represented are: Beverly, Dalton, Douglas, Edgartown, Grafton, Lynn, Norton, Phillipston, Royalston, Sturbridge and Wenham.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 73 different reports), 198,100 volumes, — a decrease of 4,250 volumes. Of this number, 127,550 were handled and distributed in the Document Division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,362 copies of the term reports (volumes 188, 189 and 190); 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XIV., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 750 copies of volume XIII., Province Laws; 500 copies each of the Histories of the Third and Twentieth Regiments in the Civil War; 700 copies of the Franklin Memorial; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Royalston, Norton, Edgartown, Douglas, Dalton, Wenham, Lynn (volume I.), Phillipston, Beverly (volume I.), Sturbridge and Grafton; and 5,000 copies of the Supplement to the Laws Relating to Elections, — making a grand total of 195,362 volumes which have passed through the document division during the year, — a decrease of 4,733 volumes from 1905.

One hundred and ninety-nine copies of the Bradford History were sold during the eleven months, January to November, inclusive, of 1906.

CARE OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

In my last annual report I called attention to the neglect on the part of town officers to keep public documents in condition for convenient use. Upon this part of my report the Legislature of 1906 passed a resolve creating a commission, consisting of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Commissioner of Public Records, and the State Librarian, to investigate the matter of the distribution, use and preservation of the various State publications, and report thereon to the present General Court such suggestions for legislation as they might deem expedient. This report has already been laid before the General Court.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1906, including the Manual, Blue Book, Journals, etc., was $33,090.02. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Savings Banks Commissioners, $5,325.72, — a decrease of about $543 over the amount for 1905. The report of the Board of Agriculture cost $5,308.30; the Railroad Commissioners, $4,765.18; and the Board of Health, $3,576.73. The least expensive report was that of the Board of Publication which cost only $10.11. The Blue Book, 12,000 copies, cost $8,843.73, as against $7,003.45 last year. The book contains 1,116 pages, and I think is the largest on record. The Manual cost $4,365.11; the Senate Journal, $1,542.89; the House Journal, $1,689.64. The Senate printing bill was $9,625.01, and the House printing $20,067.27, — an increase of $1,739 in the Senate printing bill and of $4,582 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots, which included the work done for the voting machine in Pittsfield, also 98,800 ballots, corrected set, for the third Congressional district, was $9,262.43, — an increase of about $871 over that of 1905.

NEW VOLUME OF SPECIAL LAWS.

In my last annual report I recommended the publication of a new volume of the special laws, and upon that recommendation the Legislature passed a resolve, chapter 36, for the publication, under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, of the laws of this character passed in the years 1902 to 1905, inclusive. The book will be published within a few weeks.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 525 names changed in 1905, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the eleven months, January to November, inclusive, of 1906, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, and chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, 1,548 licenses, — a decrease of 268 from the number during the same months of 1905. Of this number, 268 were for the State, 618 for counties, 631 for cities and towns, and 31 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 315 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the civil war, — a decrease of 63, as compared with the same months of the previous year; 45 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain, — an increase of 4; and 66 to persons seventy years of age or upwards, — an increase of 16.

Five itinerant vendor's State licenses were issued.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Jan. 1 and July 16, 1906, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, was 355 in cities and 43 in towns, — a total of 398.

Under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, there were issued between July 17 and Nov. 30, 1906, inclusive, 1,195 licenses in cities and 705 in towns, — a total of 1,900. These licenses cover all of the cities and 249 of the towns of the Commonwealth. The total number of licenses issued between Jan. 1 and Nov. 30, 1906, was 2,298.

The recommendation in my last annual report, that the Secretary of the Commonwealth be relieved from the judicial functions imposed upon him by section 3 of chapter 484 of the Acts of 1903, was favorably received by the Legislature of 1906. Under the new act (chapter 434 of 1906), 1,900 licenses have been issued, for each of which a fee of $1 has been received, which fee is now exacted for each year of the continuance of the license.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 11, sections 285 to 306, inclusive), 344 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 22, as compared with 1905. Returns were received at this office covering 321 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 29 to the Attorney-General for his information, 15 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 14 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 23 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and statistics referring to elections appear, as required by law, in Public Document, No. 43 (Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc.), together with recommendations in relation thereto. A report of the number of returns under the corrupt-practices act, so called, will be found in the same document.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 2,600 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail. There were also 3,500 Lincoln Day proclamations sent by mail to churches, institutions, city and town clerks and superintendents of schools.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the eleven months was 25; requisitions upon other States, 49; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 15; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 50; permits for release from State Prison on parole, 2.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 4,477 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1905, — a decrease of 1,417, as compared with the returns for 1904. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1905 was received and filed Jan. 17, 1906.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 7, 1908.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending with Nov. 30, 1907 (being the sixteenth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1 : —

	<hr/> 2,053 90
	<hr/> $110,812 80

The total receipts are greater, by over $6,000, than those of any previous year.

Six volumes of the manuscript collection have been rebound.

Volume XV., "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution," which contains all names between STI and TOZ, the work upon which was completed in November, 1906, was received for distribution Feb. 5, 1907. Volume XVI., containing all names between TRA and WHE, which was commenced immediately after the conclusion of volume XV., was completed in November of this year, and work is now progressing upon volume XVII., which will be a full-sized volume, and will contain all names between WHI and ZYR.

Inasmuch as a certain amount of material embodying service records of individuals has been accumulated, partly from records in the vault, Room 46, and partly from documents presented to this office by descendants of officers who served in the Revolution, because of their approval of the manner in which the State was preserving the records through publication, it is proposed to compile these additional service records upon record index cards similar to those used for the revolutionary rolls collection, and publish these newly found records in the form of an appendix to the publication.

The General Court complied with the request of the Secretary for authorization to return to the State of New Jersey five original muster rolls of Capt. John Mott's Company, Third New Jersey Regiment, which were preserved in the revolutionary rolls collection in this office, by the passage of a resolve, March 6, 1907; and the muster rolls have been transmitted to Brig.-Gen. Heber R. Breintnal, Adjutant-General of the State of New Jersey, in accordance with the directions of the Governor of that State.

REGISTRATION FILES.

The number of visitors during the year was 4,187. There were issued 151 certificates of births, 419 certificates of marriages and 241 certificates of deaths, making a total of 811.

There have been deposited in the registration room, in connection with the vital statistics, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 10 volumes of manuscript copies of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The towns represented are Bradford, Dracut, Gardner, Hubbardston, Lynn (volume 2), Medford, West Stockbridge, Sutton, Templeton and Williamstown.

The accumulated returns of additions and corrections to records of births, marriages and deaths have been sorted and arranged chronologically and also alphabetically by cities and towns, have been page-numbered, and are in readiness to be bound. They will make 7 volumes of the maximum size of the regular volumes of returns, and will be added to the previously bound volumes of additional entries.

The urgent need for room in order to properly care for the records and files is becoming a matter of much concern, and the chief of the archives division has already been forced to separate collections.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 73 different reports), 201,100 volumes, — an increase of 3,000 volumes. Of this number, 121,650 were handled and distributed in the Document Division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,362 copies of the term reports (volumes 191, 192 and 193); 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XV., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 750 copies of volume XIV., Province Laws; 500 copies each of the Histories of the Nineteenth, Forty-eighth and Fiftieth Regiments in the Civil War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Bradford, Dracut, Gardner, Hubbardston, Lynn (volume 2), Medford, West Stockbridge, Sutton, Templeton and Williamstown; 6,000 copies of Laws Relating to Elections; 4,000 copies of laws concerning innholders and common victuallers; 4,800 copies of the Bird Book, so called; and 750 copies of the Report of the Forty-first Annual Encampment, G. A. R., making a grand total of 199,312 volumes which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

Two hundred and seventy-seven copies of the Bradford History were sold during the year.

By a joint order of the General Court, the commission on the contract for the State printing and binding was directed to investigate as to the number of legislative and other State and public documents that are printed and distributed, and especially with reference to the statutes relating thereto, and report to the General Court of 1908 such suggestions for greater economy therein and such amendments of the laws as they may deem expedient. The report required by this order is in preparation.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1907, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $36,784.89, — an increase of about $3,694 over that of 1906. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, $5,885.45, — an increase of about $577 over the amount for 1906. The Report of the Bank Commissioner cost $4,738.25; the Railroad Commissioners, $4,721.26; and the Board of Health, $3,647.44. The least expensive report was that of the Board of Publication, which cost only $10.56. The Blue Book, which is, I think, the largest on record, cost $10,932.74, — an increase of about $2,000 over that of last year. The Manual cost $4,500.42; the Senate Journal, $1,585.06; the House Journal, $1,756.78. The Senate printing bill was $9,446.89 and the House printing $21,363.61, — a decrease of $178.12 in the Senate printing bill and an increase of $1,296.34 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots was $8,710.31, — a decrease of $552.12 over that of 1906.

The contract with the Wright & Potter Printing Company for the execution of the State printing expired with the thirtieth day of June, 1907, and new contracts, covering both the State printing and binding, were made with the same company, for a term of five years, by a commission consisting of the Attorney-General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Treasurer and Receiver-General, the Auditor of Accounts, the Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

EARLIER PUBLICATION OF THE LAWS.

Complaint has been made to this office of the lapse of time between the enactment of the laws and their publication in printed form. In some cases amendatory laws have been in effect for a considerable period before coming to the knowledge of the officers charged with their administration, who, of course, during such period continue to act under the former law. This condition is aggravated by the growing practice of making acts take effect upon their passage. Correction in the latter case rests, of course, with the Legislature. Correction in the former seems to consist in printing the laws separately upon their enactment, as is done in the Congress of the United States. This will undoubtedly increase the cost of the publication of the pamphlet edition of the laws, but, in my judgment, the importance of the matter fully warrants the additional expense. Moreover, it is probable that copies of the laws so printed can be sold in sufficient numbers and at a price which would nearly if not quite cover the increase. I recommend the change from the present practice of printing the laws by "signatures," — that is by sixteen-page instalments.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 562 names changed in 1906, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December to November, inclusive, of 1907, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906 and chapter 571, Acts of 1907, 1,407 licenses. Of this number, 292 were for the State, 575 for counties, 519 for cities and towns, and 17 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes on a stock in trade.

Of free licenses issued, 133 were to soldiers and sailors who served in the civil war; 20 to soldiers and sailors who served in the war against Spain, and 29 to persons seventy years of age or upwards.

By reason of an opinion of the Supreme Court, "Hampden, May 14, 1907," and the passage of chapter 571, Acts of 1907, the issuing of free licenses to soldiers and sailors and to persons seventy years of age and upwards was discontinued. The issuing of taxpayers' licenses was also discontinued.

Four itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

The number of transfers of licenses was 119.

During the past year a report was made to me by the chief of police of a city that a certain pedler, holding a State license, had been convicted twice of offences of a character which proved him to be a particularly unfit person to be allowed to go from house to house under any authority or privilege from the Commonwealth. There is, however, no authority of law for the revocation of a license, and I therefore recommend the passage of a bill providing that in case of the conviction of a licensee of any criminal offence his license shall be thereby forfeited, or that it shall be revoked by this office.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1906, and Nov. 30, 1907, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 319 in cities and 101 in towns, — a total of 420. Fees were received for the continuance of 1,418 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 424 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 80, as compared with 1906. Returns were received at this office covering 389 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 31 to the Attorney-General for his information, 29 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 2 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 35 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1907, was 38; requisitions upon other States, 39; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 21; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 22; permits for release from State Prison on parole, 3; remander to State Prison of paroled prisoner, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 5,802 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1906, — an increase of 1,325, as compared with the returns for 1905. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

By an act of Congress, June 29, 1906, jurisdiction over naturalization is now restricted to the Supreme and Superior Courts.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1906 was received and filed Jan. 16, 1907.

The four special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc. (Public Document, No. 19), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 7, 1909.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending with Nov. 30, 1908 (being the seventeenth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

CORPORATIONS.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1908, was 1,524, — a decrease of 26, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1907. They are classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . . .	1,233
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . . .	243
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 119), . . . . .	16
Churches (under Revised Laws, chapter 36, section 51), . . . . .	16

Public service corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	9
Trust company (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	1
Fire insurance company (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . . . . .	1
Co-operative banks (under Revised Laws, chapter 114), . . . . .	2
Assessment insurance companies (under Revised Laws, chapter 120), . . . . .	3

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 7,532, — an increase of 874, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1907. Of these, 5,113 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,233 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 243 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 326 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 29 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,135, of which 2,012 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 10 other classes.

There were issued 20 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 109 of the Revised Laws and chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 52 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 3 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 16 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 399 cases.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Twenty-eight registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1907 which were received in 1908 cover 85,001 births and 31,055 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1906, of 4,764 births and 1,401 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1907, to Nov. 30, 1908, 58,669 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and still-births, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1907 cover 4,364 cases, — an increase of 686, as compared with the returns for 1906.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1907 number 2,259, being a decrease of 351, as compared with the returns for 1906.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-sixth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

THE ARCHIVES.

The number of visitors to the archives room during the year was 2,797; the number of inquiries for military records, 706; the number of certificates of military service issued, 265. The number of inquiries upon historical and miscellaneous subjects was 71. The number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection was 228.

Eight volumes of the Massachusetts archives collection which were in bad condition have been rebound. The documents were separately cleansed and then mounted with silk hinges upon bond paper leaves, and all were bound in an ecru morocco binding, so that they make, with the others which have been similarly treated, a very creditable appearance.

In addition to the work upon the publication of the revolutionary service records, a number of volumes of the General Court records and Council records have been indexed in modern fashion, and new tables of contents have been made up for the volumes in the manuscript collection which have been rebound.

The question of space for the proper preservation of the volumes of records and the files is becoming more pressing with the passage of every year. The House and Senate files have at present to be deposited in a vault in the basement. Filing space for the bills and resolves and for the Council files, pardons, requisitions, etc., can be preserved only by keeping the record index to the revolutionary rolls collection and to the muster rolls series 1710-1774 in leatheret file boxes, which are stacked upon the metal cases provided for maps and plans and for the card index to the records of births, marriages and deaths. In a few years all the file cases will be filled, and the person in charge of the division will be compelled to exercise considerable ingenuity to care for additions to the present collection of legislative and executive files. The shelf space for volumes of engrossed acts has been exhausted for several years past.

The number of visitors to the registration files room during the year was 5,290. There were issued 142 certificates of births, 468 certificates of marriages and 420 certificates of deaths, making a total of 1,030. There have been deposited in the registration room, in connection with the vital statistics, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 14 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Beverly (volume 2), Billerica, Dover, Dudley, Essex, Hamilton, Holliston, Lincoln, Lynnfield, Marblehead (volume 3), Marlborough, Middlefield, Saugus and Westminster.

The 7 volumes of returns of additions and corrections to records of births, marriages and deaths, which were referred to in my report of 1907, having been sorted and arranged chronologically and also alphabetically by cities and towns and page numbered, were retained until sufficient returns to make an eighth volume had been received. A written card index to all the entries in the 8 volumes has been made and placed in the prepared filing drawers, and is ready for use to supplement the card index to the volumes of original entries. The 8 volumes have been bound in canvas bindings, and properly lettered in similar fashion to the other volumes of additional entries.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR ROLLS.

Volume XVI., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Revolution, containing all names and accompanying service records between TRA and WHE, was completed in November, 1907, and the bound volume was received for distribution Jan. 6, 1908. Volume XVII., containing all names and accompanying service records between WHI and ZYR, has recently been issued, and the entire publication as originally designed, is thus completed. After this work had progressed for some years, additional material properly belonging in the revolutionary rolls collection was gathered from the miscellaneous collection in the vault, Room 46. In addition, there was deposited in the archives division by descendants of revolutionary officers original pay rolls, company returns, etc., in the hope that the Commonwealth would embody the individual service records in a supplement or appendix to the publication. The work of copying all these service records upon index cards similar to those originally compiled is now in progress, and when completed, an appendix to the seventeen published volumes can be printed, which will complete the work creditably.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 75 different reports), 209,600 volumes, — an increase of 8,500 volumes. Of this number, 175,524 were handled and distributed in the Document Division, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 12,000 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,816 copies of the term reports (volumes 194, 195, 196 and 197); 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XVI., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 750 copies of volume XV., Province Laws; 500 copies each of the Histories of the Eighth Regiment in the Spanish War and the Twenty-fourth Regiment in the Civil War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Beverly (volume 2), Billerica, Dover, Essex, Holliston, Lynnfield, Marlborough, Dudley, Hamilton, Lincoln, Marblehead (volume 3), Middlefield, Saugus and Westminster; 5,000 copies of Supplement to Laws Relating to Elections; 2,900 copies of the Bird Book, so called; 2,500 copies of the Census Report, 1905 (volume 3); 2,000 copies of Opinions of Attorneys-General (volume 2); 1,000 copies of the Report of the Tucker Trial; and 750 copies of the Report of the Forty-second Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R., making a grand total of 282,816 volumes, — an increase of 83,504 over the year 1907, — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1908, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $36,617.69, — a decrease of about $167 over that of 1907. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, — $5,695.68, — a decrease of about $190 over the amount for 1907. The Report of the Bank Commissioner cost $5,215.23; the Railroad Commissioners, $5,333.66; the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor, $3,375.27; and the Board of Health, $2,955.25. The least expensive report was that of the Board of Publication, which cost only $10.56. The Blue Book cost $9,815.30, — a decrease of about $1,117 over that of last year. The Manual cost $4,759.01; the Senate Journal, $1,736.74; the House Journal, $1,867.27. The Senate printing bill was $8,242.29 and the House printing $21,981.63, — a decrease of $1,204.60 in the Senate printing bill and an increase of $618.02 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots was $10,534.37, — an increase of $1,824.06 over that of 1907. This increase is due, of course, to the presidential election.

Upon a recommendation contained in a report to the Legislature (House, No. 1224) by a commission consisting of the Attorney-General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Treasurer and Receiver-General, the Auditor of the Commonwealth and the Clerks of the Senate and House, the State Legislature, by chapter 443, authorized the sale by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the Blue Book, at a price not less than the cost of printing, binding and paper. The law appears to have had a salutary effect. The result has been the sale of about 900 copies. A little over 8,000 have been distributed, and there are, in round numbers, 3,000 on hand, — this as compared with about 300 left over the previous year. The new law has naturally created a greater demand for the pamphlet edition of the laws, but there appears to be no pressing necessity for increasing the edition. It is my opinion that the edition of the Blue Book can safely be reduced by 2,500 copies, and I so recommend.

SPECIAL LAWS.

The accumulation of special laws since the last volume of these laws was printed now amounts to about 1,000 pages, and an index thereto would cover about 100 pages, making a volume of 1,100 pages, which is about as much as can be conveniently bound and handled. I therefore recommend the publication of the special acts of 1906-08.

EARLIER PUBLICATION OF THE LAWS.

By an act of the last Legislature (chapter 474), the Secretary of the Commonwealth was directed to print and distribute, as soon as may be after the signing of any bill or resolve by the Governor, a copy thereof to certain designated officials, and also to supply copies to applicants therefor at a price not less than cost.

This act not having been approved until the first day of May, it was impracticable to make the change in the manner of distribution during the last session; but at present the practice conforms with the act, and I trust that the cause of complaint of undue delay in the publication of the laws will be entirely removed. The new practice has, of course, caused an increased cost (about $2,000), but the results will, I think, justify the expense.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 656 names changed in 1907, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1907, to November, inclusive, of 1908, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377. Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, and chapter 571, Acts of 1907, 1,543 licenses. Of this number, 254 were for the State, 655 for counties, and 634 for cities and towns.

One itinerant vendor's State license was issued.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1907, and Nov. 30, 1908, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 431 in cities and 122 in towns, — a total of 553. Fees were received for the continuance of 1,468 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 372 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 52, as compared with 1907. Returns were received at this office covering 358 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 33 to the Attorney-General for his information, 11 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 22 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 14 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1908, was 43; requisitions upon other States, 68; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 26; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 27; remander to State Prison of paroled prisoner, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 247 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1907, — a decrease of 5,555 as compared with the returns for 1906. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1907 were received and filed.

The three special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

DEATH OF SERGEANT CARNEY.

I cannot close this report without referring to the recent death of Sergeant William H. Carney, who had been a messenger in this office since 1901. It is a fresh illustration of the irony of fate that this famous soldier, who had survived the hardships of war and the consequences of serious wounds received while performing conspicuous deeds of daring in battle, should meet his death by an accident in an elevator while in the discharge of a peaceful duty. His was not only a brave but a noble, magnanimous soul, and by his death the State loses a faithful servant and the nation one of its genuine heroes.

Very respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 26, 1910.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives:—

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending with Nov. 30, 1909 (being the eighteenth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties, of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1:—

	$155,271 62

The total receipts are greater, by over $27,000, than those of any previous year.

The total expenses for salaries and incidentals during the year were $45,509.33, from which it appears that there was turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth over $109,000 more than the office expenses.

THE OFFICE FORCE.

During the year the office force has been increased by the addition of a bookkeeper, and Mr. Joseph H. S. Pearson of Boston, a veteran of the civil war, and a thoroughly competent accountant, has been appointed to the place. This addition to the clerical force had become imperative, as will be seen by a reference to the rapidly increasing receipts of the office. It is worthy of note here that these receipts have increased from about $50,000, when the present Secretary came into office, to over $155,000 during the year 1909.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1909, was 2,790, of which 279 were without fee, and 83 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commissions or to qualify thereunder. The different classes were as follows: —

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,346

Certificates to the number of 4,056 were issued. Fees were remitted for 592.

CORPORATIONS.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1909, was 1,706, — an increase of 182, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1908. They are classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . .	1,367
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . .	265
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 119), . . . . .	33
Churches (under Revised Laws, chapter 36, section 51), . . .	24
Public service corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	7
Trust companies (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . .	3
Co-operative banks (under Revised Laws, chapter 114), . . .	4

Credit union (under chapter 419, Acts of 1909), . . . . .	1
Life insurance company (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 8,031, — an increase of 499, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1908. Of these, 5,527 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,367 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 326 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 292 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 31 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,252, of which 2,121 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 20 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 44 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 1 certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 20 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 50 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 385 cases.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Nine registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 15 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 40 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1908 which were received in 1909 cover 86,911 births and 27,071 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1907, of 1,910 births and a decrease of 3,984 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1908, to Nov. 30, 1909, 56,937 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and still-births, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1908 cover 4,282 cases, — a decrease of 82, as compared with the returns for 1907.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1908 number 2,135, being a decrease of 124, as compared with the returns for 1907.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-sixth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

An effort is being made by the Vital Statistician's office in Washington and by the American Public Health Association to improve this important branch of the service, especially with reference to causes of death. It has been found difficult in many cases, under our present statute, to obtain a statement of causes of death satisfactory to the United States authorities, who are striving particularly to establish uniform methods throughout the country. I recommend such legislation as will enable the registration officers to conform with the requirements which are declared necessary by the statistical authorities referred to to obtain the completest possible data concerning deaths.

THE ARCHIVES.

The number of visitors during the year was 2,770; the number of written inquiries for military records, 672; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 103; number of certificates of military service issued, 233. The number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection was 203. The amount of fees received for military records was $231.15; for copies, $161.75; making a total of $392.90.

It has been found necessary to rebind eight volumes of the Massachusetts archives. The same process has been followed as with the volumes previously treated, the separate documents being cleansed, dampened and pressed, and then mounted with silk hinges on bond paper leaves and placed in ecru morocco bindings. All the volumes thus treated and bound are very creditably and substantially preserved for future use and reference. New tables of contents have been prepared for all the rebound volumes and name indexes for those containing military records.

The number of visitors to the registration files room during the year was 5,422. There were issued 281 certificates of births, 462 certificates of marriages and 348 certificates of deaths, making a total of 1,091. The amount of fees received was $77.50.

There have been received and deposited in the registration room, in connection with the vital statistics, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 9 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Ashburnham, Brookfield, Danvers, Methuen, Scituate (2 volumes), Sharon, Spencer and Winchendon.

A type-written card index has been made to the volumes of additional records containing additions and corrections to the records of births, marriages and deaths as originally returned to this office. This index was made to take the place of the written card index previously made to supplement the card index to the volumes of original entries. The use of different colored cards enables us to place the new reference cards in the file drawers in juxtaposition with the cards carrying the references to the original returns, so that it can be told at a glance when two returns have been made of an individual record.

Four, and part of the time five, clerks have been at work upon the card indexes to the returns of vital statistics during the year.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 79 different reports), 199,800 volumes, — a decrease of 9,800 volumes. Of this number, 177,926 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 9,500 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,816 copies of the term reports (volumes 198, 199, 200 and 201); 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 1,000 copies of volume XVII., Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War; 500 copies each of the Histories of the Tenth and Forty-fifth Massachusetts Regiments in the Civil War, the Tenth Massachusetts Battery in the Civil War and the Fortieth New York (Mozart) Regiment in the Civil War; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Ashburnham, Brookfield, Danvers (volume 1), Methuen, Sharon, Spencer, Winchendon and Scituate (volumes 1 and 2); 5,000 copies of Supplement to Laws Relating to Elections; 5,000 copies of the Census Report, 1905 (volume 1); 5,000 copies of Laws concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers; 950 copies of the Report of the Metropolitan Improvements Commission; 750 copies of the Forty-third Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 500 copies of the Electoral College; and 300 copies of the Report of the School for the Deaf, making a grand total of 271,616 — a decrease of 11,200 over the year 1908 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

BLUE BOOK.

The results of the law authorizing the sale of the Blue Book and cutting down the edition from 12,000 to 9,500 copies appear to have been entirely satisfactory. The number of copies sold is 608, which is over 100 less than the number sold in the previous year, and there remain on hand over 900 copies. I suggest, therefore, the reduction of the edition from 9,500 to 9,000, which will effect a further saving of $575.

TOWNS DISCARDING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1908, "An Act relative to the distribution of public documents to cities and towns," nine towns have voted not to receive the series of public documents; and upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Records, who says that, in his opinion, such towns are unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents, this office has discontinued sending them to the following towns: Carver, East Longmeadow, Egremont, Grafton, Hamilton, Monterey, Montgomery, Mount Washington and New Ashford.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1909, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $37,466.89, — an increase of over $800 over that of 1908. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, — $6,395.19, — an increase of about $699 over the amount for 1908. The Report of the Railroad Commissioners cost $5,243.82; the Bank Commissioner, $4,739.27, — a decrease of $475 over the amount for 1908; and the Report of the Director of the Bureau of Statistics, $1,639.15, — a decrease of $1,736 over the amount for 1908. The least expensive report was that of the Board of Registration in Embalming, which cost $10.01. The Blue Book cost $8,665.18, — a decrease of $1,150 over that of last year. The Manual cost $4,795.61; the Senate Journal, $1,625.11; the House Journal, $1,826.95. The Senate printing bill was $10,820.88 and the House printing $23,672.69, — an increase of $2,578 in the Senate printing bill and an increase of $1,691 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots was $7,975.49.

NEW VOLUME OF SPECIAL LAWS.

In my last annual report I recommended the publication of a new volume of the Special Laws, and upon that recommendation the Legislature passed a resolve, chapter 33, for the publication, under the direction of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, of the laws of this character passed in the years 1906-08, inclusive. The new volume (No. 20) is now completed and being distributed.

TERM REPORTS.

Under authority of chapter 11 of the Resolves of the year 1909, the contract between the Commonwealth and the firm of Little, Brown & Co., for the publication of the decisions of the supreme judicial court, has been renewed for the further term of five years from the first day of August, 1909.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 552 names changed in 1908, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1908, to November, inclusive, of 1909, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, and chapter 571, Acts of 1907, 1,560 licenses. Of this number, 284 were for the State, 541 for counties, and 735 for cities and towns.

Five itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1908, and Nov. 30, 1909, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 1,357 in cities and 127 in towns, — a total of 1,484. Fees were received for the continuance of 1,664 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 405 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 33, as compared with 1908. Returns were received at this office covering 395 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 41 to the Attorney-General for his information, 20 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 21 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 10 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1909, was 35; requisitions upon other States, 87; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 14; transfers from prisons, etc., to hospitals, 12 to July. (By chapter 504, Acts of 1909, the law was changed so that these warrants are now issued by justices of the superior court.) Remander to State Prison of paroled prisoner, 1; parole from State Prison, 1; respites of death sentence, 2; commutations of death sentence, 2.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 683 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1908, — an increase of 436, as compared with the returns for 1907. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1908 were received and filed.

The three special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

ADDITIONAL SPACE REQUIRED.

For several years I have urged upon the Legislature the necessity for more filing space for this office, if the records and archives are to be so placed as to insure proper care and accessibility. During the past year the Governor and Council have seen fit to transfer a room which had been used for the accommodation of clerks engaged in election and statistical work, so that the situation is at present more acute than ever. I earnestly request an investigation of this matter, to the end that a more judicious distribution of space throughout the State House may be made, and that the rapidly increasing volume of public records which pours into this office may be properly accommodated.

I suggest also an inquiry for the purpose of determining the question (which seems now to be doubtful) as to where the authority rests for the assignment of rooms. In the case in point, this office needs the room of which it has recently been deprived for filing corporation returns, which are overflowing the space allotted to them; and I respectfully request that the Legislature will take such action as may result in its restoration.

ERROR IN CODIFICATION OF LABOR LAW.

It has been discovered that in the act to codify the laws relating to labor (chapter 514), passed by the Legislature of 1909, an error occurred in section 145, by which chapter 320 of 1904, which is an act relative to the venue of actions brought to recover for certain injuries or damages, was repealed, instead of chapter 320 of 1903, which is an act relative to public service corporations and their employees, — the act intended to be repealed. I recommend to the Legislature a correction of this error, and submit a bill therefor.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 26, 1911.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives :—

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1910 (being the nineteenth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amount received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$13,280 00

Sale of books, etc., . . . . .	2,532 25
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	139 00
Sale of Blue Books, . . . . .	1,044 25
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	762 00

	$150,970 09

The receipts were less by $4,301.53 than those of the year immediately preceding, but more than $22,000 greater than those of any other preceding year. The falling off is due chiefly to a decrease in the income from corporation certificates.

The total expenses for salaries and incidentals during the year were $48,731.01, from which it appears that there was turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth over $102,000 more than the office expenses.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1910, was 2,923 (an increase of 133 over the preceding year), of which 267 were without fee, and 94 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commissions or to qualify thereunder. Certificates to the number of 3,756 were issued. Fees were remitted for 544.

CORPORATIONS.

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1910, was 1,570, — a decrease of 136, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1909. They are classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . . .	1,268
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . . .	220
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 119), . . . . .	35

Trust companies (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	8
Co-operative banks (under Revised Laws, chapter 114), . . . . .	8
Credit unions (under chapter 419, Acts of 1909), . . . . .	6

Public service corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	5
Savings banks (under chapter 590, Acts of 1908 and chapter 491, Acts of 1909), . . . . .	2
Insurance companies (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . . . . .	2
Assessment insurance company (under Revised Laws, chapter 120), . . . . .	1
Assessment insurance company, reincorporated as stock company (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . . . . .	1
Street railway company (under chapter 463, part III., Acts of 1906), . . . . .	1
Horticultural society (under Revised Laws, chapter 124, section 19), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 8,476, — an increase of 445, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1909. Of these, 6,047 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,268 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 277 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 293 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 38 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,236, of which 2,064 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 16 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 55 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 2 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 28 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 61 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 7, Revised Laws, which relates to the adoption and registration of labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement, the duty is placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing and recording certificates of record. Under this law, labels, trade-marks, stamps and forms of advertisement were received and certificates of record issued and recorded in 382 cases.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Three registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 11 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 13 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

The volumes of record and filing cases for corporations, limited partnerships, trade-marks, insignia of societies and labor unions, and the descriptions of marks and devices on milk cans and receptacles for other beverages, have now reached such bulk that it is urgent to provide more room for the proper care and accessibility to the public of those that are to be hereafter received.

The casing and files installed in the corporation division during the year 1910 will not much more than provide for record matter received during the year 1911.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1909, which were received in 1910, cover 84,039 births and 29,002 marriages, — a decrease, as compared with the returns of 1908, of 2,872 births and an increase of 1,931 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1909, to Nov. 30, 1910, 60,655 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and still-births, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1909 cover 4,613 cases, — an increase of 331, as compared with the returns for 1908.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1909 number 2,366, being an increase of 231, as compared with the returns for 1908.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-sixth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

In my last annual report I recommended such legislation as would enable registration officers to conform with the requirements which are declared necessary by the United States Census Bureau in order to obtain a satisfactory statement of causes of death; and in compliance therewith the Legislature passed an act (chapter 322) by which the fourth paragraph of section 1 of chapter 29 of the Revised Laws is amended by inserting after the word "death," in the sixth line of said paragraph, the words, "defined so that it can be classified under the international classification of causes of death."

THE ARCHIVES.

The number of visitors during the year was 2,657; the number of inquiries for military records, 626; the number of certificates of military service issued, 202; the number of written inquiries upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 113; the number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection issued, 204. The amount of fees received for military records was $202; for copies, $125.25; making a total of $327.25.

No new work in the way of compilations from the records or indexing on a large scale has been undertaken during the year, insufficiency of filing space, as stated in the last report, preventing. New and improved tables of contents and name indexes have been made for the volumes in the manuscript collection which have been rebound. The reduced working force is sufficiently employed in waiting upon and giving assistance to visitors, and in making researches for information, historical or otherwise, requested by persons at a distance.

Five volumes of the manuscript collection have been well and substantially rebound, the separate documents having been cleaned, dampened and pressed, and tipped with silk hinges on the bond paper leaves. In addition, thirteen volumes of printed legislative enactments — Early Acts — necessary for consultation have been rebound.

The number of visitors to the registration room during the year was 5,469. There were issued 296 certificates of births, 425 certificates of marriages and 273 certificates of deaths, making a total of 994 certificates. The amount of fees received was $83.25.

There have been received and deposited in the registration room, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 11 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Athol, Bolton, Danvers (Vol. 2), Haverhill (Vol. 1), Natick, Tisbury, Warren, Wayland, Weymouth (2 volumes) and Wrentham (Vol. 1).

I must reiterate that there is a crying necessity for more room for the archives and records. There will shortly be delivered to the Archives Division 108 volumes of death returns. In addition there will be 13 volumes of returns of marriages and additional entries. The shelf room was exhausted three years ago, and there are several hundred volumes of death returns in compartments under the shelves.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 84 different reports), 225,800 volumes, — an increase of 26,000 volumes. Of this number, 201,431 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries, and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 9,500 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 1,816 copies of the term reports (volumes 202, 203, 204 and 205); 1,000 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; and there were also received and distributed 3,000 copies of Supplement to the Revised Laws; 1,200 copies of Special Laws (volume 20); 5,000 copies of the Census Report, 1905 (volume 2); 2,500 copies of the Census Report, 1905 (volume 4); 5,000 copies of Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 750 copies of the Forty-fourth Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 500 copies of the Minute Men of '61; 1,000 copies of Monuments, Tablets and other Memorials; 2,000 copies of Winslow Memorial; 3,000 copies of Banks Memorial; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Athol, Bolton, Danvers (volume 2), Haverhill (volume 1), Natick, Tisbury, Warren, Wayland, Weymouth (volumes 1 and 2) and Wrentham (volume 1), making a grand total of 302,066, — an increase of 30,450 over the year 1909, — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE BLUE BOOK.

Chapter 80 of the Acts of 1910 requires that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, in addition to the former distribution of the Blue Book edition of the Acts and Resolves, send one copy to each city and town treasurer and auditor, and, upon application, to the chairman of each board of city and town officials elected by the voters of the city or town. As the Legislature neither authorized an increase in the edition, nor made any appropriation therefor, I was unable to comply fully with this law. It will be remembered that the Legislature of 1909, acting upon the recommendation of a commission specially charged with the duty of submitting "suggestions for greater economy" in the printing and distribution of legislative and public documents, reduced the edition of the Blue Book from 12,000 to 9,500. In proceeding under the act of 1910 it was found that the number of copies required for town and city treasurers is 354; the number required for auditors, 510; making a total of 864. The number of elective boards of city and town officials each of whose chairmen would be entitled to a copy upon application is estimated at 2,478, it being found that the average number of such boards is seven to each municipality. A requisition from a single town received during the year covers ten such boards. This makes a total addition of 3,342 to the former distribution. The former official distribution required 8,006 books; the number required to supply paying customers is about 1,000, making 9,000; so that to have enough copies to comply with the new law the total number to be printed would not only increase the edition to its former size, but add several hundred more. As the Blue Book of 1910 costs $1.15 per copy for paper, printing and binding, the expense would be at least $3,000. In my judgment, this increase is unnecessary. In the first place, the laws and resolves are printed and distributed to all officials requiring their use as soon as they are signed by the Governor, and any person can purchase these advance sheets for the session at a nominal charge of $2. Second, these laws are printed from time to time, under contract, in the "Boston Daily Advertiser." Third, a pamphlet edition of 20,000 copies is sent to every city and town clerk for free public distribution, and many of these are left untouched. In my opinion, there is not a sufficient reason for an increase in the edition of the Blue Book at present, and I therefore recommend the repeal of chapter 80 of the Acts of 1910.

DISPOSITION OF EXCESS OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

About ten years ago a clearance was made of a large quantity of books of the Public Document series, so called, which had accumulated for many years. Again there is an excess, which occupies space in our storerooms now absolutely necessary for later editions. To relieve this congestion, I recommend that action be now taken similar to that of the Legislature of 1901, which passed a resolve (chapter 92) authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to make such disposition of the public documents and other documents in his charge, stored in the State House, as he deemed advisable, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council.

I trust that this matter, and also that of providing more space for the archives and for the corporation division of this office may receive prompt and favorable action.

TOWNS DISCARDING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1908, "An Act relative to the distribution of public documents to cities and towns," nine towns have voted not to receive the series of public documents; and upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Records, who reports that, in his opinion, such towns are unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents, this office has during the year discontinued sending them to the following towns: Becket, Granville, Hatfield, Heath, Leverett, Plainfield, Southampton, Tolland and Wilbraham. These, added to those previously discarding the public document series, make eighteen towns to which these books are not sent.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1910, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $40,223.76, — an increase of over $2,700 over that of 1909. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Agriculture, — $5,740.15, — a decrease of about $650 over the amount for 1909. The report of the Bank Commissioner cost $5,494.66, — an increase of about $750 over the amount for 1909. The report of the Railroad Commissioners cost $4,965.80, — a decrease of about $200 over that of 1909. Six new documents were added to the list this year. Public Document, No. 90, List of the Officials and Employees of the Commonwealth, cost $3,588.24. Public Document, No. 79, Comparative Financial Statistics of Cities and Towns, issued by the Director of the Bureau of Statistics, cost $3,089.91. The least expensive report was that of the Commission on War Records, which cost $7.68. The Blue Book cost $8,549.15, — a decrease of about $100 over that of last year. The Manual cost $4,797.61; the Senate Journal, $1,637.59; the House Journal, $2,062.17, — an increase of $200 over that of last year. The Senate printing bill was $11,133.35 and the House printing $27,713.42, — an increase of $300 in the Senate printing bill and an increase of $4,000 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing the official ballots was $9,480.84, — an increase of $1,500 over the amount for 1909.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1909, to November, inclusive, of 1910, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, and chapter 571, Acts of 1907, 1,296 licenses, — a decrease of 264 over the year 1909. Of this number, 240 were for the State, 482 for counties and 1,574 for cities and towns.

Four itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1909, and Nov. 30, 1910, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 790 in cities and 114 in towns, — a total of 904. Fees were received for the continuance of 2,253 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906, — an increase of 589 over the year 1909.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 660 names changed in 1909, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 375 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 30, as compared with 1909. Returns were received at this office covering 362 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 28 to the Attorney-General for his information, 10 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 18 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 13 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year 1910, was 48; requisitions upon other States, 52; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 25; remander to Massachusetts Reformatory of paroled prisoner, 1; parole from State Prison, 1; commutation of sentence, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 832 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1909, — an increase of 149, as compared with the returns for 1908. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

ACCEPTANCE OR REJECTION OF ACTS.

By the passage of chapter 483 of the Acts of 1910 it becomes the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to prepare each year a report showing the aggregate vote, both affirmative and negative, on every act or part of an act which shall have been referred by the General Court for acceptance or rejection to the voters of the Commonwealth or of any part thereof, or to the city council of any city. Such a report is in preparation, and will be published, as required by law, in the Acts and Resolves of 1911.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1909 were received and filed.

The three special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 12, 1912.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives: —

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1911 (being the twentieth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amounts received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1: —

Commissions, . . . . .	$14,145 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	155,093 26
Limited partnerships, . . . . .	38 00
Pedlers' licenses, . . . . .	12,698 00
Coal and coke licenses, . . . . .	3,660 00
Sale of books, etc., . . . . .	2,535 50
Sale of Bradford Histories, . . . . .	76 00
Sale of Blue Books, . . . . .	1,072 70
Labels, trade-marks, etc., . . . . .	908 00
Interest, . . . . .	208 61
Miscellaneous: —
Certificates, . . . . .	$846 00
Military Records, . . . . .	177 15
Copies, . . . . .	1,290 00
Advance sheets, . . . . .	372 00
Sale of old plates, . . . . .	1,066 30
	<hr/>
	3,751 45
	$194,186 52

The receipts were $43,216.43 greater than those of the year preceding, due mostly to the increase in the income from corporation certificates.

The total expenses for salaries and incidentals during the year were $48,771.37, from which it appears that there was turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth over $145,000 more than the office expenses.

The salary of the first deputy secretary of the Commonwealth is $2,500 a year. This is a very inadequate compensation for the services rendered by this official, and is besides very much less than is received by more than a score of persons occupying subordinate positions in the service of the Commonwealth. I recommend that his salary be fixed at $3,500 a year.

I also recommend that the secretary be authorized to appoint an additional permanent clerk, to be known as Commission Clerk, at a salary of $1,500 a year. The work to be performed by this clerk has, for the last twenty-three years, been performed by one of the so-styled extra clerks at a salary of $1,200, the limit allowed by law for extra clerks. The work of this clerk has more than doubled during his period of service, and it would seem that after such long and efficient service he is entitled to the slight increase for which I ask.

COMMISSIONS.

(Room 331.)

The number of commissions issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1911, was 3,081 (an increase of 158 over the preceding year), of which 252 were without fee, and 199 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commissions or to qualify thereunder. The different classes were as follows:—

Justices of the peace, . . . . .	1,470
Notaries public, . . . . .	1,242
Commissioners, trustees, etc., . . . . .	108
Special commissioners, . . . . .	42
Justices of the peace to solemnize marriages, . . . . .	40
Supervisors of election, . . . . .	18

Special district police officers, . . . . .	17
Commissioners in other States, . . . . .	14
Medical examiners, . . . . .	14
Clerks, municipal, police and district courts, . . . . .	13
Justices and associate justices, police, municipal and district courts, . . . . .	12
Masters in chancery, . . . . .	12
Public warehousemen, . . . . .	10
Associate justices of the superior court, . . . . .	9
Associate medical examiners, . . . . .	7

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 9,261, — an increase of 785, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1910. Of these, 6,550 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,387 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 268 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 338 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 30 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,260, of which 2,107 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 15 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 63 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 7 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 38 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 38 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(Room 334.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 334.)

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1910 which were received in 1911, cover 86,539 births and 30,710 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1909, of 2,500 births and an increase of 1,708 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1910, to Nov. 30, 1911, 60,195 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1910 cover 5,170 cases, — an increase of 557, as compared with the returns for 1909.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1910 number 2,473, being an increase of 107, as compared with the returns for 1909.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-sixth registration report (Public Document, No. 1).

For several years the bound copies of records of births, marriages and deaths received from the several cities and towns have been kept in the Archives Division of this office (Room 432), while the indexes to the copies of records, numbering nearly 9,000,000 cards, and the copies of the records during the preparation of the Registration Report (Public Document, No. 1), have been kept in Room 332, on the floor below. During the past year balconies have been constructed and the bound copies of records and cases have been placed in Room 332, and now all copies of records of births, marriages and deaths, with indexes thereto, are in one room, making them more accessible to the public and giving the much-needed space in the Archives Division for the proper care and protection of the valuable archives collection.

THE ARCHIVES.

(Rooms 432, 433.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,670; the number of written inquiries for military records was 578; for historical and miscellaneous subjects, 132; number of certificates of military service issued, 177; the number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection was 197. The amount of fees received for military records was $177.15; for copies, $139.75; making a total of $316.90.

Three volumes of the valuable manuscript collection have been treated and rebound in a manner similar to those taken care of in previous years. The separate documents were cleaned, dampened, pressed and mounted upon bond paper leaves and placed in ecru morocco bindings. The pursuance of this course year by year assures the preservation of the manuscripts in the most creditable manner and according to modern standards.

No new work has been undertaken, but the clerks, in such intervals of time as transpire apart from service on visitors or making researches in connection with mail inquiries, occupy themselves in the compilation of name indexes to the military series and other volumes in the manuscript collection, making new tables of contents and work of a similar nature, thereby constantly increasing the accessibility of the records. This sort of work is practically continuous.

The number of visitors during the year to the room where the vital records were previously deposited was 6,154. There were issued 246 certificates of births, 430 certificates of marriages and 270 certificates of deaths, making a total of 946. The amount of fees received was $86.

There were received and filed in connection with the vital statistics, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 10 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths in towns prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Andover, Chester, Foxborough, Hanson, Ipswich, Leominster, Newburyport (volume 1), Pembroke, West Boylston and Wrentham (volume 2). The two clerks who were assigned to this particular phase of the work, in addition to waiting upon visitors and making searches, also sorted alphabetically the index cards prepared for the 1909 returns in order that they might be placed in the file boxes.

The attention of the Legislature is called to the necessity of an appropriation for providing and installing additional metal cases for the files in the Archives Division of the office.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 84 different reports), 241,400 volumes, — an increase of 15,600 volumes. Of this number, 220,456 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE BLUE BOOK.

The present authorized edition of the Blue Book is 9,800 copies. The law provides specifically for the free distribution of 8,943 copies, including the number supplied to the members of the General Court and to its officers, the number required for distribution to the courts of the Commonwealth, to the cities and towns, departments, boards and commissions, and 280 copies reserved for members of the succeeding General Court. In addition to this, chapter 80 of the Acts of 1910 provides that the chairman of each board of city and town officials elected by the voters of the city or town shall each be supplied with a copy, upon application.

The following extract from the report of the late Secretary Olin for the year 1910 shows that it is impossible to comply with the law in regard to the distribution of the Blue Book with the present authorized edition: —

Chapter 80 of the Acts of 1910 requires that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, in addition to the former distribution of the Blue Book edition of the Acts and Resolves, send one copy to each city and town treasurer and auditor, and, upon application, to the chairman of each board of city and town officials elected by the voters of the city or town. As the Legislature neither authorized an increase in the edition, nor made any appropriation therefor, I was unable to comply fully with this law. It will be remembered that the Legislature of 1909, acting upon the recommendation of a commission specially charged with the duty of submitting "suggestions for greater economy" in the printing and distribution of legislative and public documents, reduced the edition of the Blue Book from 12,000 to 9,500. In proceeding under the act of 1910 it was found that the number of copies required for town and city treasurers is 354; the number required for auditors, 510; making a total of 864. The number of elective boards of city and town officials each of whose chairmen would be entitled to a copy upon application is estimated at 2,478, it being found that the average number of such boards is seven to each municipality. A requisition from a single town received during the year covers ten such boards. This makes a total addition of 3,342 to the former distribution. The former official distribution required 8,006 books; the number required to supply paying customers is about 1,000, making 9,000; so that to have enough copies to comply with the new law the total number to be printed would not only increase the edition to its former size, but add several hundred more. As the Blue Book of 1910 costs $1.15 per copy for paper, printing and binding, the expense would be at least $3,000. In my judgment, this increase is unnecessary. In the first place, the laws and resolves are printed and distributed to all officials requiring their use as soon as they are signed by the Governor, and any person can purchase these advance sheets for the session at a nominal charge of $2. Second, these laws are printed from time to time, under contract, in the "Boston Daily Advertiser." Third, a pamphlet edition of 20,000 copies is sent to every city and town clerk for free public distribution, and many of these are left untouched. In my opinion, there is not a sufficient reason for an increase in the edition of the Blue Book at present, and I therefore recommend the repeal of chapter 80 of the Acts of 1910.

Receiving many requests under the provisions of said chapter 80, I felt it necessary to ask the Attorney-General as to my duty in the matter of distribution. He replied as follows:—

I am of opinion that it is the duty of the Secretary to distribute in accordance with the statutes to any person entitled thereunder to a copy so long as the Blue Books last, and that the Secretary cannot refuse to give a person so entitled a copy for the purpose of retaining the same to distribute under other provisions.

Either the number of copies of the Blue Book to be distributed at the expense of the Commonwealth must be reduced or the edition must be increased. In my judgment there is no alternative.

I repeat the recommendation of my predecessor, with the suggestion that the repeal be only of that portion of the law which relates to the chairmen of boards, etc. This would leave the number supplied to cities and towns amply sufficient for their use, and would also leave a sufficient number to supply the demand by attorneys and others who desire to purchase the book.

I suggest that a limited number of Blue Books be placed at the disposal of the Secretary for distribution in certain important cases not now provided for by law.

DISPOSITION OF EXCESS OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

About ten years ago a clearance was made of a large quantity of books of the Public Document series, so called, which had accumulated for many years. Again there is an excess, which occupies space in our storerooms now absolutely necessary for later editions. To relieve this congestion I recommend that action be taken authorizing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to make from time to time such disposition of the Public Documents and other documents in his charge as he deems advisable, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council.

TOWNS DISCARDING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1908, "An Act relative to the distribution of public documents to cities and towns," thirteen towns have voted not to receive the series of Public Documents; and upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Records, who reports that, in his opinion, such towns are unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents, this office has during the year discontinued sending them to the following towns: Barnstable, Brewster, Harwich, Lakeville, Marion, Orange, Palmer, Paxton, Prescott, Rehoboth, Rochester, Rowe and Sandisfield. These, added to those previously discarding the Public Document series, make thirty-one towns to which these books are not sent.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1911, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $41,735.64, — an increase of $1,511.88 over that of 1910. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, — $7,307.55, — an increase of more than $2,000 over the amount for 1910, owing chiefly to certain forms and additional matter required by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The report of the Board of Agriculture cost $5,924.76, — a slight increase over that for the year 1910. The report of the Bank Commissioner cost $5,489.10. The smallest Public Document issued was that of the Commission on War Records, which cost $11.86. Two new documents were added to the list this year, Report of the Board of Registration of Nurses (No. 91), and Statements concerning Metropolitan Parks, Sewerage and Water Districts (No. 92). The Blue Book cost $11,497.86, — an increase of almost $3,000 over the amount for 1910. This increase was caused by a larger edition (300 volumes) and the fact that the book contains 387 pages more than that of the previous year. The Manual cost $4,821.45; the Senate Journal $2,142.35, — an increase of about $500 over that of 1910; the House Journal $2,586.86, — an increase of over $500. In each case the increase was caused by the book's being larger, by over 500 pages, than the year before. The Senate printing bill was $11,483.24 and the House printing bill $28,102.66, — an increase of over $300 in each case. The cost of printing the official ballots was $9,004.20, — a decrease of about $475 over that of 1910.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1910, to November, inclusive, of 1911, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, and chapter 571, Acts of 1907, 1,353 licenses, — an increase of 57 over the year 1910. Of this number, 230 were for the State, 629 for counties and 494 for cities and towns.

Three itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1910, and Nov. 30, 1911, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 965 in cities and 78 in towns, — a total of 1,043, — an increase of 139 over 1910. Fees were received for the continuance of 2,617 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906, — an increase of 364 over the year 1910.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 641 names changed in 1910, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed, in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

SPECIAL LAWS.

The accumulation of special laws since the last volume (volume XX) was printed is now sufficient to make a volume of about 1,450 pages, about as large as can be bound and conveniently handled. This series has been continued from the adoption of the Constitution down to and including the year 1908. If it is deemed advisable to continue the publication of this series of the laws it will be necessary for the General Court of 1912 to provide for the publication of an additional volume covering the special legislation of the years 1909, 1910 and 1911.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 403 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 28, as compared with 1910. Returns were received at this office covering 379 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 24 to the Attorney-General for his information, 7 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and the 17 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 24 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, 1,050 were distributed by mail. There were also mailed to the cities and towns, for the use of the schools, 3,500 Lincoln Day proclamations. Two proclamations promulgating the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth amendments to the Constitution were issued by the Governor and distributed to cities and towns.

ENGROSSING.

During the closing days of each legislative session it becomes difficult, under existing law, to make rapid progress in engrossing bills, and I suggest to the Legislature the advisability of considering a change in method. Section 19, chapter 3 of the Revised Laws provides that:—

Bills and resolves which have been passed to be engrossed shall, under the direction of the secretary of the commonwealth, be fairly engrossed on parchment in a plain and legible hand-writing, without interlineation, and with a margin of not less than one inch on each side.

As this law provides that the engrossing shall be done by hand, on parchment, rapidity is difficult and although extra clerks are engaged on the work during the closing days of each legislative session, the results are not entirely satisfactory, and as the work is done in some States by printing or typewriting, I suggest the advisability of considering an amendment to the law, permitting engrossing by hand or typewriting, and on parchment or parchment paper.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 74; requisitions upon other States, 63; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 28; remander to State Prison of paroled prisoner, 1; parole from State Prison, 1; commutation of sentence, 1.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,019 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1910,—an increase of 187, as compared with the returns for 1909. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1910 were received and filed.

The three special reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely: Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document, No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who Voted, etc. (Public Document, No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 10, 1913.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1912 (being the twenty-first annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amounts received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1:—

Commissions, . . . . .	$14,075 00
Corporation certificates, . . . . .	193,776 06

	$233,102 11

The receipts were $38,915.59 greater than those of the year preceding, due mostly to the increase in the income from corporation certificates.

The total expenses for salaries and incidentals during the year were $53,141.41, from which it appears that there was turned into the treasury of the Commonwealth almost $180,000 more than the office expenses.

By section 8 of chapter 377, Acts of 1873, the salaries of the extra clerks in the Secretary's office were limited to $1,500 each, and so remained until 1879, when, by chapter 79 of the Acts of that year, the limit was reduced to $1,100. By chapter 224 of the Acts of 1881 this limit was raised to $1,200, at which figure it has remained now for thirty-two years. In view of the fact that in no other branch of the service of the Commonwealth is there any general appropriation for extra clerks which limits their salary, I am constrained to admit that this is a serious impediment and the department is thereby handicapped in retaining the services of experienced and competent clerks, and I therefore, for the good of the service, recommend a change in the statute.

SALARIES OF HERBERT H. BOYNTON, DEPUTY SECRETARY, AND PETER F. J. CARNEY, CHIEF OF CORPORATION DIVISION.

I recommend that the salary of Herbert H. Boynton, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, be fixed at $4,000 per annum. I do this because I believe that his salary is inadequate for the service required of him, and this belief is shared by the citizens of the Commonwealth, who have reason to know the extent of his duties and the splendid abilities which he brings to them. My predecessor, the late William M. Olin, said of Mr. Boynton in a report to the General Court, "His thoroughness and capacity for infinite painstaking is of the highest value," in which I heartily agree. His knowledge of the laws and his conspicuous service in connection with the details of State elections for the past seventeen years are well known. The primaries, requiring the employment of more than 20 additional clerks, have added materially to his duties. Mr. Boynton has the direction also of the Registration of Vital Statistics, the Index, License and Document Divisions. His long and varied experience in the department, covering a period of thirty-seven years, makes his services of great value.

I recommend also that the salary of Peter F. J. Carney, in charge of the Corporation Division, be fixed at $3,000 per annum. On account of recent legislation and an abnormal growth of business in the office, Mr. Carney's duties and responsibilities have been increased, in which it is conceded he displays especial ability, enhanced by his many years of experience.

Efficiency of service deserves and should receive adequate compensation; and I feel that I would be remiss in my duty to the Commonwealth, and that I would be doing an injustice to deserving, faithful and conspicuously efficient public servants, if I hesitated to make these recommendations.

The number of commissions issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1912, was 3,175 (an increase of 94 over the preceding year), of which 360 were without fee and 112 became void by reason of the failure of the appointees to take out the commis-

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1912, was 1,811, — an increase of 41, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1911. They are classified as follows: —

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 9,846, — an increase of 585, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1911. Of these, 6,974 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110, of the Revised Laws, and section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 1,453 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 271 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 380 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 27 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,185, of which 2,044 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 14 other classes.

There were issued 14 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 59 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 3 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 31 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(Room 334.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 334.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Thirteen registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1911, which were received in 1912, cover 88,327 births and 32,051 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1910, of 1,788 births and an increase of 1,341 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1911, to Nov. 30, 1912, 58,908 certified copies of records of deaths. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1911 cover 6,026 cases, — an increase of 856, as compared with the returns for 1910.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1911 number 2,909, being an increase of 436, as compared with the returns for 1910.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the sixty-seventh registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 192 certificates of births, 408 certificates of marriages, and 261 certificates of deaths, making a total of 861. The amount of fees received was $64.50.

There were received and filed, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 6 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Andover (volume 2), Haverhill (volume 2), Ipswich (volume 2), Newbury (volumes 1 and 2) and Newburyport (volume 2).

EXHIBIT AT THE FIFTEENTH INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS ON HYGIENE AND DEMOGRAPHY.

There was prepared under the direction of the Secretary a chart exhibit for the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography, which was held in the city of Washington in the District of Columbia from Sept. 25 to 28, inclusive, 1912. The exhibit was of especial interest as Massachusetts has the proud distinction of having the oldest official State registration of vital statistics in the world. The charts were of uniform size (22 by 28 inches) and covered the following subjects: —

THE ARCHIVES.

(Rooms 432, 433.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,576; the number of written inquiries for military records, 698; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 191; the number of certificates of military service issued, 191; number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection, 307. The amount of fees received for military records was $191.60; for copies, $185.90, making a total of $377.50.

The transfer of the vital records to the registration room on the third floor has afforded the necessary space for the installation of a sufficient number of metal file and shelf cases in Room 433 to provide for approximately fifteen years' future accommodation for the executive and legislative files, journals, record books, etc., besides permitting the filing and shelving of material for which there had been previously no space.

Ten volumes of the Massachusetts Archives manuscript collection have been rebound. The same process has been followed as with the volumes previously treated, the separate documents being cleansed, dampened and pressed, then hinged on bond-paper leaves and placed in ecru morocco bindings. The volumes thus treated and bound are substantially preserved for future use and reference. This work is practically continuous, as each year a certain number of volumes show signs of wear and disintegration of the bindings.

In addition to the bound volumes of manuscripts there is another group of records that require attention. Resolves were not engrossed on parchment until 1836. The original resolves from 1780 down to the year before mentioned, together with the petitions, committee reports, etc., accompanying them, have always been kept in files. A large proportion of these papers are broken in the folds and almost too frail to be handled. Steps should be taken without much further delay to have them backed and strengthened so that they can be creditably preserved.

In accordance with chapter 22, Resolves of 1912, the accumulated returns of votes in cities and towns at State elections, covering a period of twenty-five years, 1877-1902, have been destroyed. The figures being preserved in the official registers of votes, the original returns do not need to be kept, and additional space is acquired in the vault. It is proposed to destroy in the same manner aggregates of polls, property and taxes and auditors' warrants that were prepared in advance of treasury pay rolls.

No new work has been undertaken. The working force has been lessened by the transfer of two clerks to the registration room. The number remaining is only sufficient to carry on the routine work of the division: waiting on visitors; making searches for records desired in mail inquiries; fitting and assembling individual records in the record index to the Muster Rolls series, 1710-74; compiling name indexes; and making new tables of contents to the rebound volumes of manuscripts.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 88 different reports), 233,950 volumes, — a decrease of 7,450 volumes. Of this number, 215,451 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the Blue Book; 12,440 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; 500 copies of Laws relating to Elections; 5,000 copies of Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 2,500 copies of the special report on the Game Birds of the Commonwealth; 500 copies of the History of the 17th Massachusetts Regiment; 500 copies of the History of the 2nd Massachusetts Battery; 700 copies of the Forty-sixth Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 353 copies each of Term Reports Nos. 209, 210 and 211, total, 1,059 copies; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Andover (volume 2), Haverhill (volume 2), Ipswich (volume 2), Newbury (volumes 1 and 2), making a grand total of 292,549 — a decrease of 25,967 from the year 1911 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

Under the provisions of chapter 22 of the Resolves of the current year, the Secretary has disposed of an accumulation of Public Documents occupying space in our storerooms which was necessary for later editions.

The law governing the printing and distribution of the Blue Book provides that the Secretary, after making the official distribution fixed by law, "may sell the remaining copies at a price not less than the cost of printing, binding and paper."

There is nothing in the law giving the Secretary discretion in the matter of sale. He is obliged to sell to any person making application, whether the applicant desires to purchase for purposes of resale or for his own individual use. It sometimes happens that when the copies of the Blue Book placed at the disposal of the Secretary are exhausted, copies are found for sale in the hands of booksellers. This has subjected the office of the Secretary to criticism, and charges have been made of collusion between this office and certain booksellers.

In order, if possible, to prevent unfounded charges of such a nature being made, I recommend that the law be amended so that no copies of the Blue Book shall be sold by the Secretary for purposes of resale.

By chapter 566 of the Acts of 1911 the boards of trustees of the Lyman School for Boys at Westborough, the State Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster, and the Industrial School for Boys at Shirley were abolished and a new board created, to be known as Trustees of Massachusetts Training Schools, said last-named Board to have "the management, government and care of all reformatory institutions for juveniles, except the reformatory at Concord."

Under the provisions of the law governing the printing of Public Documents the edition of the report of this new Board was limited to 1,000 copies. Inasmuch as this number has been found insufficient for the use of the Board and for public distribution, I recommend that the edition be increased to 1,500 copies.

The enormous increase in the duties of this department incident to the primaries and elections, which requires the employment of more than 20 temporary clerks, makes the present facilities inadequate. In the already crowded condition of the building I cannot expect the assignment of more room, and I recommend an appropriation for the transfer of the Document and License Division, now in Room 333, to Room 118, used as the Shipping Division, and the arrangement of Room 333 as an Election Division. I am each year required to draw on the Sergeant-at-Arms for some unoccupied committee room for election purposes. This has proved a serious inconvenience not only to the public but to the persons in charge of the work, such rooms being too far removed from the main office.

TOWNS DISCARDING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1908, "An Act relative to the distribution of public documents to cities and towns," 13 towns have voted not to receive the series of Public Documents; and upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Records, who reports that, in his opinion, such towns are unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents, this office has during the year discontinued sending them to the following towns: Acushnet, Florida, Gill, Halifax, Leverett, North Andover, North Reading, Phillipston, Raynham, Richmond, Sturbridge, Washington and Wendell. These, added to those previously discarding the Public Document series, make 44 towns to which these books are not sent.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1912, including the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $43,375.44, — an increase of $1,639.80 over that of 1911. The most expensive single report in the Public Document series was that of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, — $8,287.70, — an increase of $980.15 over the amount for 1911. The report of the Bank Commissioner cost $5,799.11, — a slight increase over that for the preceding year. The report of the Board of Agriculture cost $5,595.79, a slight decrease over that for the year 1911. The smallest Public Document issued was that of the Commission on War Records, which cost $12.11. Three new documents were added to the list this year, report of the Trustees of the Massachusetts Training Schools (No. 93), report of the Directors of the Port of Boston (No. 94), and the report of the Supervisor of Loan Agencies (No. 95). The Blue Book cost $10,663.44, — a reduction of $834.42 over the amount for 1911. The Manual cost $4,846.56; the Senate Journal, $2,351.93, — an increase of $209.58 over that of 1911; the House Journal, $2,636.35, — an increase of $49.49 over the preceding year. The Senate printing bill was $12,585.31 and the House printing bill $33,468.61, — an increase of $1,102.07 in the Senate printing bill and of $5,365.95 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing official ballots was $8,697.03, a decrease of about $300 over that of 1911. The size of the ballot this year increased to 5 columns, the largest official ballot ever used in the State. Under the provisions of chapter 266 of the Acts of the present year only one set of ballots was printed and sent out, which resulted in a large saving of expense over former presidential years.

The contract with the Wright & Potter Printing Company for the execution of the State printing expired with the thirtieth day of June, 1912, and a new contract, covering the State printing and binding, was made with the same company for a term of five years, by a commission consisting of the Attorney-General, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Treasurer and Receiver-General, the Auditor of the Commonwealth, the clerk of the Senate and the clerk of the House of Representatives.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 46 to the Attorney-General for his information, 12 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 34 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 28 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

There were issued during the year 197 certificates of births, 478 certificates of marriages, and 324 certificates of deaths, making a total of 999. The amount of fees received was $65.25.

There were received and filed, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 9 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Carver, Duxbury, Framingham, Hopkinton, Hull, Newburyport (volume 2), Sherborn, Stowe and Worthington.

Under the provisions of section 1 of chapter 752 of the Acts of 1913, the Secretary of the Commonwealth prepared a printed list of all legal impediments to marriage, which was furnished to the clerk or registrar of every city and town for posting.

THE ARCHIVES.

(ROOMS 432, 433.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,877; the number of written inquiries for military records, 661; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 215; the number of certificates of military service issued, 191; number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection, 202. The amount of fees received for military records was $191.10; for copies, $140.75, making a total of $331.85.

Eight volumes of the Massachusetts Archives manuscript collection have been rebound. The documents therein were treated according to the most approved process known to archivists, being cleansed, repaired and backed when necessary with mousseline de soie, resized and pressed, mounted with silk hinges on bond paper leaves and placed in the best quality of morocco bindings.

The time of the limited force in this division is so fully occupied in making research for visitors that but little opportunity is afforded for original work, but during the past year a card index was begun, and is nearing completion, of the maps and plans collection. It will approximate 15,000 cards, thoroughly cross-referenced, and will be a great improvement over the old index and catalogue of titles.

There was also begun recently, at the request of several historians, an index by towns of the 17-volume work known as "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolutionary War." At present it requires a search through the whole work to find what a town contributed in the way of men to the struggle for independence.

SALARY OF THE CHIEF OF THE ARCHIVES.

I recommend that the salary of the present Chief of the Archives Division be fixed at $2,500 a year. The present incumbent has been in charge of the archives since 1891, being made chief of that division in 1897, at a salary of $2,000, and his salary has remained at that figure since, while practically every other employee of the Commonwealth occupying an equally responsible position has received an increase in salary. Massachusetts has the richest collection of archives of any State in the Union, and few men in the country have a greater specialized knowledge along this line than the present Chief of the Archives Division of this Commonwealth, Mr. James J. Tracy.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 88 different reports), 229,000 volumes, — a decrease of 4,950 volumes. Of this number, 210,700 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and received for distribution 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; 10,000 copies of Laws relating to Elections; 750 copies of the Forty-seventh Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 453 copies each of Term Reports Nos. 211, 212 and 213, total, 1,359 copies; 1,000 copies of the Records of the Massachusetts Militia in the War of 1812-14; 3,000 copies of the Commission on the Support of Dependent Minor Children of Widowed Mothers (House, No. 2075); 500 copies Supplement to Revised Laws; 550 copies Report of the Electoral College; 300 copies of the Report of the Commission on Part-time Education; 1,500 copies of the Cumulative Index; 300 copies of the Report of Connecticut Valley Waterway Board on an Investigation of the Connecticut River; 1,200 copies of Special Laws, Vol. 21; 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; 500 copies of the Dedication Exercises at the Massachusetts Military Monument, Valley Forge, Pa.; and 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Carver, Duxbury, Framingham, Hopkinton, Hull, Newburyport (Vol. 2), Sherborn, Stowe and Worthington, making a grand total of 300,859 — an increase of 8,310 over the year 1912 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

LIBRARIES DISCARDING BOOKS AND REPORTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 93 of the Acts of 1913 the trustees of 8 town libraries voted during the year not to keep or receive certain books and reports which the Secretary is authorized to send to such libraries, and at the request of the Commissioner of Public Records this office has during the year discontinued sending the books and reports designated to the following libraries: Granby, Georgetown, Lakeville, Leverett, Manchester, Middlefield, Warwick and West Stockbridge. Three of these libraries — Granby, Lakeville and West Stockbridge — request the discontinuing of all the books and reports which the Secretary is authorized to send, and in other cases the books and reports designated include, among others, the Public Document series, Blue Books and Reports of Capital Trials.

TOWNS DISCARDING PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

Under the provisions of chapter 422 of the Acts of 1908, "An Act relative to the distribution of public documents to cities and towns," 12 towns voted during the year not to receive the series of Public Documents; and upon the recommendation of the Commissioner of Public Records, who reports that, in his opinion, such towns are unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents, this office has during the year discontinued sending them to the following towns: Barre, Blandford, Dartmouth, Hancock, Medfield, Nantucket, Savoy, Scituate, Shutesbury, South Hadley, Sutton and Warwick. These, added to those previously discarding the Public Document series, make 56 towns to which these books are not sent.

In my opinion the above-cited chapter relative to a city or town discontinuing the receipt of the so-called Public Document series is an absurdity. To discontinue receiving the series, a city or town must, at an annual city or town election, vote not to receive the series, and then the Commissioner of Public Records must report to the Secretary of the Commonwealth that in his opinion such city or town is unable to make suitable provision for the care and use of such documents. Thus action by both city or town and the Commissioner of Public Records is necessary before the Secretary can discontinue sending the series; so that even if the city or town does not desire such series, it must continue to receive them unless the Commissioner shall make such report to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. There are undoubtedly many cities and towns which are furnished with this series, at a large annual cost to the Commonwealth, which do not desire them, and probably consign them to the junk heap without even opening the covers. I would suggest that the law be amended so that the vote, instead of being taken at an annual city or town election, be taken by the city council, the board of selectmen, or some other local authorities, and that whether or not a city or town has suitable provision for the care of such documents, it need not receive them if the local authorities request the Secretary of the Commonwealth to discontinue sending them.

Chapter 40 of the Acts of 1857 provided for the furnishing of such series in a bound volume. Through the various revisions of the statutes this provision of the law has been eliminated, but this office has continued to bind the various Public Documents together in volumes. This series now make a set of 12 volumes, and the cost of binding alone is, approximately, $6,000 a year, 500 copies of each Public Document printed being reserved for inclusion in the bound volumes. This holding of 500 copies for the bound volume series removes just that many from the general distribution.

There are undoubtedly many of the Public Documents which cities and towns have use for, but I believe there are few cities and towns which have use for all of them or any desire to receive them.

REVISION OF LAWS RELATING TO DISTRIBUTION OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

I feel that the whole matter of the printing and distribution of Public Documents should receive the serious consideration of the General Court. The law should be amended so that any city or town might apply for and receive when published such Public Documents as it desires. Under present conditions cities and towns do not receive the bound volumes until two or more years beyond the time which such reports cover. This is due to the wide difference in time between the publication of the reports of the various boards and commissions, and renders the volumes practically useless when received. I recommend a thorough revision of the laws relative to the distribution of Public Documents, and would suggest that the number to be printed be not specified by law, but be left to the discretion of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or to the board of commission making the report in conjunction with the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The Senate printing bill was $14,815.90 and the House printing bill $36,970.63, — an increase of $2,230.59 in the Senate printing bill and of $3,502.02 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing official ballots was $33,086.58. The Blue Book increased $3,318.38 over the amount for 1912. Nine new Public Documents were added to the list this year, — report of the Commission on Economy and Efficiency (No. 96), report of the Board of Optometry (No. 97), report of the Commissioner of Animal Industry (No. 98), report of the Board of Retirement (No. 99), report of the Salisbury Beach Reservation Commission (No. 100), Information relative to Voluntary Associations Owning or Controlling Public Service Corporations (No. 101), report of Minimum Wage Commission (No. 102), report of the Homestead Commission (No. 103) and report of State Board of Labor and Industries (No. 104). The paper used in the execution of the State printing and binding contract cost $60,795, and the total cost for State printing was, approximately, $332,640.00.

SIZE OF BLUE BOOK.

The attention of the General Court is respectfully called to the bulkiness of the Blue Books of recent years. Much complaint has been made of the size of the Blue Book, and various suggestions for improving it have been received. This condition might be remedied by separating the Blue Book into two volumes, as is done in many States, one volume containing the general laws and the other the special laws. An alternative suggestion is the elimination from the Blue Book of all matter exclusive of the acts and resolves, and the publication of such matter as the Governor's messages, returns of changes of names, etc., in separate volumes and at less frequent intervals than one year.

SUPERVISION OF STATE PRINTING.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth is designated by law as the supervisor of State printing, but in practice supervision of the State printing is exercised by three heads, — the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Board of Publication and the Auditor of the Commonwealth. I feel that if the Secretary of the Commonwealth were to be given complete supervision over the printing and distributing of Public Documents, many thousand dollars annually would be saved to the Commonwealth.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE REVISED LAWS.

The last Supplement to the Revised Laws, issued in 1910, included the general laws enacted in the years 1902-08, inclusive, — a period of seven years. I would recommend that an appropriation be made by the present General Court for another supplement covering the years 1909-14, inclusive.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1912, to November, inclusive, of 1913, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, chapter 571, Acts of 1907, and chapter 192, Acts of 1912, 1,337 licenses, — a decrease of 86 from the year 1912. Of this number, 195 were for the State, 711 for counties and 423 for cities and towns.

Eight itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

Seventy-three licenses were transferred.

Section 1 of chapter 208 of the Acts of 1908, provides that any license granted to hawkers and pedlers may be revoked by the Secretary of the Commonwealth upon conviction of the licensee of any crime which in the judgment of the Secretary warrants such revocation, but no method is provided by which he may receive information of such revocation, and I would recommend that such chapter be amended so as to provide that clerks of courts shall notify the Secretary.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1912, and Nov. 28, 1913, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 513 in cities and 75 in towns, — a total of 588, — a decrease of 149 from 1912. Fees were received for the continuance of 2,454 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906, — a decrease of 144 from the year 1912.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 684 names changed in 1912, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14, and published in the Blue Book.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive), 482 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 26, as compared with 1912. Returns were received at this office covering 472 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 37 to the Attorney-General for his information, 13 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 24 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 10 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

The total amount returned to this office as having been paid on account of the employment of legislative counsel and agents was $276,182.68.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving and Arbor Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 3,000 were sent by mail to churches and about 100 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamation, about 1,200 were distributed by mail. There were also mailed to the cities and towns, for the use of the schools, 3,500 Lincoln Day proclamations. A proclamation promulgating the forty-second article of amendment to the Constitution, authorizing the referendum, and a proclamation concerning a proposed article of amendment to the Constitution whereby women shall be eligible to appointment as notaries public, were issued by the Governor and distributed to cities and towns.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 69; paroled, 1; remanded to serve remainder of sentences, 2; requisitions upon other States, 71; requisitions upon a foreign country, 3; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 22.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,737 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1912, — an increase of 403, as compared with the returns for 1911. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1912, were received and filed.

The three other reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 10, 1915.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1914 (being the twenty-third annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amounts received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties, and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury-waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

There is also included, in compliance with the provisions of chapter 447 of the Acts of 1914, a report showing the aggregate vote, both affirmative and negative, on every act or part of an act which shall have been referred by the General Court for acceptance or rejection to the voters of the Commonwealth or of any part thereof, or to the city council of any city during the calendar year 1914.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The following table shows, in detail, the receipts from fees, etc., all of which were paid into the treasury monthly, and quarterly reports thereof made to the Governor and Council, as required by Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 1: —

The total receipts were $24,151.56 less than for the preceding year, the receipts from corporation certificates being $28,498.77 less than the corresponding receipts for the preceding year, due, undoubtedly, to the world-wide business depression.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued during the year ending Nov. 30, 1914, was 3,097 (a decrease of 26 over the preceding year), of which 263 were without fee and 87 became void by

Certificates to the number of 3,781 were issued. Fees were remitted for 461.

I recommend that section 9 of chapter 18 of the Revised Laws, which fixes the fee for commissions to be paid by justices of the peace, notaries public, masters in chancery, special commissioners, pilots and certain other commissioners, be amended so that the fee to be charged for such commission shall be $10 instead of $5. All of these commissions, except those of commissioners in other States and territories of the United States, and for foreign countries, extend over a term of seven years or longer, and all authorize the performance of duties which are a source of income to the holders. Therefore it seems that a charge of $10 would not be unreasonable. Based on the number of such commissions issued during the past year such increase in the fee as is recommended would mean an increased revenue to the Commonwealth of approximately $14,000.

SALARY OF CASHIER.

The Legislature of 1913, in removing the $1,200 salary limit on clerks, messengers and other assistants in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth (chapter 721 of the Acts of that year), allowed the limitation to remain upon the salary of the cashier. This position at present is occupied by Mr. Joseph H. S. Pearson, a veteran of the Civil War with an excellent record, and I respectfully request that legislation be enacted so that the removal of the salary limitation shall apply to his office as well as to that of all others in this department.

CORPORATIONS.

(Rooms 334, 335, 336.)

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . .	1,603
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . .	281
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under chapter 628, Acts of 1911), . . . . .	55
Churches (under Revised Laws, chapter 36, section 51), . . . .	12

Credit unions (under chapter 419, Acts of 1909), . . . . .	17
Co-operative banks (under chapter 623, Acts of 1912), . . . . .	5
Public service corporations, including an electric company (under Revised Laws, chapter 110, section 20), . . . . .	3
Electric companies (under chapter 742, Acts of 1914), . . . . .	2
Trust companies (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	9
Savings banks (under chapter 590, Acts of 1908, and chapter 491, Acts of 1909), . . . . .	3
Insurance company (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . . . . .	1
Street railway company (under chapter 463, Part III., Acts of 1906), . . . . .	1
Assessment insurance companies (under Revised Laws, chapter 120), . . . . .	2

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 11,065, — an increase of 611, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1913. Of these, 7,950 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903, and section 65, chapter 742, Acts of 1914); 1,603 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 281 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 410 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 32 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 2,099, of which 1,971 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 60 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 12 other classes.

There were issued 25 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 55 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused in 15 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 30 were filed and recorded.

FEES FOR CERTIFICATES OF GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANIES.

In the consolidation of the laws relative to the manufacture, distribution and sale of gas and electricity passed by the General Court of 1914 (chapter 742) an omission occurred in the matter of providing for the payment of certain fees in this office for filing and recording corporation certificates pertaining to payment of capital, changes in par value of shares and of corporate business, reduction of capital, certificates of condition, etc., after approval by the Commissioner of Corporations.

In view of the fact that the law has provided for payment of these fees since as early as 1863, I recommend that the codification be amended to restore these provisions by passage of the accompanying bill.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 334.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Nine registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 5 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 38 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1913, which were received in 1914, cover 91,644 births and 31,403 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1912, of 1,762 births and 505 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1913, to Nov. 30, 1914, 59,564 certified copies of records of deaths, — a decrease of 1,122 as compared with the returns of 1913. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1913 cover 6,396 cases, — an increase of 245, as compared with the returns for 1912.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1913 number 2,655, being an increase of 123, as compared with the returns for 1912.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the seventy-second registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 162 certificates of births, 447 certificates of marriages, and 248 certificates of deaths, making a total of 857. The amount of fees received was $59.

There were received and filed, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 9 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Abington (volumes 1 and 2), Brockton, Dunstable, Kingston, Reading, Tewksbury, Wakefield and West Bridgewater.

INDEXES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

The card index to the births, marriages and deaths which have occurred in Massachusetts since the year 1842, numbering, approximately, 10,000,000 cards, now occupies so much space in the registration division of this department that there is not sufficient room to install the last five-year period, now being consolidated. This, with the annual increase of at least 250,000 cards, makes it necessary, in order that the index shall be available for general reference, that suitable provision be made for enlarging the balcony space and providing new steel cases and drawers, or for the transfer of the names on the cards in the earlier periods, which are now closed, to loose-sheet books, thereby giving ample space for card increase.

REPORT OF THE ARCHIVES DIVISION FOR 1914.

The number of visitors during the year was 3,033; the number of written inquiries for military records, 629; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 163; the number of certificates of military service issued, 158; number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection, 172. The amount of fees received for military records was $158.65; for copies, $114, making a total of $272.65.

Massachusetts Archives. — Eight volumes of the manuscript collection, known for purposes of historical reference as "Mass. Archives," have been rebound. The documents, after having been removed from the old bindings, were cleaned, dampened and pressed, repaired when necessary with mousseline de soie, hinged on bond paper leaves, and placed in morocco bindings, like the volumes previously treated and rebound. In addition, four volumes of the official manuscript records of the General Court, covering the period 1746-57, were rebound.

Maps and Plans Collection. — This collection is of great value, comprises more than 4,000 original plans, and is frequently consulted. Among these are plans of tracts and townships in Maine filed in the Secretary's office from the pre-revolutionary period to the time of the separation from Massachusetts; those filed in connection with the incorporation of towns; cessions to United States for Federal buildings, fortifications, etc.; the two sets of official town plans filed in accordance with resolves passed in 1794 and 1830; and the atlases showing location of monuments on town boundary lines. A typewritten card index has been made, and when finally reviewed and assembled under subject headings, with guide cards installed, it will be of great use and benefit to visitors, historical societies, and to the clerks when mail inquiries are received. This work has been done by the stenographer during intervals between her regular duties.

Town Index. — The work of compiling an index of towns given as places of residence in "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolutionary War," in order that the names of all those who served from a given town could be easily ascertained, and which could later be printed as an appendix to the official publication, has progressed steadily during the year.

The town names with page references contained in the first nine volumes have been compiled and prepared in such manner as to serve for copy for the State printers. These, of course, cannot be utilized until all the volumes have been examined and the references compiled.

An appendix of this sort is greatly desired by the officials and members of the patriotic societies.

Clerical Work. — There are now twenty-five rebound volumes of the manuscript collection that are without new, modernized tables of contents. The old ones are, of course, returned to the division intact after the volumes have been treated and rebound. The clerical force is just sufficient to perform the routine work, make searches and wait upon visitors. It has not been feasible, therefor, to have these tables of contents prepared and inserted for the past three years. The fitting and assembling of the individual service records of the men who served in the French and Indian War is about completed, and the clerk who has been engaged on that work will be required to prepare and insert the tables of contents now lacking.

War Department. — Permission was granted Capt. H. C. Clark, U. S. A., Director of Publication of Revolutionary Documents, to install a photostat for the purpose of making photographic reproductions of all documents in the Mass. Archives manuscript collection, between 1775 and 1783, that would throw light on the part officially taken by the State and Commonwealth in furtherance of the cause of independence, with a view to their ultimate publication when authorized by Congress. The work has been in progress for nine months, and a number of volumes have been reproduced in their entirety. Dr. Charles H. Lincoln was designated as the supervisor of the work to be done on Massachusetts records, and he has been allotted desk room in the division.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 93 different reports), 186,450 volumes, — a decrease of 43,550 volumes. Of this number, 159,688 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

Excluding the publications of the General Court the cost of Senate printing was $18,261.08 and the cost of House printing was $43,708.20, — an increase of $1,079.20 in the cost of Senate printing and $3,939.71 in the cost of House printing over last year. The cost of printing official ballots was $31,643.50, — a decrease of $3,881.31 from the cost of last year. The Blue Book cost $12,175.47, — a decrease of $1,806.35 from that of last year. Three new public documents were added to the list this year, — report of the Norfolk State Hospital (No. 106), report of the Fire Prevention Commissioner (No. 107), and report of the State Forest Commission (No. 108). The paper used in the execution of the State printing and binding contract cost $53,603.31, — and the total cost of the State printing was approximately $370,000.

I believe that large economy in the cost of the State printing could be effected by the centralization of authority over the same. The Secretary is in name the supervisor of State printing, but his supervision would seem to be very limited. The power to edit copy rests in the Board of Publication, while the measuring of the State printing is done in the Auditor's office. The Secretary now has authority, by agreement with the head of a board, commission or department, to cut down the number of copies of the report of such board, commission or department. An extension of this power, giving the Secretary the power to fix the number of copies of all reports and other documents printed, I believe, would result in a great saving to the State, and would relieve the Legislature from considering the numerous requests made to increase the number of copies of various reports printed. The Secretary, having charge of the distribution of the various reports and other documents, is in the best position to judge of the number needed to supply the legitimate demand.

DISTRIBUTION OF PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.

The enactment of chapter 336 of the Acts of 1914, which provides that, instead of sending a copy of each report included in the Public Document series to every city and town and public and other libraries in the Commonwealth, the Secretary shall send only copies of such reports as the city or town clerk and the public or other libraries may apply for, has resulted thus far in cutting down the number of Public Documents printed and distributed by, approximately 50,000, and undoubtedly will result in a still further decrease.

Most of the cities and towns have on hand large numbers of Public Documents sent to them under the old law for which they have no further use. The Attorney-General has decided that cities and towns have no authority to dispose of these books and reports. I recommend the enactment of legislation which will allow them to dispose of such public and other documents as they have no use for, similar to the authority given to the Secretary of the Commonwealth by chapter 22 of the Resolves of 1912.

COMPILATION OF GENERAL LAWS RELATING TO TOWNS.

Chapter 86 of the Resolves of the year 1914 authorized the Secretary of the Commonwealth to compile the general laws relating to towns. The work has been done, and the compilation will be printed for distribution as soon as an appropriation therefor is obtained. I recommend an appropriation of $1,500, which, it is estimated, will be sufficient to pay for an edition of 5,000 copies.

DISTRIBUTION OF GENERAL AND SPECIAL LAWS.

The General Court of 1914 provided by chapter 449 of the Acts of 1914 for the separate publication of the general laws and the special laws and resolves. The provisions of law relative to the distribution of the Blue Book are inapplicable to these separate publications, and therefore new legislation is necessary to provide for their distribution. I believe that a proper distribution of the volume containing the special laws and resolves would be substantially as is provided in chapter 20 of the Resolves of 1912 for the distribution of the compiled special laws, except that in addition to the one copy to each city and town to be placed in the city or town library, one copy should be distributed to each city and town clerk for the use of the city and town officers. Also, the Secretary should be allowed to exercise his discretion in the distribution of a limited number of copies. Fifteen hundred copies should answer all purposes.

In the printing and distribution of the General Laws a substantial decrease can be made, with a corresponding saving to the Commonwealth, from the number of Blue Books heretofore printed if the members of the General Court are willing to forego in part the generous allotment which they have received under existing laws relative to the distribution of the Blue Book, — 20 copies to each member and to the clerks of the two branches, in all a gratuitous distribution to members and attachés of the General Court of approximately 5,600 copies of a publication which has cost the State annually from $1 to $1.50 a copy. Besides this distribution the members have been allowed by law to draw upon the supply remaining in the Secretary's office after January 1 of each year. The result has been to build up a privileged class in the Commonwealth, consisting of friends of members of the General Court, who have received from the members, free of cost, a publication that others have been obliged to pay for. The present law provided for the printing annually of 11,500 copies of the Blue Book. If the members of the General Court will be content with one copy each, I believe that 8,000 copies of the General Laws will be sufficient to meet the demand, and allow a copy to each public official, library, etc., now entitled by law to a copy of the Blue Book. This figure is arrived at by deducting from the number of Blue Books now printed the number left on hand each year, and making a liberal allowance for sales to persons who now receive the Blue Book free from members of the General Court.

COMPILATION OF SPECIAL LAWS.

The last compilation of the special laws was made in 1912, covering the years 1909, 1910 and 1911, the established policy of the General Court being to compile these laws every three years, and in pursuance of this policy I recommend that provision be made this year for another compilation, covering the years 1912, 1913 and 1914. The fact that hereafter the general laws and special laws will be published separately at the close of each session of the General Court will render unnecessary further compilations of the special laws. To date there have been compiled twenty-one volumes of the compiled special laws.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES.

Provision should be made for the publication annually, or at the time of departure from office of the Governor, of the Governor's messages to the General Court. These were eliminated from the Blue Book by chapter 449 of the Acts of 1914, to reduce the bulk of that volume. The messages of the Governor always will have a certain historical value, but the proper place for them is not in a book of laws. For this reason I urge their publication in a separate document. The cost would be slight, as all that would be necessary would be to provide for the setting aside for future binding a certain number of the messages which are now printed separately as legislative documents.

SUPPLEMENT TO REVISED LAWS OF 1902 AND REVISION OF GENERAL LAWS.

I renew my recommendation of last year for a second supplement to the Revised Laws of 1902. The last supplement covered the general laws enacted from 1902 to 1908, inclusive, a period of seven years. Another period of the same length will have elapsed at the close of the present session of the General Court. Inasmuch as a far greater amount of legislation has been enacted during the past seven years than during any similar period of time since the adoption of the Constitution, I feel that the compilation of another supplement is a matter of urgent necessity, and would call the attention of the General Court to the fact that the expense of this work is paid from the proceeds of sales of the supplement.

While the periods of time between the enactment of the Revised Statutes, the General Statutes, the Public Statutes and the Revised Laws were twenty-four years, twenty-two years and twenty years, respectively, I would respectfully suggest to the General Court the advisability of providing now for a complete revision of the general laws of the Commonwealth. The last commission which revised the laws was appointed in 1896 and made its report to the General Court of 1901. The mass of legislation enacted in recent years will make the work of the next commission on revision more difficult than that of any of its predecessors, and undoubtedly will take a longer time for its completion. An appreciation of the condition of our laws to-day and the labor involved in "running down" a statute may be gained from the statement that there have been 8,639 changes in the general laws since the revision of 1902.

PUBLICATION OF THE DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

Under chapter 18 of the Resolves of 1914 the Secretary of the Commonwealth entered into a contract, in behalf of the Commonwealth, with the firm of Little, Brown & Co., for the publication of the decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court for a term extending from the first day of August, 1914, to the first day of July, 1917, upon the following terms, to wit: —

To print and publish the reports of said decisions promptly and within the time now required by law, from the manuscript to be supplied to them by the reporter of decisions, uniform in size, style and form with volume numbered two hundred and sixteen of said series, and not inferior in quality of work and material; to keep always on hand for sale in Boston a sufficient number of the volumes which they shall so publish, in order to supply the public demand therefor; to furnish to the Commonwealth a number of copies of each volume equal to the number of cities and towns in this Commonwealth at any time during the term of this contract, and one hundred copies in addition, all at the price of one dollar and thirty-five cents per copy and to sell the volumes to the public of this Commonwealth at the price of one dollar and fifty cents per copy.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1913, to November, inclusive, 1914, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapters 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, chapter 571, Acts of 1907, and chapter 192, Acts of 1912, 1,615 licenses, — an increase of 278 over the year 1913. Of this number, 278 were for the State, 833 for counties and 501 for cities and towns.

Three itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

One hundred and fifty-three licenses were transferred.

Section 1 of chapter 208 of the Acts of 1908 provides that any license granted to a hawker and pedler may be revoked by the Secretary of the Commonwealth upon conviction of the licensee of any crime which in the judgment of the Secretary warrants such revocation, but no method is provided by which he may receive information of such conviction; and I repeat my recommendation of last year that such chapter be amended so as to provide that clerks of courts shall notify the Secretary, and also that in case of the arrest of the licensee while plying his vocation his license be held by the clerk of the courts pending the decision of the Secretary. Numerous reports have reached this office during the past year from police departments of cities and towns of violations of the laws by hawkers and pedlers, some of them very serious; therefore I deem it very important that provision be made for furnishing the Secretary with information of such arrests and convictions, in order that he may exercise his authority in the interest of the public safety. I would further suggest that the law relative to hawkers and pedlers be so amended as to make the securing of a license a more difficult matter than it is to-day, when mayors and selectmen issue the required certificates of character to applicants seemingly as a mere matter of form.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

(Room 333.)

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1913, and Nov. 28, 1914, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 660 in cities and 84 in towns, a total of 744, — an increase of 156 over the year 1913. Fees were received for the continuance of 2,279 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906, — a decrease of 175 over the year 1913.

CHANGES OF NAMES.

The returns of 705 names changed in 1913, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 476 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 6 as compared with 1913. Returns were received at this office covering 458 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 37 to the Attorney-General for his information, 11 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 8 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 18 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

The total amount returned to this office as having been paid on account of the employment of legislative counsel and agents was $196,345.47, in addition to which annual salaries or retainers, unappointed, were reported to the amount of $49,121.27.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Lincoln Day, Arbor Day, Flag Day and Thanksgiving Day proclamations were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, about 10,200 were sent by mail to churches, postmasters, city and town clerks, schools and institutions; and of the Flag Day proclamation, about 7,000 were mailed to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies. There were also mailed to the schools, city and town clerks, granges and agricultural societies about 6,200 Arbor Day proclamations, and about 6,000 Lincoln Day proclamations to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 43, of which number 10 were issued with parole conditions; commutations, 12; remanded to serve remainder of sentences, 3; requisitions upon other States, 98; upon the Secretary of the Navy, 1; and upon a foreign country, 1; warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 27.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,679 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1913, — a decrease of 58 as compared with the returns for 1912. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1913, were received and filed.

The three other reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, Jan. 10, 1916.

*To the Honorable Senate
and the House of Representatives.*

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1915 (being the twenty-fourth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amounts received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the superior court for the several counties, and the clerk of the superior court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury-waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

(Rooms 337, 340A, 340B.)

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1915, was 2,047, — an increase of 53, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1914. They are classified as follows: —

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 11,502, — an increase of 437, as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1914. Of these, 8,392 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903, and section 65, chapter 742, Acts of 1914); 1,700 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 245 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 389 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 32 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,933, of which 1,814 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 13 other classes.

There were issued 25 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908, and chapter 205, General Acts of 1915).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 56 corporations by the supreme judicial and superior courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 3 certificates of incorporation which had been issued to clubs were declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the clubs were used for illegal purposes; and charters were refused in 12 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 28 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(Room 337.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 337.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Four registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 4 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 18 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1914, which were received in 1915, cover 93,399 births and 32,588 marriages, — an increase as compared with the returns of 1913 of 1,755 births and 1,185 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1914, to Nov. 30, 1915, 59,324 certified copies of records of deaths, — a decrease of 240, as compared with the returns of 1914. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1914 cover 6,296 cases, — a decrease of 100, as compared with the returns for 1913.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1914 number 2,987, being an increase of 332, as compared with the returns for 1913.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the seventy-third registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 208 certificates of births, 354 certificates of marriages, and 228 certificates of deaths, making a total of 790. The amount of fees received was $62.25.

There were received and filed, under the provisions of chapter 470, Acts of 1902, 6 volumes of manuscript copies of records of births, marriages and deaths prior to 1850. The volumes received comprise the vital records of the following towns: Amesbury, Cambridge (volume 1), Chelmsford, Heath, Rochester and Tyngsborough.

INDEXES OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth in his last report called the attention of the General Court to the necessity for more space for the indexes to records of births, marriages and deaths, numbering approximately 10,000,000 cards, with an annual increase of at least 250,000. An appropriation was made and the work of transferring names from cards to loose sheets was begun in August. The first two periods, covering the years 1840 to 1850 and 1851 to 1855, approximately 800,000 names, will soon be completed, and work on the third period, covering the years 1856 to 1860, approximately 450,000 names, is well advanced. I urgently suggest an additional appropriation to continue the work, as much more space is needed, and the loose sheet forms on closed periods, occupying about one fifth the space required for cards, will accomplish the desired result, besides being more convenient for public use.

THE ARCHIVES.

(ROOMS 437, 438.)

The number of visitors during the year was 3,124; the number of written inquiries for military records, 678; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 172; the number of certificates of military service issued, 125; number of certified copies from the legislative records and miscellaneous collection, 112. The amount of fees received for military records was $128.25; for copies, $75; making a total of $203.25.

Mass. Archives. — Eleven volumes of the manuscript collection, designated for purpose of historical reference for many years as "Mass. Archives," have been rebound. The separate documents were treated by the most approved process, cleaned, dampened and pressed, repaired when necessary with mousseline de soie, hinged on bond paper leaves, and bound in durable nonacid leather approximating in color the turkey morocco previously used but now impossible to obtain, owing to the war. In addition, 19 volumes of the official manuscript records of the General Court between 1658 and 1785 were rebound.

Mass. Soldiers and Sailors in the Revolutionary War. — The work undertaken on the initiative of the previous Secretary, at the request of persons prominent in the patriotic societies, namely, the compilation of volume and page references to Massachusetts and Maine towns given as places of residence in the publication for a proposed appendix, has been completed, and there is now available clean typewritten copy for the printers whenever it shall be deemed advisable to publish an appendix.

Maps and Plans Collection. — A card index to this collection, thoroughly cross-indexed, giving names of places, whether tracts, townships or towns, names of grantees and surveyors, approximating 13,000 cards, has been completed and is now available for the use of clerks and visitors. It is an undoubted improvement over the old manuscript catalogues. There are in the collection 415 unbound plans, they being mainly tacked upon rollers. They are, of course, available to visitors, being numbered and recorded in the card index. The greater part of these are of a size to be mounted and bound in volumes, but others are too large to be preserved in that fashion.

Muster Rolls Series, 1710-74. — The information contained in this group of volumes in the manuscript collection is sought by more persons than seek or request facts to be found in any other series. It was therefore thought best to begin the work of card indexing the manuscript collection with this group. Five thousand cards have been typewritten and reviewed. The system used is the most thorough and complete mode of indexing known to archivists. It will be possible hereafter to find by these cards not only the names of company and regimental commanders, but residences, garrison posts, block-houses, forts, where detachments or companies were stationed, historical designation of expeditions, etc.

Reproduction of Records. — The Commonwealth's collection of original manuscript records and documents of the Colonial, Provincial and Revolutionary periods is very valuable, and in order that the originals may be kept safe from mutilation or loss, I suggest the desirability of a reproduction, by a photostat or other process, for the use of the public.

Clerical Work. — By the transfer of a clerk from the general office, it has been made possible, without an additional appropriation, to begin the preparation of a much needed public card index to the entire archives collection. The force, however, employed in the Archives Division is just sufficient to carry on the work of making searches, card indexing, etc. There are now 36 volumes of manuscripts that have been rebound and are without good, up-to-date tables of contents, and this number increases year by year. An additional clerk, one competent to read the manuscripts and fit them with complete yet terse descriptive titles, for such tables of contents as are required, would be a desirable acquisition.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 96 different reports), 172,850 volumes, — a decrease of 13,600 volumes. Of this number, 152,129 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the Blue Book; 10,500 copies of the Manual for the general court; 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; 6,000 copies of Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 750 copies of the Forty-ninth Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 453 copies each of Term Reports Nos. 217, 218, 219 and 220, total, 1,812 copies; 1,500 copies of the Cumulative Index; 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 1914; 500 copies of Tables of Changes in the Revised Laws, 1915; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Amesbury, Cambridge (Vol. 1), Chelmsford, Heath, Rochester (Vols. 1 and 2) and Tyngsborough; 5,000 copies of Provisions of Law concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers; 500 copies of the Trial of Bertram G. Spencer for Murder; and 500 copies each of Vols. 1 and 2 and Index of the Revised Laws of Massachusetts; making a grand total of 237,812 — a decrease of 12,182 from the year 1914 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1915, exclusive of the Manual, Blue Book and Journals, was $107,154.31. The most expensive single report was that of the Public Service Commission (No. 14), which cost $9,024.26, — a decrease of $229.26 from that of 1914. The smallest Public Document issued was that of the Board of Registration in Embalming, which cost $9.99. Six new documents were added to the list this year, — report of the Teachers' Retirement Board (No. 109), report of the Board of Parole for the State Prison and the Massachusetts Reformatory (No. 110), report of the Board of Parole for the Reformatory Prison for Women (No. 111), report of the Trustees of the Grafton State Hospital (No. 112), report of the Department of University Extension (No. 113) and the report of the State Examiners of Electricians (No. 114). The Blue Book cost $12,176.98; the Manual, $5,045.03; the Senate Journal, $1,877.63, and the House Journal, $2,168.14. The Senate printing bill (including the Journal) was $15,334.83, and the House printing bill (including the Journal), $33,868.38, — a decrease of $2,926.25 in the Senate printing bill and of $9,839.82 in the House printing bill. The cost of printing official ballots was $30,125.46, — a decrease of $1,518.04 from that of 1914.

Prior to the year 1908 the number of copies of the annual report of any State department, board or commission to be printed was fixed at 1,500, unless otherwise expressly provided by law. By the enactment of chapter 444, Acts of 1908, this limit was reduced to 1,000 copies, and the number of copies of any report printed in any one year could be further reduced by agreement between the officer, board or commission making such report and the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Since the agreement permitted under the statute, this office has reduced the aggregate edition of public documents by 49,450 copies, or practically 21 per cent of the full number allowed by law.

At present there is a divided authority in matters of State printing; namely, the Secretary of the Commonwealth is required by law to "supervise state printing," but this power is neither definite nor in any way defined in the statutes; the Board of Publication, created by chapter 438, Acts of 1902, is given certain powers to examine annual reports and other documents issued by State boards and commissions, to define the form and extent thereof, as well as to determine the use of maps, plans, photogravures, wood cuts or other illustrations; while the Auditor of the Commonwealth has authority to cause all printing under the State contract to be measured.

I recommend that legislation be enacted to require every State department, commission, bureau or board, when ordering printing of any kind to be done, to send a duplicate order to the Secretary of the Commonwealth as supervisor of State printing, and I believe this action will tend to bring about uniformity as well as to regulate the possible duplication of any printing.

PRINTING OF GENERAL LAWS RELATING TO TOWNS.

My predecessor in his last report stated that "chapter 86 of the Resolves of the year 1914 authorized the Secretary of the Commonwealth to compile the general laws relating to towns. The work has been done, and the compilation will be printed for distribution as soon as the appropriation therefor is obtained. . . ." On March 18, 1915, an appropriation was made for this purpose, but the attention of the General Court is called to the fact that I have been unable to procure the copy for printing.

CODIFICATIONS, COMPILATIONS, ETC., OF LAWS.

Frequent requests are made to this office for copies of codifications of laws, etc., and I suggest that special legislation be enacted to require that copies of all rules, regulations, codifications, compilations or abstracts of laws published by the several departments, boards and commissions for public distribution shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

SUPPLEMENT TO REVISED LAWS OF 1902 AND REVISION OF GENERAL LAWS.

I renew the recommendation made in the Secretary's report for the last two years for a second supplement to the Revised Laws of 1902. The last supplement covered the general laws enacted from 1902 to 1908, inclusive, a period of seven years. Another period of the same length elapsed at the close of the last session of the General Court. Inasmuch as a far greater amount of legislation has been enacted during the past seven years than during any similar period of time since the adoption of the Constitution, I feel that the compilation of another supplement is a matter of urgent necessity.

Should the General Court consider the advisability of providing for a complete revision of the general laws of the Commonwealth, their attention is called to the fact that since the revision of 1902 there have been 9,719 changes in the general laws.

REVISION OF TABLE OF CHANGES IN GENERAL LAWS.

Chapter 449, Acts of 1914 (Revised Laws, chapter 9, section 1, amended), provides that the Governor shall appoint annually a skilled person to prepare a table of changes in the general laws for publication in the Blue Book.

For some time past many complaints have reached this office from attorneys, judges of the courts, members of committees of the General Court and others, of omissions and typographical errors that have crept into the table from year to year, which serve to indicate the necessity of a complete revision thereof, and I recommend that the Governor be authorized to have the revision made to include the Revised Laws and Blue Books from 1902 to 1915, inclusive.

PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION OF GENERAL AND SPECIAL ACTS AND RESOLVES.

At the present time provision is made by law for printing and distributing the Acts and Resolves of the General Court in three different forms, namely, the advance sheets, the pamphlet and the Blue Book editions. Considerable time can be gained and the Blue Book distributed much earlier after adjournment of the General Court than at present by printing all of these editions from one makeup, in form similar to the present Blue Book, with suitable side notes, and I recommend legislation to accomplish this result.

Since the enactment of chapter 449, Acts of 1914, which provides for the publication of the General Acts and the Special Acts and Resolves in separate volumes, requests have frequently been made to purchase the volumes separately. Accordingly, the Attorney-General was asked whether this could be done, and in an opinion under date of July 17 last, he advised that there is no authority in law to sell the two volumes of the Blue Book in this manner.

By the sale of the volumes separately the demand will be considerably less for the Special Acts than for the General Acts volume, and I recommend legislation that will transfer the Resolves to the volume of General Acts, permit the sale of the volumes separately and reduce the Special Acts volume to the number of 2,500 (at present 11,500) copies, to be distributed practically as now provided by law for the twenty-one volumes already published of the edition of Special Laws from the year 1780 to the year 1911, inclusive.

SPECIAL LAWS.

Beginning with the year 1915, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 449, Acts of 1914, the Blue Book edition of the laws is divided into two parts, one volume containing the General Acts and the other the Special Acts and Resolves. The enactment of this law will render separate compilations of the Special Laws unnecessary after the year 1915.

The last compilation of Special Laws, covering the years 1909, 1910 and 1911, is one of a series of twenty-one volumes published from the adoption of the Constitution to and including the year 1911.

I therefore recommend that the series be completed by making provision for the publication of the last volume, to cover the years 1912, 1913 and 1914.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES, ETC.

The addresses and messages of the Governor for the years 1914 and 1915 to the General Court were eliminated from the Blue Book of those years by chapter 449 of the Acts of 1914, for the purpose of reducing the size of that volume. Inasmuch as the reason for the elimination has been overcome by printing the Blue Book in two volumes, and on account of their historical value, as well as to preserve their continuity in the Blue Book edition of the laws, I recommend that the addresses and messages of the Governor for 1914 and 1915, together with the address and messages of the Governor for 1916, be printed in the Special Law volume of the Blue Book for the year 1916, and that addresses and messages of the Governor continue to be printed in succeeding years in the Special Laws volume of the Blue Book.

PEDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and pedlers during the twelve months December, 1914, to November, inclusive, of 1915, under the provisions of chapter 65, Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 531, Acts of 1902, chapter 432, Acts of 1903, chapters 204 and 377, Acts of 1905, chapter 151 and 345, Acts of 1906, chapter 571, Acts of 1907, and chapter 192, Acts of 1912, 876 licenses, — a decrease of 739 from the year 1914. Of this number, 120 were for the State, 495 for counties and 257 for cities and towns.

Four itinerant vendors' State licenses were issued.

Forty licenses were transferred.

Under the provisions of chapter 253 of the General Acts of 1915, the licensing of hawkers and pedlers was transferred to the office of the Commissioner of Weights and Measures, and all documents, papers and files pertaining to the granting of such licenses were delivered to the commissioner, as provided by section 8 of said act.

COAL AND COKE LICENSES.

The number of licenses issued for the sale of coal and coke between Dec. 1, 1914, and Nov. 29, 1915, inclusive, under the provisions of chapter 484, Acts of 1903, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1906, was 225 in cities and 30 in towns, — a total of 255, — a decrease of 489 from the year 1914. Fees were received for the continuance of 596 licenses under the provisions of chapter 434, Acts of 1906, — a decrease of 1,683 from the year 1914.

By chapter 72 of the General Acts of 1915, the act providing for licensing dealers in coal and coke was repealed, and a notice to that effect was sent to every dealer holding a license.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF PERSONS.

The returns of 769 names changed in 1914, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

The returns of the changes of names of persons made to this office pursuant to the requirements of section 14, chapter 154, Revised Laws, by the several probate courts of the Commonwealth in their respective counties, were eliminated from the Blue Book of the years 1914 and 1915 by chapter 449, Acts of 1914, to help reduce the bulk of that volume.

It having been represented to this office that the printing of the changes of names of persons is of value to attorneys and others engaged in the conveyancing of real estate, I recommend that the list of changes of names for the years 1914 and 1915, together with those decreed in the year 1916, be printed in the Special Laws volume of the Blue Book for 1916, and that the changes of names decreed in succeeding years be printed in said volume in order to perpetuate their continuity.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 442 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 34 as compared with 1914. Returns were received at this office covering 430 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 67 to the Attorney-General for his information, 5 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 58 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 12 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

The total amount returned to this office as having been paid on account of the employment of legislative counsel and agents was $171,664.93, in addition to which annual salaries or retainers, unappointed, were reported to the amount of $37,163.80.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The proclamations of the Governor for the observance of Lincoln Day, Arbor Day, Flag Day and Thanksgiving Day were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, 10,000 were sent by mail to churches, postmasters, city and town clerks, schools and institutions; and of the Flag Day proclamation, 7,000 were mailed to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies. Arbor Day proclamations to the number of 6,000 were also mailed to the schools, city and town clerks, granges and agricultural societies, and 6,000 Lincoln Day proclamations to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies.

Proclamations promulgating the Forty-third Article of Amendment to the Constitution, authorizing the taking of land to relieve congestion of population and to provide homes for citizens, and the Forty-fourth Article of Amendment to the Constitution, relative to the taxation of incomes and the granting of reasonable exemptions, and also a proclamation concerning the rejection by the voters of a proposed Article of Amendment to the Constitution enabling women to vote, were issued by the Governor and distributed to the cities and towns.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 22, of which number 7 were issued with parole conditions; commutations, 12; remanded to serve the remainder of sentence, 1; requisitions upon other States, 100; upon the Secretary of the Navy, 2; upon a foreign country, 2; and warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 19.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,987 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1914, — an increase of 308, as compared with the returns for 1913. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the surveyor-general of lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1914, were received and filed.

The three reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), and Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), have been made, as required by law.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 12,543, — an increase of 1,041 as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1915. Of these, 8,904 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws, section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903, and section 65, chapter 742, Acts of 1914); 1,917 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 250 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 561 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); and the others were distributed among 33 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,979, of which 1,873 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 8 other classes.

There were issued 29 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908, and chapter 205, General Acts of 1915).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 32 corporations by the Supreme Judicial and Superior Courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, 1 certificate of incorporation which had been issued to a club was declared void, upon evidence that the premises of the club were used for illegal purposes, and charters were refused in 12 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 38 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(Room 337.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 337.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Four registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 4 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 79 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

(Room 334.)

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1915, which were received in 1916, cover 93,155 births and 31,301 marriages, — a decrease, as compared with the returns of 1914, of 244 births and 1,287 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1915, to Nov. 30, 1916, 63,656 certified copies of records of deaths, — an increase of 4,332 as compared with the returns of 1915. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1915 cover 6,516 cases, — an increase of 220 as compared with the returns for 1914.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1915 number 2,728, being a decrease of 259 as compared with the returns for 1914.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the seventy-third registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 297 certificates of births, 496 certificates of marriages, and 414 certificates of deaths, making a total of 1,207. The amount of fees received was $72.75.

REPORT OF THE ARCHIVES DIVISION FOR 1916.

(Rooms 437, 438.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,659; the number of written inquiries for military records, 681; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 162; the number of certificates of military service issued, 163; the number of copies from the legislative records and manuscript collection, 972. The amount of fees received for military records was $154.50; for copies, $424.50; making a total of $579.

Massachusetts Archives. — Ten volumes of the manuscript collection have been rebound during the year.

Photographic Reproductions. — The manuscript collection usually designated "Massachusetts Archives" is literally priceless from an historical point of view, and the necessity of safeguarding it has always been a constant and vital factor in the conduct of this division. It is only necessary to recall the fire in the State capitol at Albany, and the destruction of a great number of valuable documents, to realize that in case of a similar event happening here the loss would be absolutely irreparable. The volumes of manuscripts are being constantly used by clerks and visitors, and apart from the possible danger of fire, it must be realized that the documents will of necessity suffer from continuous usage. They can only be examined by visitors under supervision, and yet the report of the commissioners appointed to examine into the condition of the records, documents and files, made in 1885, enumerated nearly one hundred papers either mutilated or abstracted. A method is now available whereby these valuable documents can be safeguarded against future damage or loss, it being now possible to secure a machine that will complete one hundred and fifty to two hundred photographic reproductions of manuscripts a day. Such machines, known as photostats, are installed in the Congressional Library, New York City Library, State Library, Hartford, Conn., and Massachusetts Historical Society, and have come to be considered a necessary adjunct to every well-equipped library collection, historical society and department of archives. With such a machine installed in this division it would be possible to reproduce the manuscripts page by page in each volume, binding the prints in volumes similar in dimensions, covers, etc., to the originals. The latter with their precious contents could then be stored in a room from which visitors would be excluded in order that they may be preserved for posterity. The cost of the instrument and necessary additional equipment would be but a trifle in comparison with the result obtained, viz., the future safety of the Massachusetts Archives manuscript collection. The new set of volumes would serve every purpose and could be used constantly by clerks and visitors in making researches without dread of mutilation or abstraction of documents. This with the card index now in process of construction will be of great practical advantage to the public. Apart from the fundamental requirements above outlined, the possession of such a machine would enable the secretary to furnish reproductions of documents, and not only will the scope and efficiency of the division be increased, but a certain revenue will accrue from the use of the machine for the purposes mentioned, and I recommend an appropriation of $5,000 for this purpose.

Index to Archives Collection. — The muster rolls series, 1710-74, comprised in ten volumes, has been card-indexed with cross references, the descriptive designations of the separate documents being so full and complete that it is now possible to analyze and examine this group of records from every point of view, namely, commanding officers of companies and regiments; towns where soldiers resided or were stationed; blockhouses and forts; designations of campaigns or expeditions. The total number of cards covering this group of records completed, reviewed and sorted to Dec. 1, 1916, is 19,590.

Work has commenced on the group of volumes, six in number, containing muster rolls, billeting rolls, billeting accounts, letters, orders, etc., relating to Shay's Rebellion, 1786-87. This is an interesting phase in the history of Massachusetts, and the tables of contents in the respective volumes have heretofore constituted the only means of guidance for persons desiring to examine the documents. The card index will make all the information contained in the volumes readily available.

Provincial Laws. — By an order of the Executive Council dated Nov. 2, 1916, to take effect Nov. 15, 1916, the work of completing the publication of the Province Laws was transferred to this office. From a communication to the Auditor by the former editor under date of October 14, I was given to understand that all the copy completely corrected for the last volume (20) had been transmitted to the State printer, and that it only remained for me to arrange for proofreading and indexing. For this purpose two clerks employed in the Province Laws department were retained.

An investigation of the conditions reveals the fact that the entire amount of copy, estimated at 9,100 pages, equivalent to 2,000 printed pages, originally prepared from the manuscript, had been compared with and changed to the text given in the General Court records, which are only registers of legislative action day by day, not even literal copies of the originals. Furthermore, as it was intended by the retired editor, and his clerks were so informed, that there should be no proofreading on the so-called last volume, discrepancies between the copy and the original manuscripts would not have been discovered before the work was published. No official publication should be a copy of an incorrect copy when the originals are available, and, as in the first thirty pages of plate proof there were found 1,706 corrections to be made, I have caused all copy to be returned to this office for correction. This work alone will probably take six months. There had been put in type 242 pages, 128 of which had been plated; total cost, approximately $850. This material cannot be used and is a complete loss to the Commonwealth. It had been planned that Volume 20 should consist of 2,000 pages exclusive of the index. The largest volume (Volume 5) contains but 1,600 pages and the later volumes from 700 to 800 pages each. It is, therefore, deemed necessary to publish in two volumes (20 and 21). The cost of printing and binding Volume 18, the last published (899 pages), was $4,063.44. Volume 19 will consist of 1,062 pages and Volumes 20 and 21 of about 1,075 pages each. The approximate cost for each volume will be $5,000, or a total of $15,000. As there is at present available for publication $10,-210.89, no appropriation for this purpose is required this year. An appropriation is necessary, however, for the annual salary of the two clerks employed on the work at $1,000 each. The probable length of time for the completion of this publication is estimated at two and one-half years.

I deem it my duty to call your attention to these facts in order that you may fully realize the magnitude of the work transferred to this office for completion, and the necessary expense connected therewith.

The law provides that the sale of Province Laws shall be in complete sets only. Unless this law is amended, or there is a reprint of previous volumes, I have no authority to dispose of volumes to purchasers, the edition of Volume 7 being exhausted and the remaining volumes in stock varying in number from 36 of Volume 8 to 145 of Volume 18.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 102 different reports), 188,324 volumes, — an increase of 15,474 volumes. Of this number, 165,525 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals; 6,000 copies of Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 750 copies of the Fiftieth Annual Encampment Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 453 copies each of Term Reports Nos. 221, 222 and 223, total, 1,359 copies; 500 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 1915; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Boxborough, Bridgewater (Vols. 1 and 2), Burlington, Cambridge (Vol. 2), New Ashford, Richmond, Salisbury and Westford; 500 copies of Census of Legal Voters, 1905-15; 750 copies each of Proceedings of Encampment Department of Massachusetts, U. S. W. V., 1915 and 1916; 4,000 copies of map showing Senatorial Districts, 1916; 4,000 copies of pamphlet on Councillor, Senatorial and Representative Districts, 1916; 1,000 copies of Bradford's History of Plimouth Plantation; 50 sets of counting apparatus; 15,000 copies of the General and Special Acts and Resolves passed at an extra session of the Legislature, 1916; 700 copies each of Senate and House Journals, extra session, 1916; making a grand total of 275,383 — an increase of 37,571 over the year 1915 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing Public Documents in 1916 was $100,-210.77 a decrease of $6,943.54 from the cost as reported for the previous year, and including the six new Public Documents, namely, Public Document No. 109, Report of the Teachers'

Retirement Board; Public Document No. 110, Report of the Board of Parole for the State Prison and the Massachusetts Reformatory; Public Document No. 111, Report of the Board of Parole for the Reformatory Prison for Women; Public Document No. 112, Report of the Trustees of the Grafton State Hospital; Public Document No. 113, Report of the Department of University Extension; Public Document No. 114, the Report of the State Examiners of Electricians.

The most expensive report was that of the Public Service Commission, amounting to $11,577.83; the increase in the cost of the publication of this report being due to changes necessary to have the subject-matter presented in accordance with the standard required by the United States Interstate Commerce Commission.

The smallest Public Document was issued by the Board of Registration in Embalming at a cost of $9.53. The Blue Book cost $12,365.53; the Manual, $5,064.44; the Senate Journal, $2,213.32; and the House Journal, $2,437.12. It should be borne in mind that these two charges include the cost of printing for the extra session of the two branches of the Legislature. The Senate printing bill, including the Journal, was $16,294.36; and the House printing bill, including the Journal, $35,292.34, a slight increase over 1915 for the reason above noted. The cost of printing Official Ballots was $29,794.29, a slight decrease from the figure of the previous year despite the increased size of the ballot because of the presidential election.

PRINTING AND DISTRIBUTION OF THE LAWS AND RESOLVES.

I made a recommendation to the General Court of 1916 that provision be made for printing from one makeup, in form similar to the Blue Book with suitable side notes, the three different forms of the Acts and Resolves of the General Court, namely, the advance sheets, the pamphlet and the Blue Book editions.

I believe that much time can be gained and the Blue Book distributed much earlier after adjournment of the General Court than at present by following this suggestion, and I therefore renew my recommendation of last year to accomplish this result.

SPECIAL LAWS.

Beginning with the year 1915, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 449, Acts of 1914, the Blue Book edition of the laws is printed in two volumes, one containing the General Acts and the other the Special Acts and Resolves.

If this form of printing the laws is to be continued, separate compilations of the Special Laws will be unnecessary after the year 1915.

A series of twenty-one volumes of the Special Laws have been published from the time of the adoption of the Constitution to and including the year 1911. The last volume of Special Laws compiled for this series covered the years 1909-11, inclusive.

I therefore renew my recommendation of last year that provision be made for publishing a volume to cover the years 1912, 1913 and 1914, thereby concluding the series and preserving the continuity thereof.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES, ETC.

The addresses and messages of the Governor for the years 1914 to 1916 to the General Court were omitted from the Blue Books of those years by the enactment of chapter 449 of the Acts of 1914.

On account of their historical value, and also to preserve their continuity in the Blue Book edition of the laws, I renew my recommendation of last year that these addresses and messages be restored to the Blue Book and printed in that volume for the present and succeeding years.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF PERSONS.

The returns of 723 names changed in 1915, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

The returns of the changes of names of persons made to this office by the several probate courts of the Commonwealth in their respective counties were omitted from the Blue Books of 1914, 1915 and 1916 by authority of chapter 449, Acts of 1914.

Inasmuch as this information is considered of value to attorneys and others engaged in the conveyancing of real estate, I renew my recommendation of last year that these lists for the years 1914, 1915 and 1916 be printed in the Blue Book for 1917, and that the changes of names decreed in succeeding years continue to be printed in the Blue Book.

SALARIES OF HERBERT H. BOYNTON, FIRST DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, AND PETER F. J. CARNEY, SECOND DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

I respectfully recommend that the annual salary of Herbert H. Boynton, First Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, be fixed at $5,000, and that of Peter F. J. Carney, Second Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth, be fixed at $4,000. Their long and faithful service, covering forty and thirty years, respectively, together with their superior qualifications and wide knowledge of State affairs, are too well known to require any statement from me.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 533 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 91 as compared with 1915. Returns were received at this office covering 521 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 21 to the Attorney-General for his information, 2 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 19 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 12 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

The total amount returned to this office as having been paid on account of the employment of legislative counsel and agents was $200,583.67, in addition to which annual salaries or retainers, unappointed, were reported to the amount of $88,505.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The proclamations of His Excellency the Governor for the observance of Lincoln Day, Arbor Day, Flag Day and Thanksgiving Day were printed and distributed under the direction of this office.

Of the Thanksgiving proclamation, 11,100 were sent by mail to churches, postmasters, city and town clerks, schools and institutions; and of the Flag Day proclamation, 10,500 were mailed to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies. Arbor Day proclamations to the number of 10,000 were also mailed to the schools, city and town clerks, granges and agricultural societies, and 7,500 Lincoln Day proclamations to the schools, postmasters, city and town clerks and various patriotic societies.

Proclamations to the number of 6,500 concerning the observance of Fire Prevention Day (October 7) were issued by the Governor and sent to the schools, postmasters and the city and town clerks; 650 were issued calling the General Court in extra session in the month of September, and sent to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives and city and town clerks.

Proclamations concerning the election of Electors of President and Vice-President of the United States as provided by law were printed in at least one newspaper in each county, and proclamations concerning the calling and holding of a Constitutional Convention were sent to the mayor and aldermen in cities and the boards of selectmen in towns in accordance with section 8, chapter 98, General Acts of 1916.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 31, of which number, 23 were issued with parole conditions; commutations, 14; remanded to serve the remainder of sentence, 1; requisitions upon other States, 113; extradition request upon a foreign country, 1; and warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 31.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 2,252 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1915, — an increase of 265 as compared with the returns for 1914. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the surveyor-general of lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1915, were received and filed.

The four reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), and Voluntary Associations Owning or Controlling Public Service Corporations, Information relative to (Public Document No. 101), have been made, as required by law.

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 29 were filed and recorded.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(Room 337.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 337.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. One registration was received, which has been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc.; and under this law 8 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 44 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

(Room 334.)

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1916, which were received in 1917, cover 93,487 births and 34,386 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1915, of 332 births and 3,085 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1916, to Nov. 30, 1917, 63,563 certified copies of records of deaths, — a decrease of 93 as compared with the returns of 1916. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1916 cover 7,028 cases, — an increase of 512 as compared with the returns for 1915.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1916 number 2,808, being an increase of 80 as compared with the returns for 1915.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the seventy-fifth registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 509 certificates of births, 647 certificates of marriages, and 508 certificates of deaths, making a total of 1,664. The amount of fees received was $74.50.

STATE REGISTRAR.

Nothing in the entire field of statistics is more important at the present time, when our nation is engaged in a life and death struggle against Prussianism, than vital statistics, because of their direct bearing on the health and consequent welfare of the people. The chief purposes of the registration of vital statistics may be summarized as affording sanitary records of the prevalence of disease, absolutely necessary for the prevention of epidemic and the effective work of all public health service, city, State and national; legal records for the protection of the rights of individuals, and especially those who stand most in need of protection, — infants and women; for court and for governmental and identification purposes; knowledge of the character and movement of population essential for enlightened legislation and study of its growth, and that the thousands of dollars from public and private sources, dedicated to the protection of infants, the welfare of the young, and the development of the race, may be wisely and intelligently employed.

The present system of registration in Massachusetts has generally been conceded second to none in the United States, but, being dependent upon the thorough enforcement of the law by local authorities, it is far from perfect. The existing law provides that in case of neglect to comply with its provisions, city and town clerks shall cause prosecution. Such prosecutions, however, are rare. At the present time, when the strength and resources of the people are being harnessed and brought together for the exertions of war, it is especially desirable that we insist upon the strict enforcement of our registration laws. In order that the full purposes of these laws may be carried out, the prosecuting authority should be extended and the Secretary of the Commonwealth should be authorized to prosecute through a competent registrar of his own appointing. I therefore recommend that the Secretary of the Commonwealth be authorized to appoint as a registrar of vital statistics a person fully qualified as a statistician, with a wide experience and knowledge of this important subject. He shall have the power to enforce all laws relative to the registry and return of births, marriages and deaths, with the power to prosecute in the name of the Commonwealth all persons violating the provisions of the law relative thereto. His compensation shall not exceed $3,000 a year.

ARCHIVES DIVISION.

(Rooms 437, 438.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,344; the number of written inquiries for military records, 522; upon historical and miscellaneous subjects, 199; the number of certificates of military service issued, 118; the number of copies from the legislative records and manuscript collection, 461. The amount of fees received for military records was $117; for copies, $227.75; making a total of $334.75.

Massachusetts Archives. — Seven volumes of the manuscript collection have been rebound during the year.

Photographic Reproductions. — The "photostat" authorized by chapter 264, Special Acts of 1917, was installed, and the work of reproducing the Massachusetts Archives was begun May 21, 1917. The Military Series, 1643-1774, comprising 14 volumes, was the group first selected for reproduction. Ten volumes were completed by Dec. 12, 1917, comprising 9,148 negatives. To this amount must be added 100 negatives of documents and plans furnished persons who preferred reproductions to typewritten copies or tracings, which makes a total of 9,248 negatives produced in 147 working days, an average of 63 prints a day. The importance of these reproductions is fully set forth in my last report, and I recommend that an appropriation of $1,000 be made, which, with the $1,800 unexpended balance, will provide for the binding of those volumes completed, and the necessary supplies for the year 1918, and that thereafter an annual appropriation be made for the continuance of this work.

Index to Archives Collection. — Since the last report there have been completed two volumes of billeting accounts, covering the period 1746 to 1763, and two volumes of muster rolls, Shay's Rebellion, 1786-87.

The series entitled "Towns," consisting of seven volumes of about 800 pages each, is now being indexed. Two volumes, covering the period from 1632 to 1729, are completed, and when the series is finished and the cards consolidated, a condensed copy will be made on sheets to be reproduced and bound for the use of the office and the public.

Provincial Laws. — The work of completing the publication of the Province Laws was transferred to the Secretary of the Commonwealth Nov. 15, 1916, and the conditions that existed in connection therewith were stated in detail in my report for 1916. There have been completed to date 332 pages.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 98 different reports), 177,350 volumes, — a decrease of 10,974 volumes. Of this number 158,764 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the bound edition of the laws, commonly called the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 700 copies each of the Senate and House Journals, total, 1,400 copies; 6,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 750 copies of the Fifty-first Annual Encampment Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 454 copies each of the Term Reports, Nos. 224 and 225, total, 908 copies; 1,000 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 1916; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Chelsea, East Bridgewater, Gloucester, Granville, Greenfield, Salem (Vol. 1), and Uxbridge, total, 3,500 copies; 750 copies of the Proceedings of Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, U. S. W. ## STATE PRINTING.

One hundred and three different Public Documents were printed and bound during the year of 1917 at a total cost of $84,225.09, — a marked decrease in cost as compared with $100,210.77 paid for the Public Document series of 1916.

The most expensive report was that of the Public Service Commission, Public Document No. 14, — the cost of printing and binding in two volumes being $8,657.47. The previous year, due to the revolutionary change in style in conformity with the United States Interstate Commerce Commission requirements, the cost was $11,577.83.

The Board of Registration in Embalming issued its report (Public Document No. 75) at a cost of $9.87, — the lowest cost of any report issued during the year.

The Blue Book cost $13,259.53; the Manual, $5,172.74; the Senate Journal, $1,758.26; and the House Journal, $1,975.87.

The Senate printing bill, including the Journal, was $14,300.23, and the House printing bill, including the Journal, was $38,799.20.

Official ballots for the Constitutional Convention, May 1, the primaries, September 25, and the regular election of November 6 totalled $40,314.81 for printing and delivery, as against the 1916 figure of $29,794.29. In making this comparison the additional cost in 1917 of the ballots for the Constitutional Convention must be kept in mind.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF PERSONS.

The returns of 1,036 names changed in 1916, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 501 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 32 as compared with 1916. Returns were received at this office covering 493

Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 37 to the Attorney-General for his information, 14 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 23 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 8 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused in 8 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 14 were filed and recorded.

STATE BANKS (RECOMMENDATION).

From the year 1828 until superseded by the national bank system State banks existed and were governed by State laws, which, however, were never repealed but were brought down into the various codifications of the statutes until at the present time they are contained in chapter 115 of the Revised Laws.

Under said statute the President, Directors and Company of the First State Bank, located in Boston, was incorporated Nov. 9, 1916, the President, Directors, and Company of the Lynn State Bank, located in Lynn, was incorporated Nov. 15, 1917, and the President, Directors and Company of the Industrial State Bank, located in Lynn, was incorporated Nov. 28, 1917. At the present time only the first-named bank has commenced to do business.

Upon the recommendation of the Bank Commissioner, chapter 12 of the General Acts of 1918 was enacted whereby no more banks can be incorporated after Feb. 12, 1918, under the provisions of chapter 115 of the Revised Laws, but said provisions of law were continued in full force and effect by the act of 1918 as to the banks already incorporated thereunder.

By sections 99 to 107, inclusive, of said chapter 115 the banks heretofore named are required to file returns with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, who is obliged to publish them weekly or otherwise, according to locality, in one or more daily papers at an approximate expense of $150 per annum to the Commonwealth for each bank, upon approval of the Governor and Council.

Inasmuch as the Bank Commissioner was given authority by chapter 44, General Acts of 1918, to examine the accounts, books and papers of these banks, I recommend that the duty of receiving the returns now filed in this office be transferred to that official, and that the expense of publishing said returns be paid by the banks without requiring the approval of the bills therefor by the Governor and Council as now provided by law.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(Room 337.)

Chapter 335, Acts of 1904, provides for the registration in this office of the insignia, ribbons, badges, rosettes, buttons and emblems of societies, associations and labor unions. Four registrations were received, which have been included with the number of labels above given under section 7, chapter 72, Revised Laws.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The returns of births and marriages from the various cities and towns for the year 1917, which were received in 1918, cover 95,731 births and 37,945 marriages, — an increase, as compared with the returns of 1916, of 2,244 births and 3,559 marriages.

Under the provisions of an act of 1903, chapter 305, there were received from Dec. 1, 1917, to Nov. 30, 1918, 85,276 certified copies of records of deaths, — an increase of 21,713 as compared with the returns of 1917. This number includes duplicates and stillbirths, which are eliminated in the tables of the registration report (Public Document No. 1).

The medical examiners' returns for 1917 cover 7,309 cases, — an increase of 281 as compared with the returns for 1916.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1917 number 3,221, being an increase of 413 as compared with the returns for 1916.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the seventy-sixth registration report (Public Document No. 1).

There were issued during the year 2,173 certificates of births, 666 certificates of marriages, and 330 certificates of deaths, making a total of 3,169. The amount of fees received was $134.75.

STATE REGISTRAR OF VITAL STATISTICS.

Under authority of chapter 136, General Acts of 1918, authorizing me to appoint a State Registrar of Vital Statistics, with the power to enforce all provisions of law relative to the registry and return of births, marriages, and deaths, and with authority to prosecute in the name of the Commonwealth any violations of the said provisions, I appointed, with the approval of the Governor and Council, Frank S. Drown State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

INDEXES TO VITAL RECORDS.

Because of the pressure of work in the Division of Vital Statistics during the past few years, and because of the inadequate facilities for keeping the indexes to the records of births, marriages, and deaths up to date, it will be necessary to make financial provision for the completion of the indexes for the years 1914, 1915, 1916, and 1917. The Commonwealth has gone to considerable expense to collect and to make provision for the preservation of these vital records, but without indexes these records of births, marriages, and deaths are of little practical utility. The best method of bringing these indexes up to date would be obtained by having the work done by contract, outside the office, by competent indexers.

COMPENSATION FOR CITY AND TOWN CLERKS.

The present rate of fees paid city and town clerks for recording and transmitting returns of deaths and marriages has been in effect since 1898, and the present rate of fees for recording and transmitting birth returns has been in effect since 1873. Since these fees were last increased not only has the cost of living increased, but the amount of work involved in obtaining accurate and complete records has also increased. Vital records are of little value unless they are accurate, and it is only just that the city or town clerks of this Commonwealth should receive a fair return for their labors. I therefore recommend legislation to this effect.

THE REGISTRATION OF DEATHS AND BIRTHS.

The possible concealment of crime by hasty disposition of human bodies without proper registration and granting of a permit by the constituted authority demands the immediate attention of the General Court. In investigating the matter of belated returns of deaths to this office it has been found that in many parts of the Commonwealth human bodies are being disposed of without obtaining a burial or removal permit.

I therefore recommend legislation which will accomplish this result, and also provide that the person in charge of a cemetery or burial ground be required to keep a record of all bodies interred or otherwise disposed of on the premises under his charge, and to endorse the burial or removal permit and make a proper return of the same.

MISCELLANEOUS RECOMMENDATIONS.

I also recommend legislation to define the term "stillbirth," and to provide for the uniform registration of stillbirths.

I also recommend the importance of legislation to provide that the facts required on the standard certificate of death shall be obtained by persons in charge of public and private institutions, in place of the present details of information required.

Several years ago the law relative to returns of deaths was amended so as to provide that the attending physician should furnish for registration a standard certificate of death. This legislation was passed in the interest of uniform statistics of deaths in the American States. I believe that the time has now come for Massachusetts to adopt the standard certificate of birth, as has been done in nearly all of the other States. I therefore recommend that the standard certificate of birth be authorized for use in this Commonwealth.

ARCHIVES DIVISION.

(Rooms 437, 438.)

The number of visitors during the year was 2,005; written inquiries for military records, 312; historical and miscellaneous subjects, 169; certificates of military service issued, 62; copies of legislative records and manuscript collection typewritten, 168; copies of manuscripts, maps and other material for various officials and individuals by photostat, 626; volumes of the Archives reproduced in negative photostat, 15, consisting of some 12,722 sheets; volumes of reproductions of the Archives rebound, 1 in 3; volumes of Archives card indexed, 7; volumes of Archives for which new tables of contents have been prepared, 10; volumes of Archives for which name indices have been prepared, 12. The amount of fees received for military records was $60; for copies, typewritten and photostat, $302.13; totaling $362.13.

Province Laws. — Vol. XX, including the index, will be set up and plated by Jan. 31, 1919. The copy for the first session of Vol. XXI will then be ready, and the work should be completely printed by the end of November, 1919.

Photostat Reproduction of the Archives. — The work is proceeding as rapidly as can be expected under existing conditions. At the earliest opportunity new quarters should be obtained in a room where running water and drainage can be had, soap-stone sinks of suitable size installed, a dark-room built round the machine in the manner adopted at the Massachusetts Historical Society and the Harvard College Library, and drying racks built, all of which will greatly expedite the work.

Archives Collection.

Rebinding. — During the past year no rebinding of volumes has been done on account of the increased cost and scarcity of material caused by the war. There are in the Archives Collection proper 326 volumes. Of these, 105 volumes have been rebound since 1905, and at present there are 30 volumes which are in need of rebinding, 25 badly. The reproduction of the Archives will save the collection to future generations, but it is necessary that the volumes should be put in good shape.

Use of. — One reason that the collection is not used more is because of the lack of knowledge by the general public of its contents. The Archives Collection proper consists of some 200,000 papers ranging from 1625 to 1800. The general collection will run it up into the millions. The only information published in regard to it is the report of the committee of 1884, and that is out of print. The printing of a rough check list, indicative only of the groups of the collections in Rooms 46, 437 and 438, or of the Calendar Index, prepared in 1878 after the manner of the Calendar of (English) historical manuscripts, issued by the Secretary of State of New York in 1866, is being considered.

Maps and Plans. — The collection consists of some 4,000 items, many of which are unique. The series of town maps of 1794 and 1830, prepared under acts of the Legislature, are particularly valuable, and many of the towns and cities do not know they exist. There is a good card index of the collection which, with very little editing, could be printed and would make an interesting addition to the bibliography of Massachusetts.

Card Index. — By the first of the year the new index of the first group of nine volumes relating to towns, 1632-1774, amounting to some 40,000 cards, will be typewritten and consolidated.

The clerks, who are only sufficient for routine work, are able and efficient. At the first opportunity an able clerk with a good working knowledge of the history of Massachusetts, indexing, typewriting and ability to read the handwriting of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries should be added to the index force.

New Quarters. — The Archives Collection, which has no equal in this part of the country, should at first opportunity be removed to one of the fireproof wings. The quarters should have a good natural light and be large enough to hold properly the contents of Rooms 46, 437 and 438, and allow for proper expansion. At present the metal filing cases are practically filled, and room will be needed to shelve the 700 or more volumes of photostat copies, the index, etc. A consultation room for visitors and a room for the photostat, with running water, necessary appliances and large enough to accommodate a book-binder, are also needed.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 98 different reports), 153,800 volumes, — a decrease of 23,550. Of this number, 125,906 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the bound edition of the laws, commonly called the Blue Book, 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 750 copies each of the Senate and House Journals, total, 1,500 copies; 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 453 copies each of the Term Reports, Nos. 226, 227 and 228, total, 1,359 copies; 1,000 copies of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 1917; 500 copies each of the Vital Records of Carlisle, Charlemont, Cohasset, Hardwick, Harvard, Milford, Northbridge, Salem (Vol.

2) Shirley, Stoneham, Westport, West Newbury and Windsor, total, 6,500 copies; 500 copies of the Tables of Changes in the Revised Laws, 1917; 750 copies of Vol. 19, Acts and Resolves of the Province of Massachusetts Bay; 2,600 copies of Provisions of Law concerning Innholders and Common Victuallers; 5,500 copies of pamphlet entitled "The Star of Service;" 700,000 copies of pamphlet containing the full text of the several amendments submitted to the people by the Constitutional Convention, together with an explanatory address by the president of the convention; making a grand total of 923,509 — an increase of 633,415 over the year 1917 — which have passed through the document division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

The cost of printing and binding the 95 Public Documents issued during the year 1918 was $90,212.50. These reports of the various commissions and departments consisted of 17,256 pages of type matter (exclusive of map or diagram inserts), in cloth or paper binding. Extracts of the above of particular importance to the general public were issued in supplemental form, the cost being included in the total previously mentioned.

The report of the Public Service Commission and that of the Board of Registration in Embalming represent the two extremes in size and cost of publication. Public Document No. 14 as issued in two volumes, and comprising 1,908 pages, cost $9,279.83; Public Document No. 75, of 4 pages, cost $10.01.

The Blue Book cost $14,788.15; the manual, $5,692.03; the Senate Journal, $1,718.98. The cost of the primaries and regular election ballots of September 24 and November 5 was $43,409. This figure includes the absent voter ballots. Attention is also called to the size of the official ballots increased by the various constitutional amendments submitted thereon.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF PERSONS.

The returns of 1,015 names changed in 1917, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under what is known as the "lobby act" (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 300 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — a decrease of 201 as compared with 1917. Returns were received at this office covering 236 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 26 to the Attorney-General for his information, 10 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 16 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 64 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The proclamations of His Excellency the Governor for the observance of Lincoln Day, Arbor and Bird Day, Flag Day and Thanksgiving Day were printed and distributed under direction of this office. Of the Lincoln Day proclamations 1,050 were given public distribution to the schools, churches, institutions, patriotic societies, postmasters and city and town clerks; of the Arbor and Bird Day proclamations 10,500 were mailed to the schools, granges, agricultural societies, churches, institutions, postmasters and city and town clerks. Flag Day proclamations to the number of 11,000 were mailed to the schools, postmasters, patriotic societies, churches, institutions and city and town clerks, and 10,000 Thanksgiving Day proclamations were sent to the churches, schools, postmasters and city and town clerks.

In addition to the above, proclamations of the Governor were printed and distributed as follows: For male residents to engage in useful occupations, 1,500 copies to the postmasters and city and town clerks. Concerning the department for defective delinquents at the Reformatory for Women, copies were printed and distributed by the Director of the Massachusetts Bureau of Prisons.

For Fire Prevention Day copies were printed and distributed by the Fire Prevention Commissioner for the metropolitan district.

Of the proclamation withdrawing the "work or fight," copies were printed and distributed by the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics in charge of registration under the "work or fight" act.

Of the proclamations promulgating the XLVIII to LXVI Amendments to the Constitution, inclusive, 1,000 copies were sent to the city and town clerks and distributed to the public upon request.

Proclamations were also issued to the press by the Governor, as follows: concerning War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, February 22; for National Enrollment Week, March 18; concerning display of flags during visit of the Poland War Committee, April 3; for "Be Kind to Animals Week", April 15; for Liberty Day, April 26; for Red Cross Week, May 20; for Coal Ordering Week, June 3; for Bastile Day, July 14; concerning dwelling houses for workmen engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war, ships, etc., August 28; for Lafayette Day, September 6; concerning the registration of all male persons between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, September 12; concerning the Influenza Epidemic, September 25; for Columbus Day, October 12; concerning the Fourth Liberty Loan, October 14; for Gas Mask Day, November 9; for the United War Work Campaign, November 10; for Victory Day, November 12; and for Red Cross Christmas Membership Week, December 16.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 17, of which number 15 were issued with parole conditions; commutations, 17; requisitions upon other States, 134; extradition requests upon a foreign country, 2; and warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 27.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 166, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,679 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1917,—an increase of 137 as compared with the returns for 1916. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the surveyor-general of lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1917, were received and filed.

The four reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), and Voluntary Associations Owning or Controlling Public Service Corporations, Information relative to (Public Document No. 101), have been made, as required by law.

*To the Honorable Senate
and the House of Representatives.*

I have the honor to submit, in compliance with the Revised Laws, chapter 5, section 10, a report of the transactions of this office for the year ending Nov. 30, 1919 (being the twenty-eighth annual), including the returns of the number of liquor licenses granted by the several cities and towns, the amounts received for such licenses, and the votes of the cities and towns on the question of granting them; also the returns of the sheriffs of the several counties of money received by them, and of their attendance upon a court of record and the county commissioners.

There is also presented, in compliance with the statute of 1905, chapter 321, abstract and tabular statements of the returns of the clerks of the Superior Court for the several counties, and the clerk of the Superior Court for civil business in the county of Suffolk; of the number of jury cases, of jury-waived cases and of equity suits pending at the beginning of the year; of the number of each of said three classes of cases entered during the year; of the number of cases of each class actually tried during the year; of the number of cases of each class disposed of during the year by agreement of the parties or by order of the court; of the number of cases of each class remaining untried at the end of the year; of the number of cases wherein the verdict of the jury has been set aside by the court on the ground that it is excessive; and of the number of days during which the court has sat in each county for the hearing of each of said three classes of cases.

CORPORATIONS.

(Rooms 337, 340A, 340B.)

The total number of certificates of incorporation issued under general laws to new corporations for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1919, was 2,815, — an increase of 1,170 as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1918. They were classified as follows: —

Trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), . . . . .	2,514
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc, corporations (under Revised Laws, chapter 125, section 6), . . . . .	230
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under chapter 628, Acts of 1911), . . . . .	29
Churches (under Revised Laws, chapter 36, section 51), . . . . .	18
Credit unions (under chapter 268, General Acts of 1915), . . . . .	2
Co-operative banks (under chapter 623, Acts of 1912), . . . . .	5
Trust companies (under chapter 374, Acts of 1904), . . . . .	8
Insurance companies (under chapter 576, Acts of 1907), . . . . .	7
Railroad company (under chapter 463, Part II, Acts of 1906), . . . . .	1
Street railway company (under chapter 463, Part III, Acts of 1906), . . . . .	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 15,194, — an increase of 1,909 as compared with the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1918. Of these, 10,377 were certificates of condition of Massachusetts corporations (under section 51, chapter 110 of the Revised Laws; section 45, chapter 437, Acts of 1903; and section 65, chapter 742, Acts of 1914); 2,514 were articles of organization of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903); 230 were certificates of religious, charitable, social and other organizations (under chapter 125 of the Revised Laws); 805 were certificates of issue of capital stock of trading corporations (under chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were distributed among 30 different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded was 1,841, of which 1,772 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations (under chapter 126 of the Revised Laws and section 66 of chapter 437, Acts of 1903), and the others were divided among 8 other classes.

There were issued 32 certificates of change of name of corporations (under chapter 163, Acts of 1908, and chapter 205, General Acts of 1915).

Returns were received of the dissolution of 63 corporations by the Supreme Judicial and Superior Courts.

Under the act relating to the incorporation of clubs, charters were refused in 20 cases.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations, published by this office (Public Document No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 22 were filed and recorded.

An unusual state of affairs arising from after-war conditions occurred in the Corporation Division, where 3,292 certified copies of the records and certificates were supplied.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

(ROOM 337.)

INSIGNIA OF SOCIETIES AND LABOR UNIONS.

(ROOM 337.)

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 72, section 15, Revised Laws, which provides for the protection of owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or similar beverages, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc., and under this law 8 such descriptions were received and filed. Under section 19 of said chapter 72, Revised Laws, protecting dealers and consumers against the unlawful use and destruction of milk cans, jugs, bottles or jars, 29 descriptions of marks, devices, etc., were received and filed.

VITAL STATISTICS DIVISION.

(Room 334.)

Under the provisions of Revised Laws, chapter 29, section 13 (as amended by chapter 305, Acts of 1903, and chapter 415, Acts of 1906), the returns of births and marriages in the various cities and towns for the year 1918, which were received in 1919, cover 95,607 births and 29,166 marriages, a decrease, as compared with the returns of 1917, of 124 births and 8,779 marriages.

Under the provisions of the same law, 78,842 certified copies of records of deaths were received from Jan. 1, 1918, to Dec. 31, 1918, an increase of 22,214 compared with the returns of 1917.

The medical examiners' returns for 1918 cover 7,227 cases, a decrease of 61 as compared with the returns of 1917.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce for 1918 number 3,088, a decrease of 133 as compared with the returns of 1917.

These figures are compiled, analyzed and presented fully in the seventy-seventh registration report (Public Document No. 1).

During the year 1,268 certificates of birth, 537 certificates of marriage and 433 certificates of death were issued, a total of 2,238. Fees received from these certificates amounted to $201.50.

INDEXES TO VITAL RECORDS.

I wish to renew my recommendation of last year that financial provision be made for the completion of the indexes for the years 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918. The Commonwealth has gone to much expense to collect and make provision for the preservation of vital records, but without indexes the births, marriages and deaths for the above-mentioned years are of little practical utility. The best method of bringing these indexes up to date would be obtained by having the work done by contract outside the office by competent indexers.

BURIAL AND CREMATION OF HUMAN BODIES.

In the interest of more accurate records, and to guard against possible failure of undertakers to dispose of human bodies in accordance with the permits issued by the proper officials, I recommend that the superintendent or other officer in charge of a cemetery or crematory be compelled by law to endorse upon the permit for each burial or cremation of a human body the date of such burial or cremation, and return said permit to the office issuing same.

ARCHIVES DIVISION.

The number of visitors during the year was 4,035; written inquiries for military records, 367; historical and miscellaneous subjects, 448; certificates of military service issued, 94; copies of legislative records and manuscripts typewritten, 374; copies of manuscripts, maps and other material for various officials and individuals, by photostat, 7,227; copies of soldiers' discharges, by photostat, 2,520; volumes of the archives reproduced in negative photostat, 5 (some 2,768 sheets); volumes of the photostat archives bound, none; volumes of the archives card index completed, 8; volumes of the archives for which name indices are being prepared, 16; volumes of archives for which new tables of contents have been prepared, 3; volumes of archives rebound, none. Amount of fees received for military records, $94.50; for copies, typewritten, $258.55; photostat, $1,035.51; totaling, $1,388.56.

Province Laws.

Volume XX, containing Resolves, etc., 1777-78, has been printed and distributed. Volume XXI, the last, containing Resolves, etc., 1779-80, and those relating to the incorporation of towns, etc., 1692-1715, omitted from volumes 7, 8 and 9, is now about half set up and partly plated. The index is keeping pace with the printing, and by June 1, 1920, the work will be completed.

Reproduction of the Archives.

The work is proceeding as rapidly as can be expected under existing conditions. The photostating of discharges, copies of corporation records, and copies made for individuals and State departments have of necessity reduced the total.

Binding of Photostat Archives.

The Williams patent method for binding single sheets has been adopted as the most feasible method. Nine volumes are now ready for the binder, and in a short time 22 more will be ready, making some 50 volumes as bound. Metal cases to care for them are needed in Room 438.

Photostat.

Owing to the large amount of work necessary to be done on corporation orders, etc., a new photostat of the same size, costing, with lights, etc., $1,130, and another operator, are an absolute necessity. New quarters, with sinks, hot and cold water, drying racks, etc., suitable for the two machines are needed at once. After a careful study, aided by a planning expert, it appears that Room 439 (adjoining 438) now occupied by the Bureau of Identification of Criminals, and Room 440 (directly across the corridor from 439), now occupied by the Adjutant-General as a storeroom for maps, etc., are admirably fitted for this work. Water and drainage connections can easily be made from Room 441, a toilet room, through 440 across the corridor to 439.

Rebinding the Archives.

During the past year no volumes have been rebound, primarily because many of those most in need have been in constant use on the Province Laws. Of the 326 volumes, 105 have been bound since 1905, and at present 35 are in need of repair, 25, at least, badly. I suggest having the volumes made up at the bindery and having the documents cleaned, repaired, pressed and inserted by an expert, on whole or part time, in the division, thereby relieving the department of the worry and inconvenience of having the volumes outside of the office. The reproduction of the archives will save the collection for future generations, but it is necessary that the volumes be kept in good repair.

Use of the Archives.

It becomes more and more evident that the general public has no idea of the contents of the archives. The only information available is the report of the committee of 1884, which is out of print. I suggest the printing of a rough check list of the collections in Rooms 46, 437 and 438, and of the index to the Maps and Plans collection.

Card Index to Archives.

The new index of the first group of volumes, Nos. 112 to 118, that relating to towns, 1632-1774, — some 50,000 cards, — has been typewritten, consolidated and edited. These have been placed in a cabinet and are being more and more consulted by the public. Work has been already commenced on a second group, beginning with Volume 1, and will continue in rotation. After each group is completed it will be consolidated with that previously done, thus making it a complete, instead of a series, index, which would in the end amount to 75 separate indices. At first opportunity an additional index clerk, with a good working knowledge of the history of Massachusetts, indexing, typewriting and ability to read the often difficult handwriting of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, should be added to the force.

Metal card index cases to accommodate the archives index should be constructed as an upper deck to the existing wall cases in Room 438. These should be for the standard commercial size card, 3 by 5 inches.

Archives Clerks.

The clerks, who are able and efficient, are only sufficient for the regular work, and any call for outside work delays the necessary routine.

Early House Journals.

The Massachusetts Historical Society is now printing the House Journals from 1715 to 1780. Volume 1, containing 1715, 1716 and 1717, with index, some 300 pages, is now set up and will shortly be issued.

There is no complete set of these journals in this commonwealth, and, in fact, as far as is known, no set can be made up from the copies in the archives and in Massachusetts libraries, both public and private.

The journals are valuable for their economic, historical and political importance. They are invaluable for local history and genealogy. Their value is not confined to Massachusetts, but extends to New England and wherever New England has penetrated, that is, to the whole United States. Massachusetts is the only one of the original thirteen States which has not printed its legislative journals and archives in accessible form, and the proposed publication will place it among the most important sources of history. These journals contain the full history of Massachusetts policy, administration, finances and development for the period covered, and the growth of popular government can nowhere else be found in such detail, — a lesson in democracy.

I suggest that the Commonwealth co-operate with the Historical Society to the extent of taking 500 copies of each book when printed, to be distributed to the public libraries of the State, other State libraries and the larger libraries of the country, at your discretion. Volume 1, 1715-17, can be furnished at $1.99 per copy. The annual cost would be at the most $1,250, and it would be on the basis of no books, no pay. If this offer is not accepted the society will proceed in the publication of a limited edition of copies, which in a very few years will be almost as scarce and costly as the originals. For your information, I have to say that no copy of the journal prior to 1764 has been sold at auction in America since 1895. The value of a perfect copy of any of the earlier House Journals is from $150 to $300.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were distributed under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering 99 different reports), 131,550 volumes, — a decrease of 22,250. Of this number, 99,107 were distributed, being supplied to members of the General Court, to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the general public.

In addition to the Public Document series there were printed and distributed 20,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the laws; 11,500 copies of the bound edition of the laws, commonly called the Blue Book; 13,500 copies of the Manual for the General Court; 750 copies each of the Senate and House Journals, total, 1,500 copies; 5,000 copies of the Supplement to Laws relating to Elections; 453 copies each of the Term Reports, Nos. 229, 230 and 231, total, 1,359 copies; 500 copies of the Tables of Changes in the Revised Laws, 1918; 750 copies of Vol. 20, Acts and Resolves of the Province of Massachusetts Bay; 500 copies of Vol. 4, Opinions of the Attorneys-General of Massachusetts, 1913-16, inclusive; 750 copies of the Fifty-second Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, G. A. R.; 750 copies of the Proceedings of the Nineteenth Annual Encampment, Department of Massachusetts, U. S. W. V., 1918; 1,000 copies of Messages to the General Court, Official Addresses and Proclamations of His Excellency, Governor David I. Walsh, 1914 and 1915; 865 copies of Messages to the General Court, Official Addresses, Proclamations and State Papers of His Excellency, Governor Samuel Walker McCall, 1916, 1917 and 1918; 1,000 copies of Laws relating to Corrupt Practices in Elections, 1918; 500 copies of Executive Council report on the return of votes for State officers, 1919; 665,000 copies of Text of the Rearrangement of the Constitution submitted by the Constitutional Convention, sent to voters under the provisions of Amendment to Constitution, Article XLVIII-LV, Information to Voters, — making a grand total of 856,024 — a decrease of 67,485 from the year 1918 — which have passed through the Document Division during the year.

STATE PRINTING.

During the past year the reports of the various commissions and departments have been issued at a total cost of $83,609.52. This includes the publication in pamphlet form of the supplementary bulletins of those sections of the reports for which there is the greatest public demand. The total number of pages comprising the public documents as above is 16,972, exclusive of map, diagram or half-tone inserts.

For the year previous, 17,256 pages was the total for the Public Document series, and owing to the printing of larger editions the cost was greater.

The report of the Board of Registration and Embalming, Public Document No. 75, was the smallest issued, costing $8.47; the report of the Public Service Commission, Public Document No. 14, was the largest (3,212 pages), costing $15,-436.28.

The cost for printing and binding the Manual was $5,798.68; the Senate Journal, $2,650.45; the House Journal, $3,231.45; and the cost of the printing and delivery of the State primary and election ballots, $44,693.93.

CENSUS DIVISION.

(Room 256.)

In accordance with sections 25 and 26 of chapter 350 of the General Acts of 1919, the Secretary of the Commonwealth is directed to take the decennial census of the Commonwealth and the enumeration of summer residents of certain towns, under section 13 of chapter 100 of the Revised Laws and under section 8 of chapter 371 of the Acts of 1909, and to appoint, with the approval of the Governor and Council, a competent person to have charge of said work and to perform certain other duties as may be assigned to him. The said person shall be known as the Supervisor of the Decennial Census. Owing to the fact that the duties to be performed embrace other than taking the Decennial Census, I hereby recommend that section 26 of chapter 350 of the General Acts of 1919 be amended by striking out the entire sentence "The said person shall be known as the supervisor of the decennial census," and inserting therefor the following: "The person shall be known as state census director."

The fundamental purpose of the State Census, to which all other considerations are incidental and subordinate, is to comply with the requirements of the Constitution in the matter of apportionment of representatives and senators in the Legislature. But while the Constitution requires a census of "legal voters" to be taken, it nowhere specifically defines the term, nor is it defined in any statute of the Commonwealth. It accordingly devolves upon the census-taking authority to determine what constitutes a "legal voter," and this has always been done by giving the most feasible interpretation to the several qualifications laid down in the Constitution, the possession of which seemed to be intended by that instrument as conditions prerequisite for the exercise of the franchise. I therefore suggest that the Legislature pass a law defining a legal voter, as follows: A legal voter is a native male person twenty-one years of age or over, or a foreign born male person twenty-one years of age or over who has been naturalized either by his own act or that of his father, provided such person, either native or foreign born, has resided in Massachusetts one year and in the city or town six months prior to the day of enumeration, and can read and write the English language and is not a pauper nor under guardianship.

The descriptions of the wards and precincts are essential in census work in order to check up the enumeration by political sub-divisions of the municipalities. I therefore suggest that section 216 of chapter 835 of the Acts of 1913 be amended by changing the last sentence of said act to read as follows: The city clerk shall forthwith give notice in writing to the secretary of the commonwealth of the number and designation of the wards so established, together with an official copy of the description of said wards.

And that section 225 of chapter 835 of the Acts of 1913 be amended so as to read as follows: When wards of a city have been changed, or when voting precincts in a city or town have been established, changed or discontinued, the city or town clerk shall forthwith give a notice thereof in writing to the secretary of the commonwealth stating the number and designation and official description of such wards or such voting precincts, and in a city the wards in which they are situated.

It is absolutely essential, to a complete and intelligent enumeration, not only for the guidance of the enumerator in the field but to enable the office to properly check his work, to have on file most recent maps of each municipality, showing the names and locations of highways, etc. Owing to the fact that many of our municipalities were unable to furnish maps and others only sectional maps, I recommend the enactment of the following: The mayor of a city or the selectmen of a town shall furnish or cause to be furnished to the secretary of the commonwealth on or before the tenth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two four copies of a map of the city or town, covering the entire boundaries of said city or town and showing thereon all streets, avenues, squares or other highways, steam railroads and rivers, properly designated and named, together with an official copy of the names and location of all streets, avenues, squares or other highways; and annually thereafter, on or before the tenth day of January, all changes and records of extension, alteration or relocation of any highway that have occurred during the preceding year, and the name and location of all new streets, avenues, squares or other highways that have been established during the preceding year.

In order that municipalities may have the benefit of the State Census Division to assist them in obtaining a special enumeration of their municipalities for the study of the housing of their people, and special studies of Americanization and citizenship, with other local economic conditions, I suggest that the following legislation be enacted: Upon the petition of the city government of any city or the selectmen of a town, filed with the secretary of the commonwealth, for an enumeration of the city or town in such a manner as to show the number of inhabitants and legal voters, or such other information as may be desired, in each street, square, avenue or in such block or square of the city or town as may be designated, and specifying the detail with which it is desired that the results thereof shall be tabulated, the enumeration and tabulation shall so be made. The tabulation herein provided for shall be limited to such inquiries as are specified by the city government or the selectmen of the town petitioning for said enumeration and tabulation, and upon the completion of the same made for any city or town under the provision of this act, and the determination of the expense incurred therefor, the treasurer and receiver general shall issue his warrant, as provided in section thirty-four of Part one of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of nineteen hundred and nine, requiring the assessors of the cities or towns concerned to assess a tax to the amount of such expense and the said amount shall be collected and paid over to the treasurer and receiver general in the same manner as other state taxes.

CHANGES OF NAMES OF PERSONS.

The returns of 1,177 names changed in 1918, as decreed by the several probate courts, were received and filed in compliance with the requirements of the Revised Laws, chapter 154, section 14.

RETURNS UNDER THE LOBBY ACT.

Under what is known as the lobby act (Revised Laws, chapter 3, sections 23 to 32, inclusive, as amended by chapter 434, Acts of 1913), 329 entries were made upon the dockets of legislative counsel and agents, — an increase of 29 as compared with 1918. Returns were received at this office covering 275 of these entries. Of those received it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 14 to the Attorney-General for his information, 6 of them appearing to be irregular or defective, and 8 others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The 54 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General as required by law. Two returns were also made to this office, where the name of the employer and counsel had not previously been registered in the legislative docket, and these were also referred to the Attorney-General.

EXTRA SESSION.

For the extra session of the Legislature 29 entries were made upon the dockets, returns being received covering 23 of these entries. Of those received 2 were transmitted to the Attorney-General as appearing to be irregular or defective. The 6 cases of delinquency were reported to the Attorney-General.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The proclamations of His Excellency the Governor for the observance of Lincoln Day, Arbor and Bird Day, Flag Day and Thanksgiving Day were printed and distributed under direction of this office. Of the Lincoln Day proclamations 11,000 were given public distribution to the schools, churches, institutions, patriotic societies, postmasters and city and town clerks; of the Arbor and Bird Day proclamations 10,000 were mailed to the schools, granges, agricultural societies, churches, institutions, postmasters and city and town clerks. Flag Day proclamations to the number of 11,000 were mailed to the schools, postmasters, patriotic societies, churches, institutions and city and town clerks; and 10,000 Thanksgiving proclamations were sent to the churches, schools, postmasters and city and town clerks.

In addition to the above, proclamations of the Governor were printed and distributed as follows: concerning the police strike in Boston, 3,600 copies to the postmasters, city and town clerks and the General Court. For Fire Prevention Day 5,000 copies were printed and distributed by the Fire Prevention Commissioner for the metropolitan district. For the observance of Armistice Day (November 11) 12,000 copies were printed and distributed to the schools, churches, institutions, patriotic societies, including the American Legion, postmasters and city and town clerks. For the extra session of the General Court, called by His Excellency the Governor to convene November 18, proclamations were printed and distributed to the members of the General Court and city and town clerks.

Proclamations were also issued to the press by the Governor as follows: respecting the late Theodore Roosevelt, January 6; for the observance of Polish Day, January 26; to extend hospitality to the President of the United States on his return from foreign countries, February 21; April 18, for the observance of April 25 as Yankee Division Parade Day (26th Division); for "Be Kind to Animals Week," April 21 to April 27; for the observance of law and order during the police strike in the city of Boston, September 11; and concerning the display of the Belgian flag by reason of the visit of the King and Queen of Belgium to this country, October 1.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued during the year was 7, all of which were issued with parole conditions; commutations, 11; remanders to House of Correction and State Prison, 2; requisitions upon other States, 175; extradition requests upon foreign countries, 2; and warrants issued upon requisitions from other States, 27.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of the Revised Laws, chapter 156, section 17, returns were received of the naturalization of 1,852 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth during the year 1918, an increase of 173 as compared with the returns for 1917. These returns were indexed and bound in convenient form for reference, as required by law.

CERTAIN ORDERS, ETC., OF BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS.

Chapter 307 of the General Acts of 1917 provides that "Every commission, board or official vested by law with the power to make and issue rules and regulations general in scope, and to be observed or performed under penalty for the violation thereof, shall file attested copies thereof with the secretary of the commonwealth." The Secretary is required annually, or oftener if he deems it necessary, to publish such rules, etc., as a public document. This publication has proven to be an unnecessary expense to the Commonwealth, and I recommend that the statute be so changed as to enable the Secretary to produce certified photostatic copies thereof when ordered for use in evidence or otherwise, in the same manner and with the same effect as when he furnishes certified copies of any of the certificates and records on file in his office.

ENACTING CLAUSE FOR LAWS APPROVED BY THE PEOPLE.

The Constitutional Convention failed to provide a form of enacting style for laws approved by the people under the Initiative and Referendum Amendment to the Constitution. The amendment referred to provides, however, that "The provisions of the initiative and referendum are self-executing, but legislation not inconsistent with anything therein contained may be enacted to facilitate the operation of such provisions." I therefore recommend that suitable legislation be enacted to describe the form of the enacting style to be used when engrossing and printing the laws approved by the people under the initiative provisions of said constitutional amendment.

DEDICATION OF STATE HOUSE AUDITORIUM.

I respectfully suggest for the consideration of the General Court the dedication of the State House Auditorium to the late Maj. Augustus Peabody Gardner, our distinguished member of Congress from the Sixth District of Massachusetts, who resigned from Congress to enter the army.

Major Gardner served two terms in the Massachusetts Senate with distinction (1899-1900). He was elected to Congress in 1902 and served with high honor until May 22, 1917, when he resigned. He was long identified with the Massachusetts militia, and in 1898, when we went to war with Spain, he received a commission in the army and was assigned to the staff of Maj.-Gen. James H. Wilson as captain and assistant adjutant-general, being commended by the general for his unrivaled and intelligent devotion to duty. For some years after the Spanish War he was a reserve officer in the United States army. Such dedication would be a fitting tribute to a distinguished and faithful public servant who gave his life for his country in the World War.

TABLE OF CHANGES IN THE GENERAL LAWS, ETC.

Paragraph (8) of chapter 137, General Acts of 1919, provides for the appointment by the joint committee on rules of the General Court of a skilled person to prepare a table of changes in the general laws and an index for the volume containing the acts and resolves annually passed by the General Court.

By a change in the rules of the Senate and House of Representatives of the present year, the committees on rules are not to sit jointly, and I therefore recommend that the statute cited be so amended as to enable the Secretary of the Commonwealth to make the appointment therein referred to.

SALARY OF SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, ETC.

Chapter 350, General Acts of 1919, provides for the organization of the executive and administrative work of the boards and commissions of the Commonwealth into twenty departments. The duties of the Secretary of the Commonwealth were enlarged by the addition thereto of the decennial census with all that it entails in the intervening years, and the supervision of the public records of the Commonwealth, counties, cities and towns. Although substantial increases in salaries were given certain officials of the various departments thus reorganized, corresponding treatment was not accorded the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. I therefore recommend that the salary of said official be made commensurate with the importance thereof and the duties that he is now required to perform, and incidentally the compensation of his deputies be given the same consideration accorded similar positions in the service of the reorganized departments.

STANDARDIZATION OF CERTAIN SALARIES.

I recommend that the salaries of the Chief of the Archives Division, the State Registrar of Vital Statistics, the Supervisor of Public Records and the Commission Clerk in this department shall hereafter be determined under the provisions of chapter 228, General Acts of 1918, and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, returns of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed, and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1918, were received and filed.

The four reports from this office which form a part of the Public Document series, namely, Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths (Public Document No. 1), Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document No. 10), Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted, etc. (Public Document No. 43), and Information relative to Voluntary Associations Owning or Controlling Public Service Corporations (Public Document No. 101), have been made, as required by law.

ALBERT P. LANGTRY,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.
